COMMITTS SUICIDE

Thomas Costello Takes Poison At His West Newton Home

Thomas Costello, 33 years of age, ended his life last Friday night at his home, 199 Lexington st., West Newton, by taking a poisonous drug on some bread. The young man had been lame for years, being forced to use a crutch at all times, and it is the general opinion, that he ended his life, while in a fit of despondency.

His body was found Saturday morning in his room, when his absence was noted. He left several letters to his friends. The young man had been employed for several years at the Waltham Watch Factory, and was a general favorite with his employees and friends in West Newton. His mother died two years ago, and since then he has roomed on Lexington street.

Funeral services were held Monday morning from St. Bernard's Church, West Newton with a requiem high mass. Interment followed in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Some delightful entertainments are to be given soon in various sections of Newton. Two of them will be dances and they will take place on the 18th and the 25th of October; the first at Bray Hall, Newton Centre, and the second at the Newton Club, Newtonville.

Among those active in arranging for the dances are Mrs. Henry B. Day of West Newton, Mrs. Arthur G. Wellman of Newton Highlands, Mrs. George H. Collier of Auburndale, Miss Louise Walworth of Newton Centre, Miss Olga Ayer of Newton Highlands and Miss Alice Paine of West Newton.

There will be a series of card parties, also; all of them to take place on the 29th of October. These are in charge of a Newton Committee of a hundred, of which Mrs. George Deffen is chairman.

WIN CHAMPIONSHIP

Upper Falls A. A. Base Ball Team Defeats Y. M. C. A.

The honor of being the champions of Newton fell to the Newton Upper Falls Athletic Association baseball team last Saturday afternoon on the Riverside Recreation Grounds diamond, when the nine representing the Newton Y. M. C. A. was defeated, 8 to 4. Previously each team had annexed a victory, and a neutral ground was decided upon to settle the championship.

The grounds chosen was a very poor selection on which to play a championship game, the diamond being very uneven and slow, and the grass on the outfield was so high that the fielders could not show their usual speed in covering ground. A good-sized crowd was on hand when the game started, including a large number of members of the Progressive Party, who were holding a conference on the grounds.

The same pitchers, who opposed each other in the previous game did the pitching honors for their respective teams, Joe Fahey, the former Medford High boy, performing for the winning team, and Bills, who has pitched in nearly all the games for the Newton team this season, was stacked against him. Yates was behind the bat for Upper Falls and Taffe, last season's catcher on the High School team, did the back-stop work for the Y. M. C. A.

Both pitchers pitched a good game, but poor fielding behind Bills killed his chances for a victory. Upper Falls was retired in order in the first inning, and the two run lead which the Y. M. C. A. boys got in their half, looked exceedingly big for a time. Graverson led off with a safe bunt, stole second, and scored on a fielder's choice. Nash and Chase, who reached first on a hit and pass, scored on Bills' long double to right field.

Upper Falls was unable to get a man past second base, until the fourth inning, when the Y. M. C. A. infield went all to pieces. Donahue reached first on an error, stole second, and came home on Ryan's single. Yates followed with a double, and Estelle was hit by one of Bills' fast inshoots. DeRusha followed with a single, scoring Ryan, and Yates, who attempted to score on the hit was thrown out at the plate. In the Y. M. C. A. half, Bills fanned, C. Turner singled, Hines fled out to Crowley and DeRusha captured Taffe's fly.

In the fifth inning Upper Falls won the game. Fahey and Halliday each singled, and a passed ball allowed both runners to advance a base. On Donahue's single, Fahey scored, and Graverson threw the ball wild to third, allowing Halliday to score also. Ryan's second single of the day scored Donahue. At the end of this session, Upper Falls led, 5 to 3.

Estelle was hit three times while at bat, and DeRusha was put out of the game for a few minutes, when a swift ball from Bills struck him over the head.

BEGINS WELL

High School Football Team Wins Two Victories This Week

Newton High's first football game of the season, played last Friday afternoon on Claffin Field, Newtonville, was crowned with victory, winning over Quincy High, 19 to 0. Coach Dickinson used 28 players during the game, many being pulled out of the conflict for making poor tackles, and other blunders, which he wished corrected.

Although the local team will no doubt develop into a strong aggregation, the team work was rather poor in the first game. The defensive work done by the team was far better than the offensive, but with hard practice, this weakness will be overcome.

The first score was made in the opening period, when Harris of Newton kicked a pretty field goal from the 35-yard line squarely between the uprights. With less than a minute left in the same period Newton scored its touchdown.

Newton's second touchdown was made in the third period, and just before time expired in the same period, Page of Quincy was thrown over the line for a safety.

Hyatt scored both of Newton's touchdowns. His first came from a 25-yard run around right end, and his second score was made on a "skin" tackle play for 15 yards in the third quarter.

"Tip" O'Neill and Howley, who played quarterback for Newton, showed up well, while they were in the game. Thompson, Capt. Brady, Cunningham and Vachon also distinguished themselves for Newton, and Larkin, Murphy, Capt. Young and White played best for Quincy.

Murphy was the most effective Quincy player in the backfield. He made several 15-yard runs in the third and fourth periods.

On Wednesday, Newton played the Needham High and won its second game by the score of 32 to 0. Needham was far lighter than Newton, but put up a good game, nevertheless.

Three spectacular runs were made in the game. Ralph Hyatt of Newton made two for touchdowns, and Bennett, the Needham halfback, ran 30 yards in the fourth period, but he was overtaken by Capt. Brady of Newton.

Newton scored once in the first period, twice in the second, and twice in the third. Richardson, Palmer, Stanwood and Wright played well for Needham, and Brady, Chivers, Jacobs, O'Neill and White for Newton.

LONG SERVICE

Two of our local Letter Carriers are completing twenty-five years of active service, this present week.

On October 1st, 1888, Mr. James Dunn became a regular carrier and Mr. F. C. Morgan a substitute carrier, and soon after a regular carrier. We think that such long and faithful service, as has been rendered by these two worthy men, merits the thanks of the community they have so faithfully served.

UNIQUE CENTENNIAL

St. Mary's Episcopal Church Relay Corner Stone of Church Edifice After 100 Years

The exercises observed last Sunday and Monday in connection with the centennial of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Newton Lower Falls, were carried out in every detail, as far as possible, like the program of a century ago. The success of the affair was very gratifying to the rector, Rev. Francis H. White, and committees, which had been at work for several months.

Many old parishioners returned from distant points, to participate in the exercises and relaying of the corner stone, and many members of the clergy and Masonic bodies also attended. Bishop William Lawrence was unable to be present on account of illness, and his place was filled by Rt. Rev. Samuel G. Babcock, Suffragan Bishop of Massachusetts.

Rev. Mr. White ushered in the exercises at the regular Sunday morning service, at which he delivered an historical sermon, taking for his text Isaiah ix. 1: "Arise, shine, for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee."

One of the most interesting figures present at the exercises both days was Mr. Samuel Warren, who has been a member of the church and choir for over 50 years. Mr. Warren left his sick bed against the wishes of his physician, to take part in the affair.

In the afternoon, descendants of the founders of the church strewed flowers on the aisle during the baptism and confirmation exercises. Six children were baptized by the rector, and the following class were confirmed by Bishop Babcock:

Francis Bingham White, Jr., Lewis Ellis Connolly, Archibald Earl Connolly, Clarence Woodford Taylor, Stanley Parkinson Young, Frederick Horace Clinton, Earl Edward Clinton, Arthur Vernon Elkinson, Marjorie Alice Allison, Lillian Alberta Beck, Annie Margaret Cadden, Ellen Starr Brewer, Viola Mabel Dennis, Georgeanna Mary Sanderson, Mary Esther McLean, Mabel Elise Young, Violet Elise Crosswell, Elizabeth Bucknall Parker, Frederick Lawrence Putnam.

The original corner-stone, set in place on Sept. 29, 1813 was relayed on Monday by members of the Grand Lodge of Masons of Massachusetts.

In explanation of the fact that the Masons played such a prominent part in the laying of the corner-stone it might be said that when St. Mary's Act of Incorporation was passed by the General Court, Timothy Bigelow, Speaker of the House of Representatives, was Grand Master of the Massachusetts Grand Lodge, and Rev. Asa Eaton, D. D. the first rector of the parish, was Grand Chaplain of the Grand Lodge. Also the majority of the thirty-three men who founded the parish held membership in Meridian Lodge, A. F. of A. M., which a century ago met in the same hall in Newton Lower Falls, where the first services of the parish were held, prior to the building of the church.

The program opened with a processional from the parish house, to the spot where the corner-stone was to be set in place. It was headed by the delegation from the Grand Lodge, Col. Everett C. Benton, Grand Master, was unable to be present, and his place was taken by Herbert E. Fisher, Deputy Grand Master, while Melvin M. Johnson, PGW, acted as Deputy Grand Master. The other officers of the Grand Lodge, who took part in the exercises were Frank W. Mead, SGW, W. H. H. Soule JGW, Thomas W. Davis RGS, George C. Thatcher GM and Rev. Edward A. Horton GC.

Following the Grand Lodge officers were the delegation from Meridian Lodge of Natick and Dalhousie Lodge of Newton, members of the vested choir, led by Director, Carl Safford, Rev. Francis H. White, the rector, Rev. H. U. Munro, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church of North Andover, a former rector of St. Mary's and Rev. John Matteson, rector of the Church of the Messiah at Auburndale, followed by the flower girls, made up from the congregation.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Edward A. Horton, the chaplain, and the address was delivered by Thomas W. Davis RGS. Melvin M. Johnson PGW read a list of the articles enclosed within the metal box, which is placed within the stone. These included the contents of the original box, together with copies of various newspapers of today, parish records, coins, silver plates, etc. The rector, Rev. Mr. White expressed the gratitude of the parish to the visiting Masonic bodies, after which a collation was served by a bevy of young ladies in the parish house.

In connection with the exercises at the church, the members of Dalhousie Lodge placed a wreath on the grave of Albert A. Kendall, the first Master of the lodge in 1860 and 1861. This grave is in the old St. Mary's burying ground, which adjoins the church. Mr. Kendall was killed at the Battle of Antietam during the Civil War, and the tribute which the members of the lodge paid at his final resting place, was witnessed by his widow, son and daughter-in-law.

The exercises, which had been in progress for two days, came to a close in the evening. An address was made by Rev. H. U. Munro of North Andover, a former rector of the parish, Mayor C. E. Hatfield and Rev. Mr. White. A reception in the parish house brought the affair to a close.

It is interesting to note that the corner stone was discovered inside the building, in the cellar wall, below the floor of the outside ground and had been completely covered with the brick wall of the cellar. It consisted of two granite blocks bolted together and in a slight recess between the two stones were found 18 old coins, including a Pine Tree Shilling dated 1852. There was also a small silver tablet, enclosed in sheet lead and sealed. This tablet was engraved on one side with Scripture texts and on the other side was the names of the Bishop, Governor and other dignitaries of church and state. There were also several old medals and a medal to commemorate the death of Washington.

The corner stone has been replaced, so as to be seen from the outside and marked with a cross and the date 1813. A recess has also been made for a copper box, which contains the coins and tablet found in the old recess, a complete set of 1913 coins, and the current issue of postage stamps. Lists of

HISTORICAL SERMON

A sermon preached in St. Mary's Church on the nineteenth Sunday after Trinity, Sept. 28, 1913, being a part of the Centennial Exercises in commemoration of the Laying of the Corner Stone of St. Mary's Church, Sept. 28, 1813, by the Rev. Francis Ringham White, R. D., Rector of St. Mary's Church.

The Rt. Rev. William Lawrence, D. D., L. D., D. C. L., being Bishop of Massachusetts. The Rt. Rev. Samuel G. Babcock, Suffragan Bishop; Messrs. Samuel H. Warren and Charles H. Spring, Wardens of St. Mary's.

"Arise, shine, for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee."—Isaiah 60:1.

That was the manifest destiny of Israel. Out of the darkness which covered the earth God's glory shall shine upon her. Her sons shall come from far. The glory of Lebanon shall adorn her. Her walls shall be salvation, her gates praise. Her sun shall no more go down. Her weakness shall not hinder her. For a little one shall become a thousand and a small one shall become a strong nation. God himself will hasten it in its time.

Thus sang Isaiah of the exile. As the words went ringing through palace and ghetto, every loyal Israelite rose up in the strength of God and joined this Jew Moses in his march to the Promised Land.

Up from the slums of Babylon came an army of emigrants, the children of war and sorrow. It was a glorious sight. The wilderness and the solitary place were glad for them and the desert rejoiced and blossomed as the rose. The mountains and the hills broke forth into singing at sight of the returning exiles. The trees of the field waved them welcome home.

The joy of God was their strength. The lame man leaped like the hart, and the tongue of the dumb sang.

Their oppressors had vanished. No lion was there, nor any ravenous beast barred the path of the pilgrims. Jehovah himself had built them a road, and had made it so plain that the way-faring man though a fool could not lose it.

And the result of all God's leading was "The ransom of the Lord's anointed." The captives returned and came unto Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads. They obtained joy and gladness and sorrow and sighing fled away. They built again the temple which was to be beautiful for situation, the joy of the whole earth. They rekindled the light which was to lighten the gentiles and to be the glory of their people Israel.

On St. Mary's Church rests the light of a hundred years. Her sons and daughters have come from far and near to keep the feast. We rejoice in all that St. Mary's has been in the past. God's glory has been seen upon her. The light of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ has shone forth from this place to lighten the darkness which is in the world through sin.

And, with our thanksgivings for all this church has been, we mingle our prayers that her sun may never more go down; that God may be her everlasting light and the days of weakness may be ended.

It is my privilege on this glad day to tell the story of those thirty-three men who one hundred years ago came up from their shops and farms to this hill; and, beside this river which was to make glad their city of God, laid the corner stone of an Episcopal Church. St. Mary's has been called the first American Church from the belief that it was the first Episcopal Church erected after the War of the Revolution. It was for a long time, the only church of our communion between Boston and Worcester. St. Mary's is the mother church in a city which has more Episcopal Churches than any other city of its size in America if not in the world. Its history can not fail to interest every churchman.

When certain early settlers penetrated the wilds of Newton, they returned to Boston with the verdict that civilization would never extend farther west than the Charles River. Therefore St. Mary's from the extreme limits of the United States, faces the setting sun.

Instead of this, the sons of the pilgrims have crossed the continents, have cut them in sunder, have crossed the Pacific and annexed 1400 islands; revolutionized Japan and China; and are remaking the map of the world.

Think of this when any one attempts to set bounds to St. Mary's, or to the Church of God, or to the developments of democracy in the coming years.

Today the names of those thirty-three men. They are:

Solomon Curtis
Thomas Durant
Stephen Crane
Isaac Hagar
Ephraim Jackson 2nd
Reuben Estey
Thomas Rice
Elbridge Ware
James Bunce
Nathan Hyde
Elisha Bartlett
John Marston
Daniel Seaton
Charles Bemis
Joshua Jackson Jr.
Ebenzer Steadman
Joseph M. Brown
Samuel Brown
Artemus Murdock
Allen C. Curtis
George Hooker
Ellis Steadman
Nathaniel Wales
Braton Hooker
Zilbeon Hooker
Francis Hoogs
Peter Parker
Galen Bowditch
Seth Lyon
Charles Ewer
Henry Bartlett
Charles Rice
Simon Jackson

Of all these men, not one was a member of the Episcopal Church. How then did they come to build one?

Evidently by seeding from the established order. That order in New England was Congregationalism. The Congregational Churches of Newton, Weston, and Needham apparently did not favor the establishment of another Church in their borders.

We can trace how they were led, step by step, to set up, here in the new land, the worship their fathers crossed the ocean to avoid.

Mr. Elbridge Ware had attended an Episcopal Church in Morristown, N. J. It occurred to him that his neighbors might be as favorably impressed with the Episcopal service as he had been. But how induce the service in days when there was so little missionary zeal?

There was an ex-Congregational minister acting as lay reader at Dedham while working his way back into our Church, John R. Cotting by name. He was secured to read service in the school house. That was in the winter of 1811. These services though only occasional, must have been very productive of results, for, on April 7th, 1812, the Parish of "St. Mary's Episcopal Society in the City of Newton" was formed; and incorporated by act of the General Court, June 16, 1813. Solomon Curtis and Thomas Durant were elected wardens. At the same meeting Isaac Hagar, Stephen Crane and Ephraim Jackson 2d were chosen vestrymen. Isaac Hagar was made treasurer, $80 were appropriated for current expenses for the ensuing year. At the next annual parish meeting this was found to be too small; and the annual appropriation was increased to $100.

This sum provided for the rental of the old building which stood on the corner of Washington and Concord Streets; but not for the support of a resident minister. The Rev. Asa Eaton, D. D., Rector of Christ Church, Boston was chosen Rector. He officiated from time to time. Dr. Gardiner, Rector of Trinity, Boston often aided in maintaining services here. Thus St. Mary's was closely linked from the beginning with the two historic churches of Boston. Students from Harvard supplied probably most of the time.

Today we are seeing Churches and missions spring up all over the diocese under the fostering care of Bishop Babcock; but it is safe to say that there are very few missions in Massachusetts even now which attempt to build a steady church within two years of their first beginnings. This was what happened at St. Mary's. It speaks volumes for the interest and zeal of those thirty-three men.

Mr. Samuel Brown, a Boston merchant, gave the little parish two acres of land. It was this splendid gift which encouraged the people to think of building. That gift stands today as the largest single benefaction which St. Mary's received for nearly a century; and an example to inspire all who love St. Mary's to similar devotion. It made possible not only a Church edifice; but the Church yard, which is today the beauty and glory of St. Mary's among the Churches, so few of which have in human nature a complete group of church buildings. Still fewer have space for God's acre, and for avenues of trees to shade the sacred spot.

And when to Mr. Brown's gift of two acres in the heart of the village for Church and Yard, he added later the corner stone and beautiful garden adjoining for the Rector, to help out an inadequate salary, he wrote his name high, not only in the parish but in the diocese, and the country, as one who gave to God in some real proportion as God had prospered him.

Who designed the new Church, I am not able to learn; or how the people dared to plan for an elaborate structure. Enough it was for the Rector, to help out an inadequate salary, he wrote his name high, not only in the parish but in the diocese, and the country, as one who gave to God in some real proportion as God had prospered him.

If any one supposes that, because the founders of our Church were not Episcopalians, that there was not deep Church feeling among them, let him consider two things; the name of the Church and the day chosen for the corner stone. The name was young, the Mother of our Lord, and St. Michael, the Archangel, the leader of the armies of Heaven. Where else will you find those two names more closely entwined. St. Mary and St. Michael, do not their union in the history of our Church signify the elements of strength which must go into the making of every enduring Church? The day chosen for the corner stone was young, the Pentecost, the day of the Holy Spirit, the day of the Church's birth, the day of the Church's growth, the day of the Church's glory.

It is a misfortune that he should have left it at all. He lived 14 years after resigning in 1851, dying in Boston in 1865. Five Rectorships, with interregnums, were required to cover this comparatively short period. Rev. W. W. Sever's, 1860-1865, was the longest, and apparently most successful and happy of all these. Of the others, Rev. Henry W. Woods served a year only 1851-2. Rev. Andrew Cross, 1852-3. Rev. Henry W. Burroughs served two years, 1853-5. And Rev. B. F. DeCosta one, 1855-6.

So many changes, attended with lengthy interregnums, would seem to indicate the loss of a powerful personality—who could not readily be replaced.

And such indeed Dr. Baury was. He was a man of life-long friendship with Bishop Griswold, and by all who knew him. His departure from St. Mary's was the beginning of another period of financial difficulties. Not to provide for the Church structure, but to provide adequately for current expenses. They found it necessary ere long to raise far more for this purpose. How they raised the increased salary of the Rector is interesting. One way seems to have been by practicing economy in the music. The appropriation for music was at one time $60 a year. That would hardly meet the needs of organist and choir today. But it did then; and we have reason to believe the music was excellent; a striking testimony to the devotion of those who gladly gave time and talent in the worship of God's house.

Rev. W. W. Sever's rectorate closed in 1865, having embraced the period of the Civil War. Those were anxious days at St. Mary's, as for every church and hamlet in the land, for her sons had heard the call and had gone forth to battle for "Liberty and Union." On Memorial Day every year, flags and flowers are placed on their graves in St. Mary's Yard by their few surviving comrades. Mr. Sever's task was to cheer and comfort his flock during those terrible years. His work was well done. He gave many years to the service of the Church after he went from St. Mary's. He was able to be present in 1888 at the Seventy-Fifth Church we love. I hope all will be present tomorrow and will gain from that service far more than I can give by a mere description.

The corner stone is interesting not only for itself but from the fact that we only discovered it at the end of a long search, and just as we were giving up in despair, wondering whether St. Mary's really had a corner stone at all. And yet it was exactly where every Mason told us was the only place Masons would ever lay a corner stone, the northeast corner. That corner had been completely obscured in the additions to the original St. Mary's. The credit for finding the stone is due to Mr. William F. Seale and Mr. Charles H. Spring, Chairman of the Masonic Committee and the Corner Stone Committee respectively. The joyful surprise with which we looked upon the ancient stone and its contents when the tool of the faithful workman, Joseph Timmons, brought them to light is still fresh in the minds of Rector and people, and will be a pleasing memory; and we hope an inspiration to search and find the heavenly treasure which also lies deeply buried, we are told in human hearts and lives.

The Church was completed and consecrated April 28, 1814. Bishop Griswold officiated, assisted by Drs. Eaton and Gardiner. Thus St. Mary's enjoys another unique distinction, viz: of being consecrated though still deeply in debt, a thing which could not occur today.

It was not an enviable distinction as the people were to find to their sorrow. No other friend arose of equal liberality with Mr. Brown. Though many, perhaps, had largely, it was not adequate to extinguish the debt, much less to provide for a settled Rector. Thus the chief need of the parish was not met. Such experiences are leading slowly but surely to the opposite policy, that is, to securing first the man who is to do the work and giving him adequate support; and looking to the cooperation of Rector and people to build up first the spiritual fabric which will in due time take to itself a body in the material fabric.

From 1812 to 1822 many servants of Christ ministered at St. Mary's, most of them for very brief intervals.

Once the Church was closed, but never has it happened that an Episcopal Church has been lost, except King's Chapel.

In 1822, Rev. Alfred Baury was called as Rector. He accepted on the wise condition that the parish pay off its debts. They did by the creditors taking the pews still unsold in lieu of their claims.

The hero of these years seems to have been the treasurer, Mr. Isaac Hagar. From my experience, I am inclined to believe the treasurer of a Church is always a hero. He is set to meet heavy obligations with no visible means of meeting them except the good will and confidence that the membership of a voluntary organization has toward him and the Church he represents. His lot is usually a hard one. He has almost limitless opportunities for exercising faith in human nature, which is often shaken, but must never fail; and for personal sacrifice even to the limit of his financial resources. Certainly Mr. Hagar had these; and when we read of his mortgaging his own home to save the Church, he was only doing what he believed to be, and to be, the duty of any good treasurer or member of the Church of Christ. But the cheerful spirit in which he responded to the need has made his an honored name, and a rich legacy to his descendants, many of whom have shown much of the same spirit. Mr. Solomon Curtis was also a pillar steadfast in the storm of those early days. Mr. Samuel Bell of Christ Church, Boston, his noble supporter, Rector, Dr. Eaton, in his work for St. Mary's.

I wish there were time for a fuller account of Dr. Baury's Rectorship. If it is decided to publish a Centennial Volume, I would be glad to include in it such a sketch of a noble life. Coming to St. Mary's when he and the Parsonage and the Century were young, he spent the greater part of a long and noble and fruitful ministry in this place. He established a record for a long and eminently successful pastorate. Twenty-nine years he labored here. He built up a strong parish. It seems a misfortune that he should have left it at all. He lived 14 years after resigning in 1851, dying in Boston in 1865. Five Rectorships, with interregnums, were required to cover this comparatively short period. Rev. W. W. Anniversary. He seems to have always remembered St. Mary's with warm affection, leaving at last a legacy of $1600, as the beginning of an endowment fund.

The Rev. Joseph Kidder served as Rector three years 1865-68. As a monument to the zeal and devotion of Rector and people in these years we have St. Mary's parish hall where so many pleasant gatherings have been held, and where Sunday School and Choir meet.

Mr. Kidder is still living at an advanced age in Philadelphia. Unable to be present, he sends kindest greetings. Let us remember him in our prayers. We will send him our thoughts and best wishes. Would it not be a beautiful thing also for any member of his former flock to write him mentioning some bright memory of his pastorate among us.

The Rev. Richard F. Putnam 1868-75, with a Rectorship of seven and one-half years, marks the beginning of a series of longer pastorates. He inaugurated the modern system of weekly offerings.

The Rev. Henry Mackay, 1876-82, followed with another comparatively long rectorate for these later days of social, industrial and religious unrest and change. From St. Mary's, he went to the diocese of Kansas. His son is today in the ministry there. At least one Rector of St. Mary's has had a son of such character and devotion as to enter the ministry. We need more of the training and experience of a clergyman's home may go forth to do similar or greater work for God. If the glory of our Church is in her married clergy, as is sometimes said, surely it is for the glory of God and the good of the Church that the clergy should be given such ample support that they can educate and equip young men for the greatest and most exacting of all callings.

Mr. Mackay had the privilege of living in the Manse. His sermons written in the study of the great and good Dr. Baury must have had an added charm for all the members of the congregation who remembered the worthy Rector, and his fervent evangelical discourses.

The Rev. B. T. Hutchins was minister-in-Charge, 1883-84.

Rev. H. G. Wells came to St. Mary's as Rector in 1885. It was during his rectorship that the Seventy-Fifth Anniversary services were held. You who have worked so long and earnestly to prepare for the Centennial can best realize how much those services meant to the congregation of twenty-five years ago. All the clergy who took part in those services have passed away, as have also those two distinguished laymen, Hon. Alexander H. Rice and Prof. Daniel B. Hagar. Two of the clergy, Rev. Dr. Shinn of Grace Church, Newton and Rev. N. G. Allen, rest in St. Mary's Yard. The great governor, Alexander H. Rice, is buried at Forest Hills and the great educator, Daniel B. Hagar, sleeps at St. Mary's. How swift the changes wrought by the years! Time has dealt more kindly with the congregation of St. Mary's. Many who were active then are still with us. Mr. Wells quotes Dr. Baury's tribute to Mr. Benjamin Neal who served St. Mary's as organist for thirty years. Mr. Wells applies the same words, changing the name and duty performed, to Mr. Samuel Warren, who for thirty-five years had sung in St. Mary's Choir. Twenty-five years have since elapsed, sixty years in all and Mr. Warren is still with us and sings if his health permits; and this is only one among many remarkable records of service here at St. Mary's.

With Mr. Wells we reach the modern era of rectory building. It is a widespread feeling that if clerical salaries are still to continue inadequate, there is one thing which every church can do, provide a Rectory. St. Mary's has the honor of being among the earlier parishes to respond to this feeling. A house was bought, enlarged and fitted up for the new Rector. It stood near the banks of the "River that in silence windest through the meadows bright and free;" the same river which inspired Longfellow as he looked out on a similar prospect. Here the Rector dwelt among the "friends that have made his margin dear." It was very convenient to Church and village and was still removed somewhat, and surrounded by park and woodland. Just beyond the River lay the beautiful hills of Weston where so many of the families in St. Mary's parish have their homes.

Rev. H. U. Monro succeeded Mr. Wells in 1890. We hope to welcome him at the exercises tomorrow. The other day a man called at my door, one of those unfortunates who seek help often at the hands of the clergy. He said "where is the old Rector," and spoke of Mr. Monro's kindness with much feeling. Mr. Monro is far from being old. He is in the prime of life, and serving with great acceptance the thriving parish of St. Paul's, North Andover.

Most of St. Mary's people well remember the faithful work he did for more than ten years, endeavoring himself to every family in the parish. His chief work was the spiritual upbuilding of his people. But his rectorship was marked by important changes. The addition of the chancel and the purchase of the new organ were events of these. The choir of men and women was replaced by a vested choir of men and boys. The gallery was deserted for the chancel. Many still remember with pleasure the old St. Mary's choir and the music they sang from the ancient gallery.

Mr. Monro was called in 1902 to St. Paul's, North Andover, where he has also served a decennium. His tenth anniversary was marked by events which showed deep appreciation, on the part of the parish for his work.

The Rev. Thomas L. Cole came to St. Mary's in 1902.

Both as preacher and administrator he was a man of marked ability. St. Mary's is stronger today for his work. We regret that pressing engagements prevent his being here with us; but he sends his greetings and best wishes. During his rectorate also important additions were made to the material fabric. The chief was the Hubbard Memorial Building. Hardly a day passes that this building is not used by guild or club; and its usefulness is constantly increasing.

Another thing Mr. Cole hoped to see was a rectory located nearer the present center of the parish. To this end the Rectory on Concord street was sold, and later, the house on Washington street left to the church by Miss C. F. Neal. It was hoped that the proceeds of these sales, together with other gifts, would provide for the building of the new Rectory.

When your present Rector came, Jan. 1, 1910, the first thing you did after the delightful reception, and the first services and Institution Office had been held, was to purchase a Rectory. Thus St. Mary's has had but one church building in a hundred years; but many rectories. Some feel we should have one more some day, one which should stand beside the church and complete the group.

Today we are established on both sides of the river which I cross continually binding the two sections of one large parish together. The other day after working hard to condense so much into one short sermon, I went out on the broad piazza. The autumn breezes were sweeping it as they might the deck of an ocean steamer. Automobiles, one hundred an hour, and falling leaves, one thousand per minute, lent motion to the scene. It is a great compensation when one cannot go to Europe each summer, as so many of our clergy do, to have such a promenade, and such beautiful grounds and trees. With a few improvements, which will be made in due time, St. Mary's will have one of the finest Rectories in the diocese.

han a sermon allows. One hundred years have not altered its appearance. There have been two additions, one in 1838, one in 1882; but they were extensions of the chancel end which scarcely appear from Concord street. Approaching the west end, one gets the same view as a century ago of church and tower.

Within, changes have been much greater. Mr. Robert Slack has very kindly prepared sketches showing just what those changes have been. These are in charge of the memorial committee that all interested may trace in them the ecclesiastical evolution of St. Mary's.

From the churchy arrangements of 1813, there seems to have been a backward movement in 1838. It is a somewhat remarkable coincidence that, at the very time of the rise of the Tractarian movement in England with its great increase of ornament and ceremony, there seems to have been a puritan and iconoclastic reaction at St. Mary's, tending in the opposite direction. The pulpit was made central, with the reading desk below and in front; while the altar was reduced to a mere shelf in front of the reading desk. Archbishop Laud went to the block in his struggle to prevent similar changes in England. But no one at St. Mary's coveted the martyr's crown; and so the changes were made in the direction of Puritan simplicity. It was all restored in due time to more than its former beauty by the placing of the new altar in its rightful position.

If a further restoration should be contemplated, there are two things I should like to see. The cherub heads over the choir; and the angels blowing trumpets over the organ. We have the cherubs in the choir to be sure; but the angels with the trumpets would be inspiring. What we miss in modern preaching and in modern literature and life, is the sound of the trumpets. Too much is in a minor key. Let the trumpets sound, calling men to battle for righteousness.

If the fabric of the old church is interesting, how much more the hundred years of life which have gone on within and around it. What artist can reproduce that? What scenes in life's drama have been enacted within these walls! From the time that the third great Bishop of Massachusetts preached here and baptized ten persons and confirmed ten persons in the afternoon of the same day to this day when children of the fifth generation are baptized and confirmed and receive the Holy Communion, what an Apostolic Succession! We are glad indeed to belong to an Apostolic Church. We look for inspiration and counsel, not only to Rectors who come and go in the rapid movement of modern days, but to Bishops who remain for life as Chief Pastors of God's flock, and beyond the Bishops to the holy church throughout the world, and to Christ the great Bishop and Shepherd of our souls.

What days of rejoicing this church has seen! How people gathered from all these villages and farms to hear Bishop Griswold or Dr. Eaton or Dr. Gardner when they came out from Boston! What large congregations must have greeted the new minister when St. Mary's had at last a Rector of her own; and as one after another new ministers came through the years.

And not only has St. Mary's had great Bishops and Rectors, but she has had great men and women in the congregation. Men of mark have served as wardens and vestrymen. Strong men have been St. Mary's glory. How many she has sent forth; governors, consuls, soldiers, teachers, musicians, reformers, men who have sought to set all life to music, not words alone. If time fails to speak of all or even many of them, we know there is a book where will appear the name of every good and faithful servant of God.

St. Mary's has been fortunate in its wardens. In its vestrymen. In its clerks and treasurers, many of whom have served with great fidelity for long periods. The present warden, Mr. Samuel H. Warren and Mr. Charles H. Spring, together with the clerk, Mr. William P. Morse, and the treasurer, Mr. Frederick C. Leslie, recently retired on account of ill health, have made enviable records for long and faithful service.

We hoped to welcome with joy to these services the present great Bishop of Massachusetts, hoping he may long be the last. His twenty years of service in the Episcopate is a record of devotion and achievement of which the whole church and the state and nation are proud. Tributes will come to him from beyond the sea, as well as from every part of our own land.

Church owe him a personal debt for his work on the Commission for the better support of the clergy. Every missionary and every lover of humanity, for the work he has done on the Board of Missions. Every social worker and reformer and the men of every class of society, for his work on the Social Service Commission. St. Mary's will never fail to be increasingly loyal to the doctrine, discipline and usages of the Episcopal Church while she has such Bishops. A change of name or correction of the title can have no terrors while such men guide the destinies of the church. Under a changed name, we should have the same church and the same people. Our lives and our work would be what they ought to be under any name, must and will be if we are loyal to such leaders.

St. Mary's has been rich in friends and benefactors. I fear the list is far from complete; but I mention such as I have that you may hear once more names we love to honor.

Dr. Baury, in his sermon preached on the twenty-fifth anniversary of his rectorship, 1847, states that the only gifts known to have been made in the earlier years were: Samuel Brown, two acres of land, Hon. William Winthrop of Cambridge, Flagon; Mrs. Hannah Smith of Boston, Ciborium; Through Shubael Bell of Boston, Chalice and Paten. Samuel Brown gave also the bell.

These seem to be all the gifts received for many years. Nor does it appear there were any considerable gifts of money. To raise funds for building they trusted to the sale of pews which proved disappointingly small, hence the heavy debt.

Rev. Mr. Wells, in his sermon on the occasion of the Seventy-Fifth Anniversary, gives a longer list. The Altar Cross, given by Mrs. Charlotte E. Danforth, in memory of her husband; the Altar Bason, by Mrs. William Wallis, in memory of her father, Thomas Durant; the Altar Vases and brass Altar Desk, by St. Mary's Guild, as also the Altar and frontal-cloths for the seasons; the Holy Bible by Hon. Alex. H. Rice and the Altar Service Book by his wife; Prayer Books and Hymnals by Mrs. Martin of Manchester, N. H.; the Brass Lectern by Mr. Francis Blake, in memory of his parents; the massive and elegant Pulpit in memory of Caroline Livermore Abbott, by her children; the Dossal by Mrs. Abbott in memory of a daughter; crystal Baptismal Bason and Hymn Board by Mrs. C. F. Crehore.

Gifts to St. Mary's have multiplied in these later years. I gladly record the following as evidence of the love in which St. Mary's is held by her children: High Altar by Mr. Robert S. Slack; Endowment Fund, $1,500.00, from Rev. W. W. Sever; Chalice Veli, gift of Mr. Richard P. Law, Choirmaster of St. Mary's, and Miss Law, in memory of their mother. Many gifts, large and small, for enlarging chancel and for the new organ, under Mr. Monahan's plan, at the beginning of my Rectorate for the Rectory Fund.

The choir stalls were given by Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Jaquith and the brass ewer was given by the King's Daughters. The reredos was given by the Abbott family, and altar hangings were given by Mrs. W. P. Fay. Memorial tablet to Rev. A. L. Baury, D.D., given in 1912 by his daughter, Caroline B. Bradford.

Dec. 25, 1905. Deed of gift of the Neal Property.

Sold to R. C. Spring Feb. 26, 1907, for $2500.

March 29, 1907. From Estate of Martha C. Rice. Bequest of $1000.

Jan. 3, 1910. From William P. Morse. Plan of Church Yard.

Jan. 31, 1910. Rectory purchase authorized, using the Neal Memorial and Martha C. Rice bequest.

Jan. 2, 1911. From Mr. and Mrs. Francis Blake. Constant gifts of flowers for the altar.

Jan. 24, 1913. Will of late Francis Blake. Legacy of $2000 as a trust fund, income to be used in support of the Parish.

To bring the list of gifts up to date, still others must be added. Altar linen from Junior Auxiliary; Altar Service Book and Prayer Book and Hymnal for clergy sent from the Girls' Friendly Society. Also a clock for the chapter room from the same society. New carpet from the Parish Aid Society; as also many other gifts from the same source. Gifts in money from members throughout the parish for the painting and improving the church property. In addition, I record the satisfaction all feel in the active and efficient work of all the societies of the church in raising funds for centennial purposes.

But this is not all. Every one who has worshipped God within these walls giving the glory due unto his name and glad service according to ability has had a real part in the life and growth of St. Mary's and will not fail of his reward.

For the people who have so loyally supported me in my work since I came to St. Mary's, I feel no words I can say would be too appreciative. In all our work; but especially in preparing for the Centennial there has been the greatest harmony and enthusiasm.

The names of those who have served on the various committees would form a list of the active membership of the parish. To one and all I extend heartfelt thanks for the splendid service gladly rendered out of affection for me and for St. Mary's.

It is hoped that a complete list of all committees would find a place in the corner stone, and also in the records of these Centennial Services. Among all who have worked so tirelessly, if any one name were to be mentioned, I think, by common consent, the chief place would be given to that pioneer in the education of the deaf mutes, who for forty years conducted the Horace Mann School in the City of Boston, and who today adds to the gracious dignity of nearly four-score years, the vigor and enthusiasm of youth. Miss Sarah Fuller. Without her, it is not too much to affirm, our Centennial could not have been what it is today.

St. Mary's still has needs; as what living and growing organism has not? The greatest need of this, as of every church, is for Christ-like devotion in every member. "Let every one who has named the name of Christ depart from all iniquity." A strong church is not made by numbers alone. If it were, St. Mary's would be weak indeed. Dr. Baury estimates the number of his average congregation at three hundred. No such congregations have been possible at St. Mary's for many, many years, not even on Easter Day or at the Bishop's Visitation. Only at a wedding when the whole community turns out could we expect such a gathering. The reason why there were so many of you lies herein. The whole community did turn out. There was no division of sect or race or class. St. Mary's was an example of church unity. If unity ever comes again, it will be in St. Mary's way, by the whole community laying aside personal preference and prejudice, and all realizing the beauty and the blessedness of brethren dwelling together in unity.

Therefore to Christ-like character let us add that spirit of peace and harmony among ourselves which may, with God's blessing, lead to the unity of Christendom. It would be cause for the enemy to blaspheme, would it not, if while we as a church, are advocating peace and unity we should fall into discord among ourselves over the change of name, a point of ritual, or a personal preference of any kind?

And to the spirit of peace and harmony add vision. Vision is the greatest need of the world, for even love is blind. How many excellent men have been afflicted with judicial or some other blindness. They cannot see afar off.

Isaiah led Israel back from the captivity because he had vision. If they had had vision, they would not have gone into captivity. While darkness covered the earth and gross darkness covered the people, Isaiah saw the light. He called upon Israel to arise and shine for the light had come.

The men who founded St. Mary's Church were men of vision. While many said "Impossible," they saw the vision of the glory of God. They followed it. Darkness covered the earth, and gross darkness covered the people. If you and I, who see the glory of God as it shines in this twentieth century, could be transported to those good old times how dark they would seem!

War everywhere. The great struggle of the Anglo-Saxon with the Latin race for mastery of mankind which, from the Mississippi to the Ganges had deluged the world in blood, was still going on. Anglo-Saxons fighting, let us hope for the last time, among themselves. Our country fighting Great Britain in a second struggle for independence.

Slavery everywhere. Industrial slavery, worse if possible than negro slavery, tolerated almost without a protest, in England herself.

Ignorance everywhere. Few colleges, and no free high schools. Technical schools, evening schools, correspondence schools. University extension, summer schools, chataquas, Lyceums, etc., unheard of.

Religion at low ebb. Infidelity rampant. Our church nearly destroyed by the vicissitudes of the Revolutionary War. Modern philanthropy and reform, modern world-wide missionary peace, temperance, health, Sunday School, red cross, anti-tuberculosis, anti-crime, abolition of poverty, woman's rights, children's rights, and human rights, movements, all but were like railroads, telegraph, telephone, etc. They had simply not been invented, hardly thought of, by the best minds.

But the fathers of St. Mary's Church, though they could not have dreamed what their work for God would lead to, saw the light of God, the light of duty and followed it. It was their star of the East. It led them to Christ, the light of the world. It led them to build here a church to His name, and thus help in the great world movements of today.

On the heights of Capri, looking south from Naples, over the Mediterranean and the enchanted lands of story and song, there stands a lofty statue. It is not the Goddess of Liberty enlightening the world. It is better than that; a greater vision than that. It is Santa Maria del Soccorso. St. Mary, the Succourer.

Was it superstition that placed that statue where shipwrecked sailors could turn dying eyes as they murmured, "Holy Mary, Mother of God, pray for us," and, saw across the storm, her loving arms reached to save them? In an age when even a Michael Angelo could think of no lovelier vision for the walls of the Pope's Chapel, than Christ seated on the thunderbolts of judgment and hurling sinners down to hell, what wonder that men in despair of mercy from such a God turned to the spotless maid of Nazareth and cried:

"Ah, Mary, pierced with sorrow; Remember, reach and save The soul that comes tomorrow. Before the God who gave, As each was born of woman, For each at utter need, True comrade and true foeman, Madonna intercede."

It was not strange. It was altogether beautiful and human. Santa Maria del Soccorso was the Goddess of Liberty and of love enlightening the world with a ray of the eternal glory. What shall we say then of the founders of this church? In an age when the perversions of Calvinistic theology were driving men away from the church, and into free thinking and infidelity, and the consequent immorality, thirty-three men, led by the spirit of God, decided to set up again. In this mountain, the old historic, Apostolic church which had been well nigh forgotten in this land.

Out of the darkness that covered the earth, they saw the light of God arise. His glory shone upon them. They went forth to raise up the tabernacle of David which was fallen; to build a city of God in this place.

I believe, as the old prophet said, The wilderness and the solitary place was glad for them. These mountains and hills broke forth into singing on that morn so long ago. The trees of the wood rejoiced before the Lord as He came into His temple.

St. Mary's should stand through the years to protest against all that was harsh and bitter in theology and in life. She should tell the world forever that

"The love of God is broader Than the measure of Man's mind. And the heart of the eternal Is most wonderfully kind."

When plain, simple, human kindness takes hold of life and its problems and solves them, then the kingdom of God and the democracy of man will be realized in a day.

And lest there should seem to be any weakness or softness in the teaching, the corner stone of St. Mary's was laid on the feast of St. Michael

Big Business Is Good Business

The grand strategy of the New England Lines is to develop the territory it serves.

To win out is to provide a better system of transportation than New England ever knew.

The biggest business-building institution in the community must be the railroad that serves that community.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE—The tremendous reception accorded Mr. George Arliss in "Draught" at the Plymouth Theatre, Boston, would lead one to believe that both were making their first appearance, rather than playing a return engagement. The success was merely a repetition of its former engagement at this playhouse. The only regret, however, is that the present engagement is positively limited to four weeks only. Mr. Arliss' stay terminates on Saturday night, October 25. Therefore, it would be wise for those who have yet to witness the charms of Parker's brilliant comedy, to make their application for seats right now. Because of the great demand the management announces that seats may be obtained for any performance of the four weeks. Those who have seen the fascinating elements of this remarkable play as well as the masterful characterization offered by Mr. Arliss, agree that the play is better enjoyed when witnessed the second or third time. In short, "Draught" is just the sort of play that the more you see it, the more you like it, as evidenced by hundreds of repeaters who viewed the production on its initial engagement in Boston last season.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE—Gus Edwards' latest and in many respects, best production, "A Cabaret in Blingville," will be seen for the first time at B. F. Keith's Theatre next week at the head of an exceptionally strong bill of all-star vaudeville of the highest class.

The scene of "A Cabaret in Blingville" is laid in a country farmyard, and all the characters are residents of the bucolic districts. Many new and catchy musical hits are introduced. Other big features of the week will be Mrs. Louis James and her players in a new triangular comedy, "Holding A Husband;" Mr. and Mrs. Jack McGreevey, the country fiddler and the rural maid; Smith, Cook & Brandon in a new and original jumble of songs, dances and nonsense; Tom Kyle and company in the farce, "A Doctored Widow;" Williams and Seegal, novelty dancers; Dare Brothers, in the acme of acrobatic accuracy; and many other attractions yet to be announced.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE—After an absence of six seasons, Charles H. Hoyt's comedy, "A Temperance Town," will be given by John Craig at the Castle Square next week. With its scenes in a New England village, and its plot founded on fact, this play is one of the most popular of the many written by Hoyt for the amusement of the theatre-going public. It was written for laughing purposes only, and is full to the brim with humorous incident and dialogue. The characters are all New England types, and from Nink Jones to the Orthodox minister they are productive of mirth. "A Temperance Town" will be given for only one week at the Castle Square.

Woman's Way.
"Pa, what is a woman's way?" "Her own."

OHIER-LORING

In the First Baptist Church, Newton Centre last Wednesday evening, the wedding of Miss Ethel Loring, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert P. Loring of 19 Crescent avenue, and Henry E. Ohier, Harvard '11, son of William Ohier of Bethel, Conn., took place in the presence of a large gathering of friends. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. Maurice A. Levy.

The bride was attended by Miss Rosalind Pope of Van Buren, Ark., as maid of honor, and the bridegroom's attendant was his brother, Richard Ohier, Harvard '10. The flower girl was Miss Mary Durant of Bethel, Conn. The ushers were Robert Holt of Gardiner, Me., Harvard '11, Joshua Loring of Springfield, Scott Rider, Harvard '11 of Auburndale, Theodore Kenyon, Harvard '11 of New York City, Warren Blodgett, Harvard '11 of Lincoln and Edwin Blodgett, Harvard '12 of Lincoln.

Following the church ceremony, the young couple held a reception at the home of the bride's parents, after which they departed on an extended wedding trip.

ARCHERY NOTES

Competition in this Tournament is open not only to the members of The Newton Archers, but to all archers in this vicinity and a good attendance is promised which will include several ex-champions of the United States. UNIQUE CENTENNIAL

If Isaiah saw the glory of the coming of the Lord, we shall see not less but more.

And as we look to the future of St. Mary's and the Church of God and kingdom of God of which this church of ours is a part, shall we not utter a prayer in the form of a prophecy: thy sun shall no more go down; neither shall thy moon withdraw itself, for the Lord shall be thine everlasting light and the days of thy mourning shall be ended.

We cannot think of St. Mary's as old and weak and falling to decay, like a lodee in a garden of cucumbers, like a deserted city. The loving zeal with which so many hands have labored to adorn St. Mary's as she stands today, full of years and honors, is a promise of even greater things for the greater future which we believe is before her. There are opportunities for service today wider than ever. Right here in this village, St. Mary's can do a wonderful work for all classes. Last year I secured, by much personal sacrifice, one student from the great university on the opposite bank of the Charles, to work among the boys of the village.

But why one student? Why not many? Colleges on every hand. Students needing opportunities for service. And here large numbers of young people who need opportunities for recreation, for culture and training under experts. Why can they not be brought together to their mutual benefit? They can. We need the co-operation of all who can help in any way in making the people of many nationalities who are coming into these homes which are being deserted by the earlier children of St. Mary's; making them welcome here and helping them to become the highest type of American citizens.

To do this work and not to neglect the spiritual work for which the church exists; to enlarge our work and influence continually, we need generous support. To guard St. Mary's against the tooth of time and insure her stability and strength amid the changes and changes of this mortal life which are continually taking from us those who seemed to be pillars, we need increased endowment.

That St. Mary's sun may no more go down; neither her light withdraw itself, is the prayer of all who love her. May this hill of the Lord be still the place where men shall be glad when they say unto them, "Let us go into the house of the Lord."

Of one thing I am sure: If the spirit of love and harmony and zeal with which we have worked together to make the place of His feet glorious, shall prevail; if the joy and pride in St. Mary's welfare which fills all hearts at this Centennial shall increase through the coming century, gathering strength, with the years, then indeed all our hopes will be realized. You and I will do our part and others will be inspired by your example to do theirs, that "The good old-fashioned sanctuary which has been the spiritual home of generations, may be the spiritual home of generations yet unborn," a quiet habitation, like that to which the Prophet Isaiah refers, a tabernacle that shall not be taken down; not one of the stakes thereof shall ever be removed, neither shall any of the cords thereof be broken.

I am called upon from time to time to sign a document guaranteeing perpetual care to a lot among yonder trees. What right have I to promise that such a spot shall be cared for forever, till "the trumpet shall sound and the dead shall be raised incorruptible?" I shall not be here, but the church will.

How do I know that St. Mary's will be here forever? And then I thought why not give St. Mary's Church perpetual care as well as St. Mary's cemetery? It has annual care and it can have the lots. But every year people are substituting perpetual care, lest sometime they or their descendants should forget. They like that word forever. What more pious and beautiful deed? Only one. That is to preserve the dear old church itself. To write that word forever on the doorposts of St. Mary's would be the proudest act of my Rectorship. I believe you who love this church so much will help me to do it.

St. Mary's is our Westminster Abbey and Hall of Fame.

"Time, like an ever rolling stream, bears all its sons away."

"Our part in all the pomp that fills The circuit of the summer hills," will be that our grave is green. But our children or the children of strangers will be here. They will need to be led to the "true light which lighteth every man that cometh into the world."

Dr. Barry's supreme wish, as expressed in his anniversary sermon, was, that he might "hold forth to them the word of life, that in the day of Christ he might not be found to have run in vain, neither have labored in vain." Every Rector who has followed him, I am sure, has had the same wish, viz. that every one of those who have worshipped here may be found written in the Lamb's book of life.

Neither pray I for these alone, but for all them who shall believe on our Christ through the preaching of His word.

And of St. Mary's herself, where so many have sought and found the peace of God which passeth all understanding, may our prayer come true, that "Forever and Forever, As long as the river flows, As long as life has woes, The Towers of old St. Mary's, From God's Acre shall appear, The symbol of love in Heaven, And its earthly image here."

CORRESPONDENCE

To the Editor of the Newton Graphic:

Few persons realize the important relation that the increase of vermin bears to the decrease in our game birds. Beyond a doubt, vermin is much more numerous than a few years ago, and it continues to increase very rapidly in this section. Changed conditions have added new factors to the situation. It is easy to explain why trappers and hunters have comparatively little success with the fox and other vermin. It will be noticed that catches are made when farmers keep stock in sufficient numbers to keep the brush down and afford an open area for traps. The vast number of deserted farms, with the attendant spread and growth of brush, is, therefore, aggravating the situation by the protection given vermin.

The different states must act together on this issue. For example, Vermont has already been a noted state for vermin of the cat kind. In 1912, bounty was paid on 81 lynx (chance kills), the presence of which large number I attribute primarily to the fact that so little hunting is done with dogs. That state alone, under present circumstances, will keep Massachusetts overrun with cat vermin. The wildcat and lynx, increasing as they are, will do much toward the extermination of small game. Nothing else equals the fox dog as a means of checking and destroying even this species of vermin. If hunting with the fox dog were not prohibited, it would today give the protection to our upland game that it had in years gone by.

During my walks in the woods this summer I have not found a brood of partridges. The increase in vermin has, I repeat, in my judgment, been the greatest cause for the growing scarcity of our small game, so especially noticeable during the past 10 years. In view of all our natural advantages, and perfectly reasonable possibilities, not to take the easy and obvious steps, and drastic measures, if necessary to correct this state of affairs is nothing short of a disgrace.

The legislation which I regard as the primary cause of the present extremely unfortunate conditions was the work of narrow and feeble-minded legislators who have gathered at the state-house year after year and prevented hunting with the fox dog, thus depriving our upland game birds of the best possible protection. Of course, the attempted justification of this short-sighted policy is based upon the law for the protection of deer, which is, in its practical operation, the most damnable disgrace ever put upon the statute books—if for no other reason than that it has left our upland game birds the unprotected prey of vermin.

The house was very attractively decorated for the occasion, with white asters, autumn flowers, and evergreens, and as the bridal party entered the parlor, the Mendelssohn wedding march was played by Miss Grace Whitte of Wellesley.

The ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock by Rev. C. E. Eaton, pastor of Park Street Church, Boston. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a beautiful wedding gown of white charmeuse, and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Charles Burrell of Revere, as matron of honor, who was becomingly gowned in yellow chiffon over yellow satin, and carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums.

A TRIP TO THE MOUNTAINS

I was enabled the past week, with a group of congenial newspaper men, to make a week end trip to the White Mountains and to renew the impressions received on a former trip quite a number of years ago.

Leaving Boston Saturday morning the trip to the Mountains was apparently shortened with renewal of acquaintances with those who had taken part in other newspaper outings and North Conway with its guardian mountain, Kearsarge was reached in record time. While the foliage had not fully changed there was enough color to the leaves to make the view well worth while. Up the Crawford Notch, we rode in the open observation cars of the railroad, and barring the smoke and cinders, had a thoroughly enjoyable time. The constant changing views of the various hills and mountains, the glimpses of snug little valleys, and the glitter of falling water over the mountainsides caused such small annoyances as dust and dirt to appear trivial. At the same time, no one ought to ride in that observation car without glasses and the ladies should wear veils.

Headquarters were made that afternoon at the Mt. Pleasant House at Bretton Woods, and when we say that this hotel gives excellent service, it is a splendid table, comfortable beds and has a magnificent view, there is little left to add to one's enjoyment. The view from the hotel and its verandas is superb. The Presidential range is in full sight, and lying in the immediate foreground is the finest hotel in the mountain regions, the Mount Washington. Notwithstanding the fact that this is the largest building in that region, the hotel appears almost like a toy affair, in comparison with the mountains which tower beyond it. And it is a curious illusion one gets in this valley, that the buildings of all kinds are far smaller than at home. It is due, I presume, to the inevitable comparison with the surrounding mountains.

At sunset Saturday and again, although not so marked, on Sunday afternoon, the entire range was bathed in a beautiful pink-brown color, and which one man who had been a constant visitor to the mountains for many years, told us wouldn't happen again in a "thousand years." It was a beautiful sight and was watched until it had faded away into the deep purple of twilight.

Sunday morning, a special trip was arranged up to the top of Mt. Washington, which was as clear as one could wish. Indeed, the entire time we were in Bretton Woods, the Presidential range from base to top was rarely clouded. I had never been to the top of Mt. Washington and was greatly interested in the method of travel. An ordinary train took us up to the base of the mountain, where the famous cog railway was ready. The car held forty persons, and the seat backs were tilted back a little to make more comfortable riding. The engine was behind and pushed the car up the track which had all kinds of grades from nothing to 36 per cent. The cog wheels under the centre of the car fitted into an open chain in the centre of the track and we moved upwards at a pace little faster than a walk, and to the accompaniment of the grinding of the cogs. I think that the ride up was far more interesting than the time spent at the top. Two steps were made for water, the second stop giving an opportunity to view the Gulf of Mexico. The view changed constantly as the train puffed its way upwards and when above the timber line, the cold was noticeable. The Trip Top house was closed for the season and the wind was very strong and cold, so that everyone was glad to return to the car long before it was time to return. The distant view, notwithstanding the clearness of the day was disappointing as the haze was markedly in evidence.

On Monday, thru the kindness of a friend, who was stopping at the Mt. Pleasant, I had a great automobile trip of fifty miles including the Profile, Echo Lake and Bethlehem. Echo Lake, said to be the finest bit of scenery in the entire mountain region, lived up to its reputation that afternoon, and the steep sides of the mountains, covered with brilliant foliage, the grey of the rocks and the blue of the water will long be remembered. I also renewed acquaintance with the Old Man of the Mountains whom I had not seen for some years and found him, as ever, calm and inscrutable, like the Sphinx. It was interesting watching the features grow into human shape as we rode slowly southwards and then as we passed along, to witness the suddenness with which the profile vanished from sight.

The ride back in the early twilight was also a delight, the constant change in the appearance of the mountains and the color of the foliage adding to the interest.

The railroad company, with what might be said to be characteristic contempt for convenience of the public, made its fall change of schedules effective last Sunday, and our plans to return by way of North Conway, would require an early start from the hotel and a six hours' wait at Intervale. We were able to change our tickets, however, so that we returned by way of Woodsville and Plymouth, making a long and tiresome trip to Boston of nearly eight hours. It would seem as if the railroad authorities ought to consider the fact that the winter trips are now popular and in changing their time schedules, to make the date of effective in the middle of the week instead of on a Sunday. This seems to be a reasonable suggestion, which I trust can be adopted before another fall.

EDITORIAL

The political situation this fall has some amusing features to the average citizen. The autocratic attitude of candidate for governor Gardner is not satisfactory to quite a number of Republicans who still believe that the party is made up of the average opinions of the majority of its members and that the candidates of that party should represent that majority rather than their own particular ideas. Mr. Gardner, however, gives one the impression that he is the whole party and proposes to dictate just what the party and proposes to dictate just what the shall and shall not do. This attitude might hurt his campaign, but it is not for the fact that everyone knows that the governor does not control the legislature and that his legislative authority is limited to recommendation and veto. Mr. Gardner would make a splendid governor and the legislature can settle whether or not it wishes to endorse his ideas on immigration and compulsory education.

He has struck a popular chord, however in his attitude towards the Republican state committee. Right or wrong, and probably wrong, the state committee is held responsible for about all the governmental conditions which have affected the party. We, in Newton, who know Mr. Charles E. Hatfield, probably sympathize with him more than those living in other parts of the state. He has worked unselfishly for the good of the party, has given liberally to campaign expenses, and if he is personally involved in the finances of the committee, he is entitled to remain where he can have some control over matters. If it were not for this, he should stand on his dignity and resign the chairmanship. On the other hand, Mr. Gardner is right in saying that he should not be held responsible for the past acts and debts of the committee. Both sides have some grounds for their argument and the outcome will be awaited with considerable interest. In the meantime, Mr. Gardner is making votes on the issue.

I have given considerable space this week to the exercises commemorative of the centennial of the laying of the corner stone of St. Mary's Episcopal Church at Newton Lower Falls. Every resident of this city ought to be interested in such an event which emphasizes the service rendered the community for so long a period, by a church of God.

The endorsement printed this week of the citizens who are urging Mr. Alston Burr to become the Republican candidate for mayor this fall, indicates in some slight degree the feeling that in Mr. Burr the city will have a mayor who will continue the high standard set by all his predecessors in this important office.

Attention is called to the notice of registration of voters to be held the next two weeks. Fully as important as the duty of voting is the duty of preparing for that important function of citizenship. See that your own name is on the voting list and persuade your neighbor to do the same.

The many friends of Rev. Albert N. Stanyon, who has just resigned as rector of St. Paul's Church at Newton Highlands, send him their best wishes for his future success in his new field of work at Uniontown, Pa.

THE CUBIST ROSE

Says Miss Caroline, who has just returned from Paris: "The modern psychological painters—the Cubist, Futurist, and Post-Impressionist—may not claim priority in fads and the fanciful for the foremost and famous fashions of fabric at fashion's forum—France—for feminine feature and face fear nor falling fame from the Futurist for his fearful forms, fakes and freaks; nor for the curvaceous Cubist's color combinations, conceptions and creations; nor for the Post-Impressionist's peculiar perceptions of the pretty and the perfect."
"Has not the modern milliner, like the modern modeller, made a cube rose? Has she not built the rose in color blue and so constructed it that the imagination was quite necessary to think it not a cabbage? Has she not decreed—and all believed—that fur and fustle-felt were materials for the summer season, and tulle and flow-ers for cold climates. Has she not created capot and chapeau for concert and church that were the undoing of the umbrella and which force the fervent fellow to feel that the features of fair fem's face are fine and faultless?"

"If a writer by devolution from the plain uses of language; if the painter by picturing, psychological phenomena—phantasmagorical procession—physically; if the modish milliner by modification and manipulation in a magnificent manner, makes myriads of models with modern materials—her medium—for moderate money and this art gives to people a pleasing perception," says Caroline, "all the creation or creation any woman can."
"So we see that Miss Milliner, also, realizes that the realistic is relegated to the rear and that the purely physical is preferred; that novelty, like variety, is a spice; that the smart set are not slaves to sameness but that the set and serious seem so satisfied."
Miss Caroline is showing the cube roses; it is not a curio, but cute in cut and chroma. Have you seen it? Block of Brunswick, 480 Boylston, Back Bay, Boston.

COUNTY FAIR

First Day Spoiled By Rain

The County Fair, held on Marginal Hill and in Chestnut streets, West Newton, opened yesterday noon, notwithstanding the rain and general dampness. The grounds are entirely surrounded with a canvas fence, and by permission of the city authorities, extend to the railroad fence on Marginal street. Inside are tents and booths, besides the house which still remains on the grounds, and which is to be removed soon to make way for the new church to be erected by the Second Congregational Society. The fair is being held by the ladies of that church and if the weather will only smile, its success is assured.
The principal feature yesterday was the pet stock show, dogs, guinea pigs, hens, rabbits, goats and cats being shown. Considerable interest was manifested in the dog show.
A silver cup, offered by Thomas F. Baxter for the best dog in the show, was captured by A. E. Angier's Sybil of Grete, and Dr. K. H. Thomas's Richmond's Tucka was awarded the cup for being the second best dog in the show. A prize for the best pointer exhibited was won by S. S. Smith's Roy.
The various entertainments given by the children of the parish were highly profitable.

In a large tent a moving picture show was in progress during the afternoon, and in the evening the members of the Criterion Club of Boston presented the one-act play, "The Circus Rider." The cast comprised Walter H. Dugan, A. Morandi Bartlett, Samuel H. Tuttle and Alida Donnell White. The tent was cleared after the performance and dancing began.
A few dogs, which perhaps proved the most enjoyable to the children, were the ringling of duck's neck. The ducks swam around in a small pool, and the winners, and there were quite a few, had the privilege of taking the duck if successful in throwing the ring over its head.
Much credit for the success of the affair is due Mrs. Frederick S. Blodgett, who is chairman of all the committees. Assisting her were Mrs. John N. Eaton, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Gross, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Day, Miss Bertha Eddy, Mrs. O. W. Nelson, William F. Chase, Frederick S. Blodgett and Arthur W. Davis.
Awards were made at the dog show.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

This week marks the fall opening of the Association work. It is the third year in the new building, and the whole plant inside and out is in splendid condition for a fine season, with all departments in charge of competent men.

General Secretary Bascom has been in charge of the Newton Association for ten years. He has made a wide circle of friends among the officers, supporters and members of the Association and deserves the thanks and good wishes of all friends of our boys and young men.

Mr. William Macpherson has been Physical Director for five years and is entitled to high praise for his vigorous leadership in his most important department.

There are now 836 members, of whom 242 are boys, 210 per day, men and boys use the building.

25,518 attended the Indoor Physical Department privileges last year.

An average of 60 men and boys used the swimming pool.

100 men bowled in the tournaments, and many more at other times.

76 boys were enrolled in 10 Bible Classes.

40 men were enrolled in Mr. S. M. Sayford's Bible Class.

320 poor boys from Boston and Newton were entertained this summer.

30 of our boys attended summer camps.

12,227 games of billiards and pool were played last year.

These are a few figures which show that the Newton Y. M. C. A. is busy in good work all along the line.

Mr. Gordon M. Reese, Boys' Secretary, spoke at the Sunday School Rally at the Lincoln Park Baptist Church last Sunday.

Mr. C. L. Ellison, one of the Directors and Chairman of the Boys' Work Committee, is to edit the next issue of the Bulletin. Watch for something good.

This year music will be used at practically all the gymnasium classes, making this feature of the physical work very attractive.

FAELTEN PIANOFORTE SCHOOL

The annual reception of the Senior Class of the Faelten Pianoforte School to members of the Freshman, Sophomore and Junior classes will take place on Thursday evening, October 9, at the School. Refreshments will be served in Faelten Hall and there will be dancing and whist in Huntington Chambers Hall until eleven o'clock.

TO CORRECT DRUNKENNESS

The Massachusetts Legislature by Chapter 117 of the Resolves of 1913 authorized the appointment of a Commission to investigate the subject of Drunkenness in the Commonwealth and the best means of correcting or controlling that evil and report to the Legislature such recommendations for legislation as it may deem necessary or desirable, together with a draft thereof on or before January 1st, 1914.

Pursuant to this resolve Governor Foss with the advice and consent of the Council appointed the following to constitute such Commission: Hon. Michael J. Murray, Chairman; W. Rodman Peabody, Irwin H. Neff, M. D., Elmer E. Southard, M. D., Edwin O. Childs, Jr.

The work delegated to this Commission is far reaching and the members thereof neither overrate their ability to do it nor underrate their task.

Realizing that the best sort of success can only be obtained by getting high upon this vast subject from every possible angle they ask the co-operation of every citizen and every organization which can furnish any information or suggestion as to how this problem of Drunkenness can best be solved.

It has seemed wise to hold public hearings in different parts of the Commonwealth in order that opportunity may be afforded those interested in this subject to appear and present their views.

A public hearing will, therefore, be held in Boston, Mass., at Room 438 State House, on Wednesday, Oct. 8, 1913, at 10.30 A. M., at which any and all parties interested will be given an opportunity to be heard.

ARCHERY NOTES

An increasing number of those interested in Archery are practicing quite regularly on the Archery Range at the Newton Center Playground and visitors to the playground any Saturday afternoon will see several Archers on the Range competing in the various events. Some of the more enthusiastic Archers are wont to take an afternoon off in the middle of the week and spend it at their favorite pastime on the Archery Range.

The Newton Archers are planning to hold an Archery Tournament on the playground on October 13th, this being a holiday and it is expected that there will be a large number of contestants in the various events. Invitations have been extended to the Archers of Greater Boston to attend this Tournament and as these include some who have taken championships, this local Tournament will afford anyone interested in Archery a fine opportunity to see some good shooting.

On Wednesday, September 24th some of the Archers spent the afternoon on the Range and shot both a York Round and an American Round, the following scores being made:—

York Round
100 yds. 50 yds. 60 yds. Tot.

S. W. Wilder 18-106 30-110 18-74 66-290

American Round

L. C. Smith 25-123 29-159 28-182 82-464

Mrs. B. P. Gray shot 96 arrows at 60 yards making the extremely creditable score of 88-420 and when she had finished this she shot 24 arrows at 50 yards making the high score of 24-138.

heart. With these two men on bases in the sixth, Fahey bunted safe, and Halliday popped up an easy fly to Chase. The man was out whether he caught the ball or not, but when he dropped it, he started chasing Fahey up and down the base line, which allowed Estelle to score. Crowley's safe single scored Ryan, who was running for DeRusha.

Fahey held the hard-hitting opponents in check at all times after the first inning. Fourteen were retired on strikes, fanning five in a row once, and fanned each of the batsmen in the seventh inning. The team backed him up in excellent style, Maloney and Donahue making several good stops, while the batting of Ryan, who was credited with three safe hits, all of which counted in the run scoring, were features. Bills and Henry Nash played the best game for the Y. M. C. A. team.

A young boy was discovered by the Upper Falls following at the fifth inning, shining a mirror into the eyes of Fahey, and a large crowd gathered on the field. He was led off the grounds, before any trouble started.

WEST NEWTON COUNTY FAIR

A Great Success in Spite of the Unfavorable Weather

Notwithstanding the unkindness of the weather man, who persisted in sending clouds and rain on two of the three days set aside last week for the County Fair at West Newton, the ladies of the Congregational society who had the matter in charge report that the results exceed their greatest expectations. While it is impossible to give accurate figures of the attendance, a fair estimate places the average over 3000 daily and on Saturday evening, every booth and pavilion was crowded to the utmost. The proposed auction of unsold articles scheduled for Saturday evening was abandoned for every table and department was sold out long before.

While it is too early to give the exact amount made at the fair, which is to be devoted to furnishing the new parish rectory, to be erected in connection with the new church, it is fairly certain that it will amount to several thousand dollars, for every expense had been met and there was a thousand dollars to the good, before the gates opened on Thursday.

The rain interfered with the athletic sports on Saturday and they were held yesterday. On Friday night the Criterion Club gave its second performance of "The Circus Rider" to a crowded tent and the vaudiville and pop concert in the evening was a tremendous success, the tent in which it was given being far too small, and an extension was necessary.

Agents of the Society with the long name visited the fair on Friday and made a protest against the throwing of light embroidery hoops over the necks of some live ducks, which was one of the attractions of the midway, and later visited the police court to obtain a warrant against the persons in charge. Judge Kennedy, of course, refused such a ridiculous request, and subsequently refused another request for a warrant on the ground that one of the ladies in charge of the ducks had removed it from the pond by seizing it by the neck. In view of these complaints, however, it was thought best to substitute on Saturday a wooden decoy duck for the live fowl.

The exhibition of horses was considered by those interested in such events one of the best ever seen and the judges had trouble in picking out the best animal. The judges were Capt. P. K. Slegener of Hopkinton and Capt. R. S. Harrison of Boston, while the judges for the work horses were A. G. Merwin, E. F. Caldwell, Thomas W. Davies and Capt. Harrison.

Miss Dorothy Burrage of West Newton and the Misses Nora and Muriel Saltonstall of Brookline were conspicuous in the events, Miss Burrage capturing the blue ribbon on Amber in the women's saddle event and the red ribbon in the light harness horses. Miss Nora and Miss Muriel Saltonstall won ribbons in the saddle horses and Miss Nora Saltonstall, with Checkers, won a yellow ribbon in the light harness class.

Harry L. Burrage on Undine won the blue ribbon in the jumping class, this event being the most spectacular on the program. Jack Davis on General was awarded the red ribbon, G. Taylor on Meleidy the yellow ribbon and W. H. B. Dowse's Sam, which is widely known in the jumping class, won the white ribbon.

The various other attractions arranged about the grounds were largely patronized during the day, and in the evening "The Circus Rider" was presented by the members of the Criterion Club of Boston, a moving picture show for the children was given and dancing enjoyed in the large pavilion. Women's Saddle Horses—Dorothy Burrage's Amber, first; Miss Nora Saltonstall's Checkers, second; Mrs. J. A. (Continued on page 8)

CENTRAL CLUB

Announces an Interesting Program for the Coming Season.

The season's work of the Central Club of the Central Congregational Church of Newtonville has been planned by the new officers of the club. The success of last season's lectures and entertainments has convinced them that a similar variety would continue to give the members that zest for attendance which forms the principal inspiration to be enjoyed by those interested in the welfare of the church and the community served by it. At no time in the history of the church has the influence of the male members been so potent, and the large membership of 149 men in the Central Club is most convincing of this fact. The spirit of high comradeship, under the leadership of Rev. Mr. Stocking, is reflected in the hearty and helpful work carried on by this club.

The opening meeting will be held on Thursday, October 16, and will deal with the issues of the present political campaign. The speakers who will expound the various creeds of their parties and the virtues of their candidates will be as follows: Rev. George L. Perrin, of Brookline, who will speak for the Progressive side; Mr. John Curtin, of Brookline, who will speak for the Republican candidates; Sherman L. Whipple, of Boston, who will speak for the Democratic party; and John McCarty, of Abington, candidate for the Attorney Generalship, who will represent the Socialists. A large attendance is expected, and a more intelligent vote will undoubtedly accrue to Newtonville as a result of these hearings.

The second meeting will be held on November 20, when an educational night will be presented to the members, a prominent speaker, whose name will be announced later, being the attraction on that occasion. There will not be any December meeting, the next being scheduled for January 15, when the annual boys' night will be held. (Continued on page 2)

THE CHRISTIAN FORUM

Begins Its Second Season and Announces Fine Program

The Christian Forum begins its second season next Sunday evening, when Rev. Alexander Irvine of New York will speak on the subject "Between Christ and Caesar—A Study of Social Conditions."

The Christian Forum is an attempt on the part of the religious forces of the community to afford a service where all may gather on a common platform to discuss questions of the day. It makes possible the largest gatherings of Newton people for any purpose.

The committee has met with success in securing for this winter strong speakers, and the topics to be discussed are compelling because of their range and their timeliness.

The meeting will be held at Elliot Church and will be followed by the usual question box which proved so popular a feature of the meetings last winter.

The dates and subjects of the following meetings are—

November 9—Dr. Josiah Strong of New York. "Ours the Day and Land of Opportunity."

December 14—Maud Ballington Booth of New York. "The Problem of Our Prisoners and How to Solve It."

January 11—Prof. Bliss Perry of Harvard. "International Peace."

February 15—Prof. Edward Steiner of Gretnell, Iowa. "Immigration."

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY AT WORK IN MASSACHUSETTS

Considerable interest attaches to the field work which is being carried on this season by the Geological Survey in the State of Massachusetts. The geology of the Boston Basin, including the areas known as the Boston, East Boston, and Framingham quadrangles, is being examined in great detail by Geologist Lawrence La Forge, and this season's work will complete his field studies necessary to the preparation of a geologic folio, including geologic and topographic maps, describing the interesting and complicated geology of this area. The publication is expected to be of high educational value as well as of local interest and importance. In several other quadrangles, in the central portion of the State, geologic mapping for folio publication is in progress by Prof. B. K. Emerson. The Pleistocene geology of a portion of the State, including the Housatonic area, is being investigated by Frank B. Taylor.

In the eastern part of the State, through an arrangement with the Federal Bureau of Mines, studies of the peat bogs have been made by Charles A. Davis, and have disclosed most interesting evidence of the gradual sinking or subsidence of this area, still in progress. While this sinking of the peat bogs is of considerable geologic interest, the rate of subsidence is too slow to warrant any alarm on the part of the people living in the vicinity.

AUTOMOBILE SMASHED

Another Joy Ride Comes To Grief On Commonwealth Avenue

A joy ride which had been in progress several hours, ended early Monday morning on Commonwealth avenue, near the corner of Auburn street, Auburndale, when the large touring car collided with a tree, splitting the machine in two parts, and resulted in the arrest of the driver for operating the automobile while under the influence of liquor and two of his companions on the charge of drunkenness.

The machine was owned by Mary W. Willey of 59 Petersborough street, Cambridge, and was a complete wreck from the impact. The driver of the machine was Wallace L. Barker of 13 Claremont park, Boston, who had been driving for the owner but a week. He was accompanied by Harold Knowles of 34 Greenview park, Boston, and John D. Spencer, Anna Doyle and Maud Madore, all of 13 Claremont park, Boston.

The auto came out to Newton along the boulevard going at a very fast rate of speed, and at the corner of Centre street, patrolmen Maloney and Clancy attempted to stop them, but the driver only drove on faster. When taking the curve near Auburn street, the machine skidded and crashed sideways into a tree.

Knowles received a slight injury to his leg, but the others were not hurt. They started to walk away when patrolman Bannion, who was on his way home saw the wrecked car and the five a short distance away. He stopped them and arrested the three men on the charge of drunkenness, and allowed the two girls to continue their long walk to Boston.

In the Police Court Monday morning a fine of $70 was imposed upon Barker, and being unable to raise the amount was committed. Spencer and Knowles were each fined $10, which they paid.

STREET EXPENDITURES CRITICIZED

After Long Debate, Aldermen Vote To Investigate Street Maintenance Account

Criticism of Street Commissioner Ross, a long debate on granting a poll license and a discussion over the policy to be adopted in laying out the streets, made the regular meeting of the aldermen last Monday one of the most interesting for some time.

The principal debate took place on an order to transfer $2000 from the unexpended balance for Washington street to the regular street maintenance account. Every speaker favored the order, but Mr. Ross came in for some sharp criticism because the street maintenance money had been exhausted in nine months. Alderman Richardson began the discussion by calling attention to the fact that the board had in June made specific grants of the Street Maintenance account for certain streets amounting to some $50,000, leaving about $52,000 for general purposes, some of which had, of course, been expended at that time. In 1912 Mr. Richardson said the general maintenance account was about $35,000 and it was thought that $52,000 would be ample for the present year. This amount has been expended in about nine months and Mr. Richardson believed that after the board had made a definite appropriation for a definite period, it was entitled to an explanation of why the amount was expended before the end of the year. He wanted an explanation stating the cause, placing the responsibility and a recommendation to prevent its recurrence.

Alderman Winslow said he resented being placed in a position where by refusing to make this transfer, the city laborers would not be paid, and yet no explanation had been made for the deficit. Alderman Cox said that the trouble came from the board making a list of streets to be repaved, thereby curtailing the usual street maintenance money. In his opinion the Street Commissioner should be a big enough man to take care of the streets of Newton without interference by the board. He said that a street in Ward 3 had been taken from the list by the Finance Committee, which needed instant attention. He also referred to the recent work on Washington street, placed in the street, which had been done under pressure of economy and that on a rainy day, you could find 1000 islands between West Newton and Newtonville. In reply Alderman Richardson said that the Street Commissioner was not the responsible man, that it was the mayor who had removed River street from the list. The board had specified certain streets in order to make sure that some of the thoroughfares of the city were resurfaced this year, and with the hope that the same method would be followed in the next few years that in time all the new streets would be properly resurfaced. Alderman Bemis called attention to the fact that all estimates of cost were furnished by the Street Commissioner and the City Engineer and not made up by the committee. Alderman Pratt thought that while the trouble was partially due to lack of bookkeeping, it was probably deeper than that and he urged a thorough investigation. Alderman Richardson said that he had been strongly impressed with the fact that regardless of the amount appropriated at the beginning of the year, the board of aldermen was the responsible power, not the mayor or the street commissioner. The amount being fixed by the aldermen, it was for the executive departments to govern themselves accordingly.

Alderman Cox said that the street commissioner had been before the committees and been turned down. If the department heads had spent their year's money in nine months it was up to the Finance committee, which had recommended the various grants of appropriations during the year. Alderman Richardson said the committee felt perfectly safe on making the entire grant last June for street maintenance as it had provided a much larger amount than had been expended during the entire year 1912.

In answer to an inquiry from Alderman Early as to whether any of this $2000 had been already expended, Alderman Murphy stated that the pay roll of the present week was about $500. Alderman Bemis thought the $2000 ought to last the department for the balance of the year and it would be unwise for the street commissioner to obligate himself or the city to anything beyond that amount.

Alderman Pratt said that Mr. Bemis was unusually optimistic in this respect and he did not doubt it would cost about $5000 more to finish the year. In fact the committee had already been asked to grant about $11,000 for this purpose.

Alderman Murphy then wanted the order amended to $7,045, saying that if it was not used for maintenance purposes it could be used to repair Washington street near Woodland. He thought the board could trust the mayor and street commissioner not to put the money in their pockets and that the city should return to its former plan in handling this account.

President Blakemore then took the floor and said that the Street Commissioner was the most lovable of persons who regarded the board of aldermen as a necessary evil and then did as he pleased with the money granted him. He intimated that where a city official managed his department economically his salary should be increased and where it was not so handled the salary should be reduced. It was the same old question raised each year, the department heads would expend their appropriations, come to the board for more and virtually ask "What are you going to do about it?" The function of this board, in his opinion, was to coordinate all the city departments, so that the total cost would be fair not only to the city, but to the tax payers.

Alderman Winslow said that it struck him that we don't have to give all we have to a man who has already spent too much. Let us find the real situation before we appropriate more and it would be only ordinary prudence to withhold this balance until later.

Alderman Alley, Cabot and Bemis endorsed this point of view.

Alderman Murphy said that it was coming fall when the leaves must be (Continued on page 8)

PASTOR'S RECEPTION

A social event of unusual interest was the annual reception on Wednesday evening to the pastor, Rev. H. Grant Person and Mrs. Person at Eliot Church.

Autumn foliage, hydrangeas, palms and salvia were arranged with artistic effect and the parlors presented a very attractive appearance.

Musical selections were finely rendered by the Eliot Quartet, accompanied on the piano by Mr. Everett Truette, and refreshments were served by the girls of Mrs. Smith's class and the boys of Mr. Carl Ellison's class.

Mr. and Mrs. Person were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Everett E. Kent.

The occasion was most delightfully social, and there was an attendance of 250.

The arrangements were in charge of a committee of 57 ladies of the parish, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Charles O. Tucker.

MR. MARSH DEAD

Mr. Irwin G. Marsh who died on Tuesday at the home of his son, Mr. Fred G. Marsh of Chestnut street, Waban, was a native of Gaysville, Conn., and was nearly 77 years of age.

Mr. Marsh was engaged in the leather business in Boston and New York for a number of years. He lived in Framingham for thirty years and was proprietor of the Nobscot Springs, and vice-president of the Perfection Cooler Co. He retired from active business three years ago and has since made his home with his son, in Waban.

Mr. Marsh was a veteran of the Civil War. He is survived by one son, and two grandsons. Funeral services are being held this afternoon, in charge of Rev. James C. Sharp of the Church of the Good Shepherd, and the remains will be cremated at Mt. Auburn.

WASHINGTON STREET SURFACE

Mr. Charles W. Ross, the Street Commissioner, denies the statement made in the board of aldermen Monday evening to the effect that recent work on Washington street was done in a cheap manner, or so economically as to result in poor work. He states that the last layer placed on top of the street gives it a rough appearance, but that it will come down within the next few months and present as good a surface as that on Washington street in front of the City Hall, which was built in exactly the same way. Mr. Ross claims that the saving made in the Washington street appropriation was entirely to the advantage of the haul for stone, and larger loads, and other economies, which were practical on account of the location of the street.

REQUIRES CARE IN CANNING

The Strawberry, on Account of its Evanescent Flavor and Color is Hard to Handle.

On account of its evanescent flavor and color, there is no fruit that requires more care in its canning or preserving than the strawberry. In selecting the berries, be sure that they are ripe, dry and freshly gathered.

For this reason it is better to wait for the home-grown berries. Those that have laid in the market overnight are scarcely worth the trouble of handling. Be sure the cans to be used are sterilized, tops and all, and the rubbers new. If you are preserving according to the American custom, allow sugar, pound for pound, but never allow the berries that are to be canned to stand in the sugar, as it extracts the juice and toughens the fruit.

Pack the fresh berries into the cans, shaking down well, but taking care not to crush. Have ready a hot sirup made from sugar and the juice squeezed from smaller berries, and slowly pour in the hot sirup over the fresh berries in the jars, leaving as much space as the top.

Have a common wash boiler a third full of water that is about the same temperature as that of the jars holding the hot sirup. Set the cans on a wooden rack, place straw or kitchen towels between the cans to prevent their hitting each other.

Put the can covers on the jars, but leave off the rubbers. Bring to a boil, and as soon as the sirup in the jars rises, showing that the contents are scalding hot, lift the jars out on a dry board.

Fill each jar brimming full with the scalding sirup that is left in the saucepan, put on the rubbers and screw on the covers as tightly as possible. When cold, tighten again, wrap each one in paper and set in a cool, dry, dark closet or cellar where the temperature does not rise above seventy degrees.

TO MAKE COTTAGE CHEESE

Refreshing Dish for Supper on Warm Evenings is Very Easily Prepared.

Cottage cheese is very refreshing for supper on warm evenings. To make, pour boiling water into a pan of thick sour milk, not stale, stirring in all the whey. As soon as the whey begins to separate, pour in cold water and turn the whole into a cheesecloth strainer and hang in a cool place over a pan to drain. When ready to use, rub smooth, season with salt, mix with sweet, thick cream and beat lightly. Sprinkle with pepper.

Tempting schmierkase is made by allowing thick cabbage to drip without heating it the least. There is more loss than when heated, but it is also more digestible. Season with sweet cream, butter, salt and white pepper. Garnish with sprigs of parsley. Many relish it with cooked gooseberries or rhubarb.

Vaseline will remove ink stains from the hands; rub well with vaseline, wipe with soft paper and wash with soap and water.

Boil cabbage for a few seconds in water in which a pinch of soda has been dissolved, change to fresh water, and the cabbage will be soft and tender.

Every housekeeper should have an emergency shelf in her pantry or cellar, where at least a few canned goods and fruits are held in reserve for the unexpected guest.

In broiling meats the gridiron should always be thoroughly heated in order that the meat may retain its juices. If milk or grease boil over on it will prevent the disagreeable odor that would otherwise rise from it.

By placing a screen in front of a bed-room window at night the room may be well aired while the bed and sleepers are shielded from a direct draught.

Kerosene is excellent to clean enameled bath-tubs, marble wash-bowls, or marble tables. Rinse well with strong soap-suds to destroy the odor of the kerosene.

A Laundering Hint. When ironing clothes, to avoid soot, sort them later, always place them in two piles. Those which need mending may be put in one lot and those which are perfect in another. While ironing it is easy to notice a torn place or where a button is missing.

Maple Sauce. One cup maple syrup, half a cup water, one tablespoon flour. Make a paste of the flour, add to the maple syrup and boil three minutes. Serve while warm.

Toasted Bacon for Picnics. When on a picnic toast the bacon in a corn popper. The meshes being small, the bacon is prevented from slipping through into the fire, as it would were a broiler used. The long handle enables the cook to stand well out of the smoke.

To Preserve Egg Yolks. Often, after baking, several egg yolks are left over. They will keep fresh for days, without drying, if put into a cup and covered with cold water.—McClure's Magazine.

HATFIELD

Charles E. Hatfield was born in Medford, Mass., where the favorite tittle of the Puritan sons used to be made. He came into a world of trouble in 1882 when the Republic was in the throes of civil war; and while always ready to do his public duty, the absurd prejudices of the Government debarred him from the privilege of losing a leg and gaining a pension in the service of his beloved native land and prevented him from being the youngest member of the G. A. R. There was trouble enough ahead of him to compensate him for his inability to go to the front; so for some years he had to content himself with sucking a nursing bottle, growing up, going to school, studying law and municipal government, absorbing the principles of the Republican party and getting ready for his days of political storm and stress.

While waiting for that great and glorious era when he would be the Republican Goat, he built up a fine law practice and served as mayor of the City of Newton; and had commended himself to his party as a shrewd, hard-working, loyal member, who had failed to contract the disease of the day—Jungtism.

In 1910 Charles was elected chairman of the Republican State Committee and embarked upon his career of trouble. For years under Republican rule the state and republic had been singularly prosperous; industry was flourishing, trade was good, money was easy and everybody was working; and it is the great paradox of America that when everybody is prosperous everybody is discontented; when everybody is successful everybody is unhappy; and the land was full of prophets of evil, Jeremiahs foretelling disaster, croaking of revolution, and prophesying all manner of trouble. It is only when the American is hard up, with his nose on the grindstone, when he sweats and digs, that he is at his best, when he has confidence in his country and its fortunes and has no use for pessimists and croakers.

In 1910 America was prosperous and suspicious; the rich were being denounced, the successful condemned, and the country full of yaps howling calamity. Fellows riding in autos elated in Europe blowing their easy money and glooming of their future; and the farmers of the West having paid off their mortgages; piled money in the bank, trimmed their whiskers and traveled around in devil wagons calling for the destruction of the Republican party and the Robber Tariff.

At this delightful moment Charles Hatfield was the goat. He not only had the fortunes, and the misfortunes of his party on his hands, but had Joe Walker and Norman White to drive him to drink with their lungs, egotism and ambitions. At a time when all the signs and omens called for unity in the ranks and eagles in the lead, the cock-sparrows and bantams were strutting around demanding the right to rule the party. When anything happened Hatfield was the goat; when White's hat grew too small, and the roses in Walker's bed hurt, Hatfield was held responsible; and every sore thumb, aching tooth, soft corn and blubbery stomach in the G. O. P. was laid at his door. Charles was having a perfectly lovely time; and he continued to smile, saw wood and refrain from homicide; he even refused to kidnap White and Walker and deposit them on the Banks of Newfoundland. He just worked and used horse liniment on his well-kicked personality.

Then came Eugene, the man of many pleas and parties, the friend of the Political Sweating Toller, the great Political Promissory Note, the idol and product of the Springfield Strangers and the Delilah of the Democracy. The season of wind-storms set in; Draper went down with flying colors; Foss came in and balanced on the tight rope for three years; and Charles Hatfield smiled a sad, sweet smile, put a soft pillow in the gable end of his bed and had kicking matthees daily except Sundays and public holidays.

He has worked harder and more cheerfully for years under the most discouraging circumstances than probably any of his long line of predecessors and has got less thanks; he could not bring success to a party that had resolved to lose; and when the lung troubles of the Progressives were added to the antics of Foss, Hatfield shook his head wearily, applied for quarters in the Danvers Bug House, and felt that only there were silence and sanity to be found.

Charles Hatfield deserves well of his party; he has steered it through storm and stress; and in these days, when the Democracy is busy roaring and wrecking, spouting and scrapping, perhaps sanity may return to the Republican party and its sense of gratitude revive long enough to return thanks to the man who has given it years of hard and thankless service.

Hatfield is about to retire; he wants a rest; and perhaps he may enjoy the luxury of being in a position to view the pangs and pains of the Captain of a rickety ship with a mutinous and garrulous crew. Hail and farewell, Charley! Always a goat, never a joke, your merits will be recognized when the party plumes are ragged and the yaps have passed into oblivion and silence.

PRESENTED WITH PURSE

Mr. Frederick C. Morgan, one of the veteran letter carriers attached to the Newton office, was agreeably surprised last Friday morning, while making his rounds, when he was called into the home of Mr. Oliver M. Fisher on Franklin street and presented with a substantial purse, the gift of patrons on his route, who thus recognized the completion of twenty-five years of faithful and efficient service in their interests.

Letter carrier service began in Newton on October 1, 1888, Mr. George H. Morgan being postmaster, and each of the offices in the different villages being independent of each other. The first carriers at Newton were Messrs. Farwell, Dunn, Walker and Mullen, Mr. F. C. Morgan being a substitute, at first. Mr. Farwell is now superintendent of the Newton office and Mr. Dunn is still in the Newton service. Some fifteen years ago, all the Newton post-offices were consolidated, with headquarters at Newton Centre, and Mr. Morgan as postmaster. At his death, Mr. Chas. A. Haskell was appointed postmaster until the Newton offices were consolidated with the Boston district.

To Identify the Corpse.

In the blanks which life insurance companies provide their medical examiners for use in recording the data of the examination of the applicant for insurance, they provide a space for personal marks which may be used to identify the insured after death. A western company recently received a report from an examining physician with the following in the identification blank: "He has a strong Cornish accent."—Lippincott's.

A Relic of History.

A newly rich woman, who was anxious to make a favorable impression in her neighborhood, decided to show her collection of antiques to the bishop when he called. The time came, and one by one she displayed the whole collection, giving him the history of each piece. "There," she said, pointing impressively to an old yellow teapot, "that teapot was used in the Boston tea party."

Unintentional Humor.

At the last meeting of the Maine Laundrymen's association a motion was made and carried that a fine be imposed on any member making use of the word "mangle" because of the impression it was liable to make on the uninitiated.

Doubling Human Life.

In 1866 the public health conditions of New York were in so low a state that the average length of life of the inhabitants was 30 years. In 1912 these conditions of life were 66 years. Thus the value of human life, reckoned in terms of time alone, had more than doubled in less than half a century.—Century.

Sales, $250,000 Tolls, $36

THIS is the most remarkable incident of its kind that we have heard of in the course of a demonstration of selling by telephone—sales totalling $250,000 at an expenditure of $36 for telephone tolls.

By permission we are enabled to say that the selling was done by MR. GEORGE R. KELLY of George R. Kelly & Co. of 104 Hanover St., Boston, New England selling agents of the American Window Glass Company of Pittsburgh.

One of our salesmen called upon Mr. Kelly to demonstrate our new toll service selling plans, only to find that already he was employing advanced methods along this line. Said he:

"We anticipated a rise in the price of window glass around January 1, and wanted to give our customers the benefit of current quotations.

"There wasn't time to make personal visits to the trade, letters wouldn't be satisfactory, so we made our calls by telephone.

"During the first ten days in December we made toll calls to widely separated points in New England, at a cost of about $36, and booked orders aggregating $250,000."

If any New England house can show greater results from selling by telephone, we would be glad to learn of them.

Business men interested in progressive ideas for the extension of trade are invited to send for our booklet entitled "Modern Methods of Money-Making," and for samples of our "Telephone Passes."

In Greater Boston, call Fort Hill 7600 and ask the Contract Department for details.

EDITORIAL

The policy of the Public Works committee in the matter of recommending the laying out of streets under the betterment law as announced by Alderman Cabot last Monday night, will if adopted by the city government completely change the method which has been in force for many years in this city. Our present ordinances require the persons interested to put the street in proper condition for acceptance before such action is taken by the city government. The proposed plan requires only a petition from those interested, the work being done by the city at its own expense, and later reimbursement by betterment assessment on the abutters. The new plan is an excellent one for the petitioner,
but it is a question whether it is the better plan for the city. In the first place, it can readily be seen that if the city adopts this method, every street presented for acceptance in the future will be done in this way. The financing of this work will either require a bond issue, or will become a direct charge to the current tax levy, probably the former. If the money is raised by bond issues, presumably for ten years for that is the legal limit for apportioning betterment assessments,
it is possible that a considerable amount may be involved, and which may affect the debt limit so as to prevent the borrowing of money for preserving municipal needs. Work of this class, should be done in systematic manner, that is to say, the most urgent cases being taken up first, regardless of the inducements which may be brought by those interested in other streets. Under the present method, it is useless to bring any pressure to bear on our city government because, the work must be done by the petitioners themselves.
On the other hand, there is some advantage in having the work done by the city departments because it is done in a proper manner, will last longer after acceptance and be more satisfactory than work done by a private contractor.

Under our present ordinances the city has grown natural and such developments as that of Farlow Hill in Newton and West Newton Hill have added beauty and wealth to the city.
The proposed new method may or may not be beneficial, but I am inclined to the opinion that the betterment law ought to be restricted to the few cases where it is a real necessity,
rather than adopting it for the wholesale acceptance of new streets.

Now that all three parties have held their conventions, adopted platforms
and nominated candidates, the state campaign is well under way.

The Republican party has made a splendid start in the race, for its candidate for governor, Congressman Gardner has a fine record for constructive statesmanship at Washington, has not been afraid to oppose the former strong Republican organization in the House of Representatives and has an attractive personality. All of which will be strong assets in present day politics. While the Republican convention did not place in its platform all the planks favored by Mr.
Gardner, there is no harm done the party by having its candidate accept them as his own personal planks. It simply means that the Republican party, as a party, does not agree with its candidates on these matters. In one respect, the Republican platform is a disappointment to those of the party who recognize that equal surfrage is an issue in the campaign. To a platform last year on this subject

which, to say the least, was deceptive, the party, has this year, added the insult of absolutely ignoring the matter. I greatly fear that many votes will be lost to Mr. Gardner on this issue. In all other respects the Republican platform, I believe fairly represents the opinions of the majority of its members and takes safe and sound grounds on the important issues of the day.

The Democratic and Progressive platforms are also representative of the two parties, which, thru lack of control of the Legislature, in the past, have but little concrete legislation to back up their claims. These parties can promise about everything in their platforms, for there is little doubt as to their being called upon to fulfill their pledges. The real fight, of course, is over the governorship, and the result will depend on whether enough votes are cast for Mr. Bird, the Progressive candidate, which otherwise might be cast for Mr. Gardner, as to elect Mr.
Walsh, the Democratic candidate. Mr.
Bird cannot be elected even if he polls
the vote cast for him last year, for it will take at least 175,000 votes to elect a governor of Massachusetts. The issue, then, is between Mr. Gardner and Mr. Walsh and every Progressive vote for Bird is a half vote in favor of electing Mr. Walsh.

The protest made last Monday night at the aldermanic meeting over the expansion of street department money was well merited and has been in the air for some time. The heads of departments have heretofore failed to recognize the fact that the board of aldermen is the appropriating power,
and, as President Blakemore intimated, have "done as they pleased." The change made in the accounting system this year was the beginning of an attempt to insist on businesslike methods in handling appropriations, and when this department gets into its stride, it is hoped a stricter control
will be kept on expenditures.

The trouble is due principally to the difference between an appropriation
and the grant of the appropriation.
The former is fixed by the budget or subsequent order, and marks the maximum expenditure for that purpose.
Under the city charter, however, nothing can be expended from these appropriations until granted by the board of aldermen. Heads of departments usually ask for grants each month, and furnish the aldermen with their reasoning for the same. If they underestimate their department needs, the grant falls short, and another application must be made to the board. Some heads of departments, however, virtually ignore the grant, and treat the appropriation as if it was wholly available for their uses. This is the case in the present issue. Given the appropriation of Massachusetts should be the street maintenance account has money enough to carry it thru the remainder of the year, but it is tied up in grants for special purposes and cannot be used for general work. The power of the aldermen to make grants from appropriations is unquestioned and it is for the Street Department to conform its expenditures to the action of the board.

Candidate Gardner is making a great mistake in talking on immigration in a state campaign. Mr. Gardner may have some good ideas on this subject, as he has served on the committee in charge of the matter at Washington, but that is no reason why the voters of Massachusetts should be called upon to lead the entire United States on what is conceded to be a national question. Immigration is not an issue in Massachusetts and Mr.
Gardner cannot make it one, no matter how hard and how much he talks about it. He is simply wasting valuable time in discussing it now.

The ridiculousness of a state law which requires a municipality to build a hospital for persons suffering with tuberculosis and denies the city or town any authority to compel persons to enter the hospital after it is built,
is fully appreciated by tax payers who are called upon to expend $15,000 or $20,000 for this purpose. Not one tu-bercular patient in one hundred will enter such a hospital of his own free will, and those who do, are not as a rule the persons from whom the community should be protected.

Attention is called to the note printed on the 10th notice of the year for the first time calling attention to some facts of the law governing taxation of personal property.

MR. LENTELL RETIRES

Mr. Charles B. Lentell, a well-known resident of Newton Highlands, has retired as roadmaster of the Boston and Albany Railroad, his resignation taking effect October first. Mr. Lentell has been connected with the road for forty-five years and has had charge of the great improvements which have taken place during the past twenty years. Mr. Lentell has been a resident of Newton during his service with the road. He retires on account of his health, and has just returned from the Corey Hill Hospital, where he underwent a slight operation most successfully.

COUNTY FAIR SPORTS

The athletic games, which were to have been held last Saturday afternoon
in connection with the County Fair,
were held yesterday on the fair grounds. Although the weather was anything but pleasant, a long list of entries were on hand.

The games were all interesting and close, but on account of the poor condition of the grounds, speed was lack-
ing. Prizes were awarded to the winners of each event. The events were run off under the direction of William F. Chase, N. E. Palmer, Jr., John Keller,
Benjamin Thomas, Sidney A. Clark, G.

VISITATION AT DALHOUSIE

An incident, pleasing as well as novel, marked the official visitation to Dalhousie, Mass., Lodge Wednesday night, and was brought about by Rt.
Worshipful Emory B. Gibbs. In order,
as he stated, to give the assembled craftsmen an opportunity to behold
what a fine-looking set of worshipful masters the 5th District has, he requested each to rise and presented them individually to the lodge.

The deputy stated that the Masonic Home now had 42 residents, four having been admitted yesterday, and spoke of the continued progress of the institution. He acknowledged the receipt of a check for $75 from Dalhousie Lodge for the maintenance fund and complimented it for previous generous contributions.
Past Master Arthur G. Hosmer, who retired a few months ago, was called up and presented a past master's diploma, "in token of service well performed and honor well won." The deputy was remembered with a bou-quet, as was his marshal, and a like mark of attention was bestowed upon Marshal Frederick M. Mitchell of the lodge who, it was announced, had been
at his post during every communication.

Past Master John W. Fisher's 25th anniversary of taking the chair was observed in having an opportunity to officialize as chairman of the committee of escort. His associates were Past Masters George A. Gleason, Frank R.
Moore, Wallace, Henry L. Fairbrother,
Harry C. Milliken, Edward C. Wyatt
and Arthur G. Hosmer.

MR. FROST INJURED

Mr. Edward J. Frost of Maple street, Auburndale, was seriously injured
shortly after 6 o'clock last night, when the automobile in which he was riding
to his home was struck by another automobile and electric car on Commonwealth avenue, near Chestnut Hill avenue, Brighton.

With three broken ribs, lacerations
of the right leg near the ankle, a sprained knee and a wrenched elbow,
Mr. Frost was removed to his home in a passing auto and later attended by Dr. C. P. Hutchinson of Auburndale.
Mr. Frost's chauffeur, Peter L. Roose, 20 years old, of 189 Melrose street, Auburndale, was thrown 30 feet, but sustained only slight bruises to the chest and was taken care of by friends.

According to the story told by Mr.
Frost on his arrival home, a big touring car, on the wrong side of the road
and traveling very fast, approached him and in trying to avoid it he was struck and thrown into the air. The Frost automobile, tipping it over, Mr.
Frost fell beneath it, while Rooney
was thrown out to the front.

The other automobile continued on its way and its number was not secured.
So far as Mr. Frost could see, the party in the machine consisted of two men and two women, one of the former being in the chauffeur's seat.

Mr. Frost attaches no blame to the motorman of the street car, who had no opportunity to check his speed.

MR. STUART DEAD

Mr. Frederick T. Stuart, a veteran Boston artist, whose home was in Newton Centre, and well known in his profession, died Wednesday night at a hospital in Brookline. Mr. Stuart who was seventy-six years of age, had been in ill health for several years.
He served in the Civil War and was a topographical draftsman, and his reminiscences of stirring scenes which he witnessed, especially during the battle of Gettysburg, were of thrilling interest.

After the war he occupied himself
with steel engraving and became especially well-known in portrait work,
and he also did etching on copper plate. One of the finest examples of Mr. Stuart's portrait engraving was a picture of Lincoln, which artists have pronounced exceptionally good. He also was a painter in water colors, and his works have been exhibited in various cities. Mr. Stuart was formerly a member of the Boston Art Club and of the Boston Society of Water Color Painters. He was a widower and is survived by a daughter, Mrs. E. A.
Cutler of Knowles street, with whom he made his home, and a son, Morton
Stuart, both of Newton Centre.

Oct. 4. She sang Brahms' well-known intonation and expression that made a favorable impression on a large audience. These recitals, such as the one at which Miss Cook appeared, are held each Saturday afternoon during the season and give the more advanced pupils valuable exercise in public performing.

NEW FIRE APARATUS

The new pumping engine arrived in West Newton Saturday morning and attracted much attention. It is equipped with a six-cylinder engine, and can develop enough power to throw a stream over the highest church steeple
in Newton. The engine will be housed in West Newton, taking the place of Engine and Hose 2, which will be held in reserve in case of emergency.

The engine was given its official test
yesterday afternoon at Bullough's pond, Newtonville, and there was a large attendance of fire chiefs from other places and others interested.

The tests showed that the motor pumps are capable of throwing 150 gallons more of water per minute than now owned by the city.

The engine will not be placed in commission for about a month as the men must receive instruction in handling it.

several streets, Raymond making a cleaned up and that the street department ought to have some leeway. Details can be obtained on request.

Mr. Murphy's amendment was then defeated and the $2000 order passed. Subsequently Alderman Richardson suggested that a committee be appointed to investigate the matter and Alderman Cox wanted the committee to be a committee of the whole to meet Tuesday night and to summon the mayor, street commissioner and city engineer to be present. He wanted to be a member of the committee and know what was going on and to cut out star chamber methods.

Alderman Cabot favored a small committee and Alderman Murphy thought that this discussion had hardly been an expression of confidence in the mayor.

Alderman Cox's motion was defeated and the matter referred to the finance committee to report at the next meeting.

Alderman Blakemore presided and Alderman Hatch and Jamieson were the only absentees.

Hearings were held on petitions of the Edison Co. for poles on Upham road, Boylston road and for underground conduits on Institution avenue, on the laying out of Trowbridge avenue under the betterment act, on petition to keep gasoline by G. S. Hadcock, Woodbine street, Edwin T. Cady, Hillside road, Christina S. Courson, Grove street, and M. T. Mehigan, Commonwealth avenue, at which no one appeared. On petition of the Edison Co. for poles on Central avenue, Mr. Gould appeared for the Edison Co. and Miss Allen entered a protest. On petitions of the Telephone Co. for poles on Judkins, Jenison and Lathrop streets, Mr. T. J. Green appeared for the company and Mr. G. W. Auryan entered a protest. Mr. W. F. Bacon protested for J. H. Lesh against telephone poles on Cross street. Other speakers on this matter were Mr. Green and Mr. W. T. Trowbridge.

Mayor Hatfield sent in communications requesting $1000 for plans for a tuberculosis hospital and inviting the aldermen to the usual outing on Oct. 18th. The Mayor also spoke in person urging immediate action of the hospital matter.

The board of health requested sewer construction in Adams avenue and in Chestnut street, Waban, and the school committee requested information regarding an appropriation of $7600 for that department.

The Boston Elevated Co. accepted the recent track locations on Park and Tremont streets.

Bond of R. C. Huestis as a private detective was approved and auctioneer licenses granted to J. J. Delaney, M. S. Perlmutter and E. M. Rumery. Sidewalk assessments of Anne E. Higgins, Watertown street, and Lucy A. Tucker, Bourne street, were apportioned.

Petitions were received from L. H. Griffin for sewer in Barnstable road, Monk et al for sewer in Woodward street, Gahon et al for sewer in North street, F. W. Ross for sewer in Allerton road, Mrs. W. S. Place for sewer in Chestnut street, Waban, Laura Rogers for sewer in Commonwealth avenue, ward 6, Welch et al for sewer in Adams avenue, and Dr. J. R. McLaughlin for damages due to defect in highway, Woodward et al for improvement of Mt. Vernon street, John P. True to regulate times for spraying trees, P. J. Flannery for wagon license, A. A. Caruso for pool licenses, the call men of the Fire Dept. for increase to $250 per year, the Telephone Co. for relocation on Walnut street and attachments on Central street, and the Edison Co. for attachments on Watertown street and Parsons street.

The majority report of the License committee favorable to granting junk license to Hyman Melman was opposed by Alderman Blanchard and Barrett of that committee, on the ground that no more such licenses should be granted and that this man's license had been revoked two years ago for violation of the law. Alderman Cabot and Forkall endorsed this view. Alderman Jones, Jarvis and Cox of the committee defended its report on the ground that the violation complained of had been the act of Mrs. Melman and that the man had been sufficiently punished by the suspension of his license for two years. Alderman Murphy also favored granting the license. The favorable report of the committee was then turned down by a vote of 11 to 8.

Alderman Murphy opposed the report, no action necessary on petition for improvement of drain in Adams street, saying that the conditions had not been improved as stated by the members of the Public Works committee. The matter was then recommitted.

On recommendation of committees, hearings were assigned for October 29 on laying out under the betterment act of Beech street, Hobart road, Monadnock road and Manet road, on taking land for sewer in North street, and on widening Vista avenue and Islington road, sewers were ordered in Cook street, and Neholden road, California street, ordered sprinkled, portion of Washington street, as widened near Beacon street was discontinued, grants of $210.50 authorized, transfers authorized in the Police and Forestry departments, polling places established and the state election called for Nov. 4, pole locations granted the Edison Co. on Pelham street and conduits in Institution avenue, joint locations granted the Edison and Telephone Co's. in Church street, and permits to remove poles on the same street, common victualer license of T. J. Birmingham was revoked, and street sprinkling assessments levied to an amount of $23,766.81. E. T. Donovan was granted permit to locate a gas engine on Newland street, leave to withdraw granted Mary E. Lakenan on claim for torn dress, no action necessary reported on protest of N. E. Paine relative to use of drain near Commonwealth avenue, a billboard ordinance and new junk regulations were ordered printed, a petition to the Legislature to amend city charter so that municipal year would begin Jan. 1st and settlement of claim of Cornelius Madden for $15.75 was referred.

Alderman Rice objected to transferring the balance of the Montvale road account to that for Stearns street, saying that the work on Montvale road had not been completed and the matter was recommitted.

An order for $1000 for plans for a proposed hospital for tuberculosis was passed after Alderman Benis had said he would second a motion to make the amount $500 instead of $1000. No one rose to the occasion, however, and the amount remained at $1000.

On the order laying out Trowbridge avenue under the betterment act Alderman Cabot explained the policy tentatively adopted by the Public Works committee, saying that there was great need of a definite policy on this matter. In the past five years the city had accepted 21 streets under the betterment act, at a cost of about $30,000, all of which had been paid by the 245 property owners affected without legal contest. Every growing city must face the necessity of extending its street mileage for it opens new property, increases valuations and is a good financial investment. It is often impossible for all the abutters on a street to agree together on the necessity of laying out of the street, or to undertake the work of construction. Usually one or more refuse to join with the others. The city has the necessary equipment to do the work and has the ability to finance the undertaking. It can borrow money from 4 to 4 1/2% and as betterment assessments carry 6%, there is enough profit to pay for the necessary bookkeeping. Mr. Cabot believed it proper to charge such expenditures to bond issues. The Public Works committee, he said, had adopted the following tentative policy. It will require at least 75% of the franchises on the proposed street to be presented on the petition for acceptance, the petitioners to give all necessary land without cost, and to accept any betterment assessments levied by the city without legal contest. On these conditions, the committee would probably act favorably on all such petitions.

President Blakemore thanked Alderman Cabot for the work he had given the matter and the order was adopted. The order for $2342 to pay for construction of Trowbridge avenue was discussed, its form not being favored by members of the Finance committee and after a consultation, it was rerafted and adopted.

The board adjourned at 11.21 P. M.

The annual Fall tournament of the Newton archers was held Columbus Day at the Newton Centre Range, and despite the fact that a strong wind was blowing along the course, good scores were made.

A GREAT SUCCESS

Whist Party Held in Aid of Newton Women's Exchange

A largely attended and most successful whist party was held Wednesday afternoon at the Hunnewell clubhouse by the officers and directors of the Newton Women's Exchange for the benefit of that philanthropy. Over sixty tables were filled with ladies from all sections of the city. The assembly hall, where the whist was held, was most attractive with potted plants and cut flowers, donated for the occasion by Mrs. Frank A. Day, and sold during the afternoon. The prizes which were donated by the various consignors to the exchange consisted of cakes, rolls and other articles usually sold at the Exchange. They were won by Mrs. Fred H. Loveland, Mrs. F. E. Smith, Mrs. Brigham, Miss Preston, Mrs. Whidden, Mrs. Wm. M. Peris, Mrs. Snow, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Henry Whitmore, Miss Sallie Lucas, Mrs. E. S. Wheeler, Mrs. Nichols, Mrs. Chester and Miss Ruddick. McLean, Mrs. C. P. Darling, Miss Rose Loring, Miss Anna M. Whiting, Miss Maud Henry, Mrs. Wm. T. Coppins, Mrs. William F. Plant and Mrs. A. M. Silsbee. The committee was assisted by Miss Clara Webster, Miss Esther Wing, Miss Marion Sturson, Miss Yama Knapp, Miss Annis Kendall and Miss Leslie Babcock, who sold candy, flowers and nuts during the afternoon.

Mrs. Lodge made a brief address explaining the object of the Exchange and calling attention to the fact that unless the membership was increased to at least 300 it would be necessary to close the Exchange. Mrs. Lodge urged the ladies present to become members at once and to induce their friends to support it.

FIFTH VICTORY

Newton High won its fifth straight victory of the season at Newtonville Monday morning by defeating Boston Latin School 21 to 0. Newton received the ball on the kickoff and by a series of line plays, in which Hyatt figured prominently, carried the ball straight down the field for a touchdown, Hyatt scoring. The remaining points were gathered in the third period on straight line plunging, varies by tackle-around plays, in which Captain Brady figured. The only successful forward pass in the game gained fifteen yards for Boston Latin.

Miss Alice N. Jones passed away Friday at the home of Mrs. Burrage, 192 Austin street, Newtonville, after an illness extending over a period of about eight months.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon at the residence of her brother, Mr. Arthur F. Jones, on Newtonville avenue.

Impressive services were conducted at 3 o'clock by Rev. Albert Hammatt, pastor of the First Universalist Church, assisted by Rev. James Watson Campbell, D.D., of the Methodist Church.

The selections, "Crossing the Bar," "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," and "Abide With Me," were beautifully rendered by the Mendelssohn Quartet. There was a large attendance, and a profusion of beautiful floral tributes testified to the esteem in which she was held by her many friends.

The burial was in the family lot in Mt. Auburn Cemetery.

SUNDAY SCHOOL ATHLETES

Grace Church Wins Outdoor Meet At Newton Centre

Grace Church athletes won first honors in the outdoor meet held last Saturday on the Newton Centre Playground, under the auspices of the Newton Sunday School Athletic League, with a score of 45 points, against 29 for their nearest competitor. The meet was the first ever held outdoors, and although a heavy rain was falling during the afternoon there was plenty of enthusiasm among the contestants, and a big field was on hand.

During the past few years, the meet has been conducted at the Newton Y. M. C. A., but on account of the big field of athletes that has turned out every year, bigger grounds was needed and the playground was decided upon. Eliot Church was a good second, having 29 points to its credit and the Second Congregational Church of West Newton was third with 17 points. The other Sunday Schools' scores were as follows: New Church, 13; Trinity, 10; Central Congregational, 7; Myrtle Baptist, 6; West Newton Unitarian, 5; Newton Centre Methodist, 4; Auburndale Methodist, 3; Newtonville Universalist, 2; North Congregational, 1.

THE OHIO FLOOD

Interesting Report By the United States Geological Survey

The causes which led to the great flood in the Ohio Valley last spring, the losses therefrom, and the prevention of damage by future floods are discussed in the timely report just issued by the United States Geological Survey as the result of a field investigation of the districts affected and a study of the records of precipitation, run-off, and stream flow. While the flood of 1913 was the most destructive that has ever visited the Ohio Valley, it is pointed out that floods of the Ohio are now the rule rather than the exception and that the problem of preventing flood damage is a vital one, pressing for solution. In no year since 1873 has Ohio River failed to overflow its banks at some point along its course and flood large areas, and in some years the flooding has been repeated five times. The actual material loss on account of the recent flood is more than $200,000,000, without considering indirect losses or the loss of life.

A distinction is made between the prevention of floods and the prevention of damage by floods in order to bring out forcibly the obvious idea that excessive rainfall and the accumulation of excessively large volumes of surface water in river basins can not be prevented, but that the thing to strive for is to prevent the great damage done by flood water all along the river's course. The two means of preventing damage by floods that are most discussed and that are stated to be unquestionably the best and most reliable are levees and storage reservoirs, although forests are also prominently mentioned. The Geological Survey points out, however, that to guard against the most destructive floods all available preventive measures must be employed and that no one alone can possibly be adequate.

In analyzing the figures showing the volume of the floods of various years at Cincinnati it is interesting to note that to have kept the highest flood on record at that city below the danger line it would have been necessary to hold back above Cincinnati 226,000 million cubic feet of water, representing the dangerous crest or top of the flood—the accumulated excess during the 19 days that the height of the river was above the danger line.

The capacity of the 43 reservoir sites above Pittsburgh, investigated in 1912 by the Pittsburgh Flood Commission, is 50,500 million cubic feet, and the preliminary investigations during 1908 by the Geological Survey in the Kanawha River drainage area discovered 17 reservoir sites with an additional storage capacity of about 280,000 million cubic feet. There are also many other available reservoir sites on the tributaries of the Ohio above Cincinnati.

Even greater storage capacity, however, will probably be required to control fully the floods on the Ohio, for all the floods do not originate on the same tributaries, and therefore sufficient reservoirs must be provided to control floods on two or more combinations of tributaries.

The report emphasizes the inadequacy of the data available concerning the Ohio River system and urges the necessity for an immediate broadening of the past and present meager studies of the conduct of the many great tributaries of the Ohio, which shall conclusively answer the much discussed question whether the floods of the Ohio can be absolutely controlled by reservoirs and levees.

Whatever may be the merits of the respective schemes for flood control, there can be no doubt of the absolute necessity for a comprehensive plan of action, nor can the value of the present report be overestimated.

NEW MISSIONARY HOME

House Warming and Dedication Yesterday At Auburndale

The new building of the Walker Home for Missionary Children, which replaces the structure consumed by flames a few years ago, was dedicated yesterday afternoon, the exercises being followed by a housewarming. The new building, with the equipment cost about $50,000, and of this sum but a small amount remains to be paid.

The money was raised, almost entirely by women who comprise the Board of Managers. A woman, actively interested in the work of the home, donated $15,000 of the amount, and two other subscriptions of $5000 each were received. In addition to this money, many of the rooms in the building were furnished by Sunday School pupils throughout the city.

The new building is erected on Hancock and Grove streets, Auburndale, on the site of the former building. The land is owned by the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, and the building is of brick, concrete and stone and is as nearly fireproof as possible. The basement and three stories are above ground.

The laundry, playroom, store rooms and heating plants are located in the basement. On the first floor are the dining room, the superintendent's office, kitchen, living room and a single and double sick room, which are isolated.

The girls' apartments are located on the second floor, which contains a room, sleeping chambers and a sleeping porch, which will accommodate five beds. The third floor is for boys. In all, there are accommodations for 35 and room can be made for 50 persons.

Many persons interested in missionary work were present at the exercises. Rev. James L. Barton, D.D., chairman of the Board of Trustees, opened the exercises and spoke briefly of the history of the home, and Mrs. Barton, who is president of the Board of Managers, told of the work of that body in raising the funds. Several vocal selections were rendered by the American Board Quartet, and Miss Carrie Borden of Commonwealth avenue, Boston, who is blind, told of her associations with the founder of the home. Remarks were made by Mayor Charles E. Hatfield of Newton and prayer was offered by Rev. Edward M. Noyes, pastor of the First Congregational Church, Newton Centre.

The Walker Home was started in 1869, for the children of Missionaries who are laboring in foreign fields, and who wish to have their children educated in this country. The founder was Mrs. Eliza Walker, the widow of a missionary, who found herself left with four small children and at once realized the need of such a home.

The institution has an endowment fund of $40,000, and the income and nominal sum which each inmate pays each week, is sufficient to support the children between the ages of 10 and 20 are accommodated at the home, and if there are any rooms vacant, the home will receive adult missionaries, who are home on a furlough.

TEACHERS MEET

Massachusetts Association Favors Teachers Tenure Bill

The annual meeting of the Massachusetts Teachers' Federation was held at Riverbank Court, Cambridge, on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 10. Officers were elected as follows: President, Ernest Makechnie, West Somerville; Vice-Presidents, Belle F. Batchelder, Lowell, and Harry R. Smalley, Fall River; Treasurer, Howard W. Poor, Reading; Retiring Directors, re-elected for three years, Raymond H. Cook, New Bedford; Henry H. Harris, Lowell; Walter L. Chapman, Somerville. The Honorary Members are Dr. David Snedden, Commissioner of Education; W. I. Hamilton, agent of the State Board of Education; Dr. A. E. Winslow, editor of the Journal of Education. The Federation which was organized in 1911 as the result of a conference at the residence of Mr. Makechnie, 238 Elm street, West Somerville, has grown from a little league of suburban teachers' clubs into a great state organization numbering 43 separate associations and a total membership of more than 8,000 teachers.

President Makechnie presided at the Riverbank Court banquet and meeting and introduced the speakers of the afternoon: Professor Paul H. Hanus, Harvard University; Mrs. Ella Lyman Cabot, State Board of Education; Mrs. Emily E. G. Brown and Mrs. Mabel R. Tabor of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs.

That the subject of a teachers' tenure bill will for a second time come before the legislature was indicated in certain passages of President Makechnie's report. He said: "Tenure for teachers is a comparatively new issue in this country, only a few states, so far as I know, having as yet enacted such legislation. New Jersey, Louisiana, California, and Oregon may be mentioned in this class. We have an opportunity, therefore, to do some constructive legislative work along these lines, which may be an example for other states to follow."

"Our Committee on Legislation would be glad to receive suggestions in reference to a new draft of our bill, for certainly this is one of the most important subjects ever brought before the teachers of this Commonwealth. In looking forward to the coming season I hope our legislative committee will work with the same determination and enthusiasm which won success for our pension bill. The activities of these committees should reach into adjacent territory where teachers have not yet made a connection with the Federation."

WATER MAKES A DIFFERENCE

Use of Hard or Soft is Something for Serious Consideration When Cooking is in Order.

All cooks do not understand the different effects produced by hard and soft water in cooking meat and vegetables. Peas and beans cooked in hard water, containing lime or gypsum, will not boil tender, because these substances harden vegetable casels. Many vegetables, as onions, boil nearly tasteless in soft water, because all the flavor is boiled out. The addition of salt often checks this, as in the case of onions, causing the vegetables to retain their peculiar flavoring principles, besides such nutritious matter as might be lost in soft water. For extracting the juice of meat to make a broth or soup, soft water, unaltered, and cold at first, is the best, for it much more readily penetrates the tissue, but for boiling, where the juices should be retained, hard water, or soft water salted, is preferable. The meat should be put in while the water is boiling, so as to seal up the pores at once.

If you are in doubt about the water, the common test is soap. Hard water will not make a suds freely, while soft water will. Once acquainted with the nature of the cooking water, you can govern yourself accordingly in cooking.

GOOD FOR AFTERNOON TEA

Dainty Chocolate Cake That Has the Indorsement of the Best French Cooks.

A little French chocolate cake which comes from a New Orleans cook makes a delightful afternoon tea cake. It is called "petits choux au chocolat." Put a quarter of a pint of hot water in a small saucepan with two ounces of butter and one of sugar. When this boils add gradually two ounces and a half of finely sifted flour and stir quickly until the mixture is quite stiff.

Take the saucepan from the fire and stir the contents for about ten minutes, then add two eggs, one at a time. Beat the mixture up with a wooden spoon and put it aside to cool. Butter a baking sheet, lay the paste on it with a teaspoon in small round balls, plum size. Bake about twenty minutes in a moderate oven. When cold make an incision in the side of each and fill with whipped cream flavored with vanilla. Before serving glaze each separately with chocolate icing.

Revival of the Quilt.

From unbleached muslin cut squares to be used for a foundation on which to build the design. For instance, if you choose to piece a fan quilt, cut a piece of material of a plain color in the shape of a quarter circle and stitch it across one corner of the square. Four patches radiate from this to form a half fan, which, when joined to a similar block, completes the semi-circle and the fan.

When the required number of blocks are finished, join them together, forming the large top of the quilt, and line with a layer of cotton. Over this stitch the lining, and the quilt is ready for quilting.

California Irish Stew.

Cut neck pieces from ribs, or neck of mutton and put in a round bottomed Scotch kettle with about half a cupful of hot water. Watch carefully, and as the water boils away, brown the meat in its own fat. Then pour in boiling water to cover. Have ready tender carrots, celery, turnip and onion cut in uniform pieces, add to the meat together with a cupful or more of tomato and a little parsley. These go in about twenty minutes before serving. When done and tender add a little green pepper, thicken slightly with flour, season and serve.

Cracker Puffs.

Split six crackers and soak them for half an hour in cold water. They will be twice their usual size. Take them out with a skimmer, being careful not to break or crack them, and place them in a buttered pan. The inner side up. Butter tops of crackers and place in a hot oven. The oven must be very hot or the crackers will not puff. In half an hour they should be well puffed and brown. Serve them with any kind of stewed or pressed fruit with whipped cream, if desired, but they are nice without the cream.

Quaker Muffins.

One cup scalded milk poured on two-thirds cup rolled oats. Let stand five minutes, add three tablespoons sugar, one-half teaspoon salt, two tablespoons lard or melted butter. Sift in 1½ cups flour, four teaspoons baking powder. Mix thoroughly, add one well-beaten egg. Bake in hot greased gem pans twenty to twenty-five minutes.

Some Cookery Hints.

The best way to warm up a joint is to wrap it in thickly greased paper and keep it covered while in the oven. By having it covered the steam will prevent the meat from becoming hard and dry.

To hurry the cooking process of any thing cooked in a double boiler add salt to the water in the outer boiler.

Ham a La Venison.

This is a dainty for Sunday night suppers. Put one tablespoon butter and one tablespoon currant jelly in a frying pan over a rather slow fire. When melted, lay in some slices of cooked ham, and fry each side until almost ready to burn. Remove to a hot platter and garnish with parsley.

LEFT-OVERS MADE INVITING

Sauce Used With Meats, Fish and Vegetables Gave Them Appealing Touch.

John calls left-overs "stale, flat and unprofitable." Can it be that you have tried giving them to him in their depressing, undigested state? Of course, hash and croquettes are such familiar masks that they may be said to be no longer effective, but even they may be made alluring to the eye and satisfying to the inner man by the addition of a sauce—a really artistic sauce. The "Cook Book of Leftovers" (Harper's) has twenty-five different recipes for sauces in one of its seventeen chapters.

Some are good for scalloped dishes and omelets, others for vegetables and boiled fish. Each solves a host of problems of how to make over the left-over, so that it will be better than new.

There are also general directions for sauce makers—how quickly or slowly to pour the vinegar and oil when making a French dressing; just what is the trick that makes sauces of a delectable smoothness, etc.

Egg Sauce—Here, for instance, is a novel egg sauce:

Place two eggs in rapidly boiling water, cover tightly, remove to cooler part of stove, and let stand six minutes. The whites should be solid and yolks soft. Beat in the soft yolks and add the chopped whites to one cup of white sauce No. 2. Just before serving add one teaspoonful chopped parsley. Serve with boiled fish.

The white sauce referred to is made of the following ingredients: Two tablespoonsful butter, two tablespoonsful flour, one-quarter teaspoonful salt, one-eighth teaspoonful white pepper, one cup milk.

BEST WAY TO WASH FLANNEL

Never Rub Laundry Soap Directly on Material as It Makes It Stiff.

Some one asked directions for washing flannels, some time ago, stating that four or five visits to the laundry always spoiled hers. Here is my solution of her difficulty.

We all know that great care must be taken in washing flannels to prevent their becoming thick, stiff, and often gummy in texture. I never rub laundry soap directly on flannels, as it causes them to stiffen almost perceptibly, and gumminess is produced by the soap not being well-rinsed out. Passing from warm suds to cold rinsing water will soon change the softest flannels into cloth like heavy felt. The practice of using the suds in which other clothes have been washed or boiled is not to be recommended. It pays to take clean, fresh suds for flannels, and give your attention to them.

I collect all flannel articles, blankets, etc., for a separate washing, and shake and brush them well before putting them in the tub. Have a clean, hot suds, made with pure white soap, and soft water, put these articles in, stirring well, let them remain until the hand can be borne in the water, then lift each garment or article up and down, squeezing and otherwise manipulating it, but rubbing as little as can be avoided, and only on the soiled places. Squeeze as dry as you can with the hands, or pass through the wringer into a tub of clean water of the same temperature, putting the white flannels through a third water, also hot, and bled. Dry as quickly as possible, pulling into shape while yet damp.

A little ammonia added to the water in which the flannels are to be washed is excellent to prevent shrinkage.

Fruit Tarts.

Any kind of bottled or canned fruit, one pound of flour, one-half pound tinned marrow, sugar, water. Fill dish with marrow, add sugar in proportion; put the flour into a basin and rub in the marrow with a teaspoon of powdered white sugar (a little baking powder may be added if liked). Wet up with enough water to make a stiff paste, roll out and cover the tarts in the usual way; bake in a gentle oven. With some fruits, like gooseberries, currants, etc., there is too much juice and a little should be left out or it will boil over and spoil the appearance of the tart. A half hour to bake tart. Make one medium tart.

To Soften Old Paint Brushes.

Soak the brush for two days in raw linseed oil and then wash in very hot turpentine. It may be necessary to repeat once or twice, if the brush is very hard.

Economical Chicken Pie.

Cut chicken in pieces; parboil one hour. Remove chicken and add to water in which it is boiled a little salt, pepper and a teaspoonful of flour, thickened with two tablespoons milk. Line a deep dish with a very nice paste, put in the chicken and turn over it the gravy which you have prepared. Cover it with paste immediately, make a small hole in center, ornament with cross strips of paste and bake 45 minutes.

To Keep Iron From Rusting.

A good paint to keep the iron and steel tools from rusting may be made as follows: Five ounces of camphor and five pounds of melted lard; skin the top off and paint the tool with a rag, or smear it on with a brush. Will keep iron or steel bright for an indefinite time.

Rice Muffins.

Take one quart of sour milk, three well-beaten eggs, one-eighth teaspoonful of salt, a teaspoonful of soda, enough flour to thicken.

ON SERVING CHERRIES

MANY USES FOR THIS DELICIOUS EARLY FRUIT.

Served Fresh and Cold for Breakfast They Are Both Appetizing and Healthful—Various Ways of Cooking.

Cherries are the first of the fruits of the summer—the first, that is, of the fruits of the summer trees. Plums, pears and peaches are still served only in the foams of dream-land when cherries are ripe. Hence, they are generally greeted with an enthusiasm not bestowed on any of the later fruits.

Cherries served fresh and cold on their own stems for breakfast are so delicious that no other way of serving them at that meal could be better. But pitted and sprinkled with sugar and a bit of lemon juice, they serve as an appetizer and at the same time lose none of their delicate flavor. Another way of preparing them for breakfast is to pit them and mix them with sugar—in the proportion of half a cupful to a pint of cherries—and cook them until they are just tender. Then pour them over buttered toast.

Cherry soup has been made, but it could hardly be more than the result of an effort to serve cherries in a new and unexpected way. However, at every course save the soup course cherries can be legitimately served.

Cherry cocktails are made in this way: Stone ripe cherries, chop them fine, add a tablespoonful of lemon juice to each cupful of cherries, sweeten them to taste and serve them, either in cocktail glasses or else in lemon skin cups, made by removing part of one side of a sufficient number of lemons, cutting a bit of the rind from the other side, removing all the pulp and juice and washing and chilling the shells.

Cherries served with French toast can be used as an entree. To make them cut rings half an inch thick from bread and soak them in beaten egg yolk, milk, a little sugar and a pinch of salt. Roll the bread rings in crumbed bread and macaroons and brown them in butter. Stew ripe cherries with sugar enough to sweeten them, drain and pile in the middle of a dish. Surround them with the fried bread rings and serve them with the juice of the cherries thickened with a little cornstarch and flavored with orange juice.

Cherry fritters can be served with meat as a separate course or as dessert. To make them prepare a batter of a cupful of flour, a teaspoonful of baking powder mixed with a tablespoonful of melted butter, a well-beaten egg and enough water to make a thin batter. Stew ripe cherries until they are just tender—but do not cook them to pieces—and sweeten them. Drain them and add them to the batter. Drop it in spoonfuls into deep fat and fry brown. The juice drained from the cherries can be substituted for water to moisten the fritter batter.

Puff Pudding.
One egg, two tablespoons butter, one-half cup sweet milk, one cup flour, one teaspoon cream of tartar, one-half teaspoon soda, two tablespoons sugar, one-half cup chopped raisins. Beat the egg and cream with the sugar and butter, add the milk and stir till dissolved. Sift the flour with the soda and cream of tartar and beat into liquid mixture. Put the raisins in your sieve and add a few spoonfuls of flour to them; shake until the flour is all out, then turn them into the pudding and stir thoroughly. Steam for an hour and serve warm with liquid pudding sauce; any you prefer.

Quarter of a Lamb.
This joint can scarcely be too fresh when dressed. Remove the scrag, the shankbone and the chinebone and crack the ribs halfway between the edge of the breast and the spine. Lay the meat down to a quick fire and baste plentifully from the time of its being warmed through to that when it is ready for the table. Like all young meat, lamb should be thoroughly cooked. About ten minutes before it is taken up dredge a little flour over it and froth and brown it nicely. Serve the lamb, when cold, with a cut ruffe on the shankbone. A forequarter weighing ten pounds will require from two to two and one-half hours to roast.

Save Your Celery Leaves.
Save your celery leaves, wash carefully and dry them on the back of the stove. When thoroughly dried rub into a powder and put away in boxes. This is excellent for chicken soup, stews, scalloped tomato or in any dish fresh celery could be used.

White Electric Lamp.
The electric lamp in white is especially pretty in the white bedroom. The standard is painted white and enameled, and the white wicker shade has a lining of silk the color of the furnishings or drapery in the room.

Suitable Starch for Laces.
Mix a small quantity of corn flour smoothly with cold water. This will be found excellent for lightly stiffening all delicate and lace fabrics, including veils and neckwear of sheer materials.

Ironing Hint.
A little kerosene oil added to the starch just before taking from the fire will not only prevent the irons from sticking when ironing, but gives the clothes a nice gloss.

COOKED IN NEW WAYS

THREE GOOD RECIPES FOR PREPARATION OF CHICKEN.

Will Be Found Pleasant Change From the Generally Accepted Methods—Most Delicious Served With Asparagus—Special Stew.

Chicken, Waldorf Style.—Boil a chicken until it is tender; take it from the fire and remove all white meat, which cut into small dice-shaped pieces, adding two truffles, cut in the same way. Put the mixture into a saucepan with a pint of fresh thick cream, season with salt and pepper and allow to boil for twelve minutes, then thicken with two raw egg yolks diluted in two large spoonfuls of Madeira wine. Stir this thoroughly in with the chicken, also two ounces of fresh butter added in small bits, and mingle without letting it boil again, then serve.

Chicken, Asparagus.—Cut a chicken into quarters and put into a saucepan with a little butter to fry. When it begins to steam dust over with a little flour and fry to a pale brown, now sprinkling over a teaspoonful of chopped parsley and a little salt. Take a couple bunches of asparagus, break off the tender parts, wash them well in salted water, boil slightly in more salt water, and drain. Put a lump of butter and one tablespoonful of cream into a saucepan over a slow fire, place half the asparagus on top, dust with pepper, and then arrange the pieces of chicken over it; cover with the remainder of the asparagus and put a few pieces of butter on top. Pour over all one breakfast cupful of cream and stew gently till done. Turn the whole out into a dish, garnish with croutons of fried bread and serve.

Stewed Chicken, Matelote.—Singe a fowl, draw and cut into pieces, rub with butter, and flour and brown in an oven. Put four tablespoonfuls of butter into a frying pan and in it fry a carrot, a parsnip and an onion, all cut in pieces. Place the fowl in a stewpan with the vegetables and one quart of white stock. In the butter in which the vegetables were fried, brown two tablespoonfuls of flour, and stir this in with the fowl. Mash the liver, cooked separately, and stir in with the fowl also, along with a tablespoonful of capers and salt and pepper. Simmer slowly for three-quarters of an hour, add a quarter of a pound of mushrooms cut into small pieces and simmer for a quarter of an hour longer. Serve garnished with mashed potatoes.

Apples and Red Jelly.
Take six good-sized apples and core them. Put two cloves into each apple and as much granulated sugar as it will hold. Place them in a baking pan, without touching, and add a cup of water or more, as you think fit. Look at them often and try to keep them whole. When done, take out carefully and place in dish. Strain the sirup they were cooked in and put in another saucepan, with a little gelatine (dissolved) and a few drops of red coloring. Boil till quite clear, and then put around apples. Set away to cool till supper time.

Roast Beef and Nut Hash.
Hash in Pastry Ramekins—Chop remains of cold roast beef fine; season to taste, add minced onion, cook slowly (adding little water or milk) until mixture thickens. Have ready baked individual pastry shapes; fill these with hash, dot with butter. Stand 15 minutes in oven. Serve hot.

Nut Hash.—Mix thoroughly one cup chopped walnuts and peanuts mixed one cup bread crumbs and one cup nicely seasoned hot mashed potatoes. Add milk to moisten. Brown in oven. Serve with cream or tomato sauce.

Cherry Puffs.
One-half cup butter, one cup sugar, two eggs, one cup sweet milk, two cups flour, two tablespoonfuls baking powder, stewed cherries. Cream, butter and sugar, add eggs, and flour, and baking powder alternately with milk. Butter small china baking cups, add teaspoonful cherries, then batter, then more cherries, and have cups two-thirds full, with batter on top. Place cups in pan of water, and bake in oven twenty minutes. Serve with hot, foamy sauce, or cherry juice.

How to Cook Lamb Kidneys.
When you buy lamb kidneys have the butcher leave all the fat on them. Wash them and put in a baking pan with a little salt and pepper and bake about one-half hour in a good hot oven.

Just before serving, cut open the fat carefully and remove the kidney; and I hope you will enjoy them, as my folks do. Cooked this way they lose all the strong flavor that they usually have.

Hamburg Loaf.
One and one-half pounds of meat, three slices of bread crumbled, one-quarter pound fat pork chopped fine, one egg beaten, salt and pepper to suit taste. Place alternately in pan meat and dressing, some pork on top. Bake slowly one hour or less. Pour one half cup of water over it.

Kiss Pudding.
One quart of milk, three tablespoons of cornstarch, yolks of four eggs, one-half cup sugar and a little salt; put part of the milk, salt and sugar on the stove and let it boil; dissolve the cornstarch in rest of the milk; stir into the milk and while boiling add the yolks, flavor with vanilla.

EDITORIAL

While the investigation of the expenditures of the Street Department will probably be straightened out as a matter of bookkeeping, there is a deeper question involved, and one which goes right down to the fundamental basis of our system of government.

It has always been considered that the board of aldermen were the appropriate body, and the city charter expressly prohibits the incurring of any liability or the expenditure of any money in excess of the appropriation therefor. But what is the situation
if the Street Department, for instance,
with funds appropriated for the entire street cleaning and repairs of the year, expends so much money during the summer months for repairs, that there is insufficient funds left for actual street cleaning necessities for the balance of the year? The aldermen must then face the dilemma of either making additional appropriations for street cleaning, or allowing our streets to become unsightly and dirty. In this case, it would appear that the Street Department, by its actions, is the real appropriating power and that the aldermen act as its puppets. Fortunately, this situation has never arisen, but it is one which can happen
at any time, in several city departments. The present controversy touches this but slightly as it really concerns the effect of the granting power of the aldermen, but it is a question which ought to be carefully considered and some workable plan adopted for the coming year, when with the new statute governing the making of appropriations, the influence of the aldermen as representatives of the tax payers is greatly curtailed.

On the state ballot next month, a referendum vote will be taken on four measures, all of which I propose to discuss before election day.

Probably the easiest one, and yet, a measure which may be thought to involve the fundamental question of woman's suffrage, is the proposed constitutional amendment to allow women to act as notaries public. This measure is NOT a question of woman suffrage. It is merely a business proposition. The state of Massachusetts allows women to practice law in its courts, and the amendment to the constitution, if adopted will allow, such women, as the governor and council
believe are fit to be able to take acknowledgements on legal papers and to administer the oath for such purposes. You should vote YES on this question.

Another question for the voters of Newton to settle is the acceptance of an act regarding the method of removing our city officials from office. At the present time, the mayor of Newton, can remove any executive officer,
without appeal, and without stating his reasons. Such arbitrary power in the hands of an unscrupulous mayor, would greatly injure the city, and it is a power which is more fitted for Russia than for America. The proposed act, merely gives the board of aldermen a veto power over removals by the mayor, and is clearly a wise measure to accept. If any city official deserves removal, no board of aldermen would vote to prevent it, while if a capable official was in the bad graces
of the mayor, the aldermen could act
far more judiciously than the chief executive. Vote YES on this question, also.

For every surplus there is a human want.

The business of the

UNITARIAN CLUB

Reminiscences of A Summer Abroad Given
By Members

Reminiscences of a summer in Europe were told to the Unitarian Club
at Channing Church last evening by five of its members, four of whom were members of the Sixth International Congress of Religious Progress, held at Paris in July. In presenting the first speaker, Mr. Harry F. Stimpson of Newton Centre, President George H. Ellis extended him the congratulations of the Club on the birth of a son, who, Mr. Ellis hoped, would some time become a member of the Club.

Mr. Stimpson gave an interesting account of a journey through Europe
which he took in the early summer,
with special observations on the effects of the new tariff in certain branches of the steel trade. He had found that the foreign manufacturers were not prepared to increase their output to this country, but would be likely to raise their price as much as the tariff had been cut, so that while the government would lose the revenue,
the consumer would find no reduction of cost.

Mr. Frank H. Burt gave an account of the Paris Congress and described the trip of the delegates to Paris and the tour which a section of the party
made afterward through Switzerland
and Italy. Mr. Fred W. Stone exhibited a large number of lantern slides illustrating this journey, as well as the trip down the Rhine to Cologne and Holland.

Mr. Oliver M. Fisher in a few words emphasized some of the benefits of foreign travel, especially the rest and freedom from care and the broader knowledge of humanity. He dwelt on the terrible burden which military preparations impose upon the great nations, our own included, and hoped that mankind would soon wake up to a realization of the needless waste
involved in armaments.

Rev. Dr. Charles W. Wendte, secretary of the Paris Congress, received a hearty ovation. He gave a delightful account of his journey through Spain, illustrated by beautiful lantern slides. The history of Spain, he said is a sad one, with its story of the different races which have been conquered and expelled, one after another. The country, only one-twelfth less in area than France, has but half the population of the latter country. The soil is fertile, yet many of the peasants are so poor that they live in the merest shacks or even in holes in the ground. Bigotry and illiteracy have been a terrible check to the development of the country. The scenery is beautiful and the quaint old Moorish cities with their wonders of architecture make it a most charming country for the traveler.

Mr. Burt's remarks concerning the Paris Congress were in part as follows:

Whoever would write the history of the International Congress of Liberal Religions, or as we now call it,
the International Congress of Religious Progress, should go back several decades prior to its organization. He will find that Rev. Charles W. Wendte, its organizer and secretary, was born in Boston, of German parents, that he spent his maturing years in California, and, having been under the influence of Theodore Parker and Starr
King, he entered the Unitarian ministry. To his task he brought the inherited ideal of the Fatherland, the spirit of transcendental Boston and the broad outlook and generous sympathies of the Far West. And so in him have been mingled the elements which in the fulness of time have enabled him to bring together in loving union
the liberal scholars and thinkers of the world.

It has been my fortune to see in session several important International bodies, including three sessions of
the International Congress of Religious Progress; and I have had impressed upon me again and again the significance of such meetings, and their contribution to the cause of universal peace. Several hundred such bodies are meeting every year, for the discussion of commercial, technical and scholastic topics, and new ties of friendship are thus formed between individuals from the various countries,
which will do more to make war impossible than formal declarations of kings and ambassadors.

In the Paris Congress the figure best known to Americans was the Senior Vice-President, Rev. Charles Wagner, author of "The Simple Life."
He is somewhat past middle age, general of manner and eloquent and impressive in speech. Apparently it was a great pleasure to him to meet Americans and to be reminded of incidents of his visit to this country. He presided at the opening session, also at the peace meeting held in his own church, the Foyer de l'Ame, and was toastmaster at the banquet at the Hotel Latina.

The opening session was remarkable for the number of nationalities represented, there being speakers
from at least nine different countries,
using four different languages and representing four of the great religions of the world.

The meetings were too small to make any profound impression on a great Catholic city like Paris, and yet
they must have been of inestimable value to the Liberal Protestants of France—a minority wing of a minority church. It was a great opportunity for giving them the sense of comradeship with the great thinkers and broad-minded souls throughout the world.

HIS GREAT KNOWLEDGE

By NELLIE MULHERN.

Mrs. Pollard looked up from the closely written, transparent sheets she was reading at the breakfast table.
"Adelaide says that if I write her immediately after getting this letter I'll be able to catch her in London before she sails. She says to address her in care of the British Linen bank. Odd name, isn't it?"

"British Linen!" repeated Pollard.
"That can't be right, Jane. That's a highly feminine name for a bank."
He laughed indulgently.

"Feminine or not, that's what she's written quite plainly."

"Quite plainly!" scoffed Pollard.

"Adelaide was never known to write plainly. And why in the name of all that's legible does she use such diaphanous paper? I suppose she is trying to save enough on her postage to pay the duty on the Paris outfit she's bringing home. It would take a Philadelphia lawyer to decipher that letter of hers. No wonder you imagined that absurd name for a bank!"

"Imagined! It's perfectly plain.
Look at it yourself. Perhaps with your superior masculine intelligence you can make something else out of it besides British Linen bank."

"Shouldn't wonder," replied Pollard, entirely unperturbed by his wife's good natured irony. "Why, now, let's see. British Linen bank—that's what it is."

"British London! Do you think that's a more reasonable name? Why,
British London is perfectly ridiculous.
Everybody knows London is British.
Can you imagine a bank called the United States Chicago?"

"Um—well that's different. Oh, I see now. It's British Line bank.
That's it, of course."

Mrs. Pollard took the letter back into her own hand and scrutinized the disputed address carefully. "It doesn't look like 'Line' to me, Jim, and besides, what possible meaning could British Line have? That's not a pla-sible name at all."

"It's vastly more plausible than 'Linen,' my dear." Pollard rescued his newspaper with the air of having said
the final word.

For a few moments Mrs. Pollard allowed the subject to rest. Then she said: "I should be dreadfully annoyed if I misdirected my letter to Adelaide, for she is counting on hearing from home before she sails. I wouldn't disappoint her for the world."

WOMEN'S CLUBS

MISS GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

Local Announcements

Mrs. J. B. Studley of Allerton road will be the hostess for the meeting of the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club on Saturday, Oct. 18.

The regular meeting of the Executive Board of the Newton Federation will be held at the New Church parlors, Newtonville, on Monday morning, Oct. 20, at 10.15. Miss Margaret Hatfield will speak of the West Newton Music School Settlement.

The Newton Highlands Monday Club will meet with Mrs. G. M. Stone of Walnut street on Oct. 20th.

On Monday afternoon, Oct. 20, the C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands will meet with Miss Webster of Chester street.

Tuesday, Oct. 21, Mrs. True Worthy White will address the Auburndale Review Club.

Local Happenings

The Newtonville Woman's Guild opened its season with a reception held at the home of Mrs. W. H. Lucas on Kirkstall road on Monday afternoon. In the receiving line besides Mrs. Lucas, were Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, the present president, and four ex-presidents, Mrs. H. H. Carter, Mrs. W. B. Hollings, Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden and Mrs. E. C. Adams. Mrs. Lucas's spacious home lent itself charmingly to the occasion and all present enjoyed the beautiful view to be had in every direction. The Social Committee, under the direction of Mrs. J. G. Anderson, chairman, were in charge of the ushering and of the refreshments served both in the dining room and in the sun parlor. The regular work of the club does not begin until November 4, when Mrs. Irving O. Palmer will be the speaker.

Owing to the holiday on Monday the meeting of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. was postponed until Tuesday afternoon, when Miss Cora Cobb continued the study of the Islands of the Sea with a paper on Chios and Lesbos, the birthplaces of epic and lyric poetry. Miss Cobb dwelt particularly upon the poets, Sappho and Alcaeus, and altogether made the afternoon one of great interest.

On Tuesday morning, October 21, Mrs. True Worthy White will lecture before the Auburndale Review Club at the home of Miss Lucy Burr on Hancock street upon "John Galsworthy."

On Tuesday afternoon, Children's Day was observed by the Monday Club of Newton Highlands at the residence of Mrs. William S. Jackson. The children of the members gave a pleasing entertainment apropos of Columbus Day, under the direction of Mrs. Wm. E. Bowen and Mrs. F. S. Fairchild, including a song and chorus by Ruth Bosson and Ruth Bartlett, Flora Bosson, Marion Barker, Marion Griswold, Betty Fairchild, Margaret Fairchild, Mary Jackson, Esther Jackson, Helen Kimball, Laura Thompson, Ruth Thompson, George Barker, Seward Luitweller, Tod Wallace, Teddy Barnes, George Chase, and Blanchard Robbins, recitation by Miss Flora Bosson, violin solo by James Armstrong, a sketch in two parts, the characters being taken by Seward Luitweller, Tod Wallace, Blanchard Robbins, George Chase, James Armstrong, Miss Martha Jackson, Catherine Armstrong, Ruth Bosson and Joseph Thompson, drum solos by Tod Wallace and closing with the pantomime "America." Mrs. F. S. Fairchild, soloist and assisted by Betty Fairchild, Helen Kimball, Ruth Bartlett, Marion Barker and Flora Bosson.

After the entertainment refreshments were served, followed by dancing.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY, Y. M. C. A.

The regular October meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Newton Y. M. C. A. will be held Oct. 29, at 3 P. M. in the Y. M. C. A. parlors. Rev. J. T. Stocking of Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, will speak on "Guarding our boys." All members and friends who are interested are cordially invited.

One of the interesting educational and recreational opportunities offered to the women of Greater Boston this winter is the second series of Saturday morning lectures on "Woman and the State" which the School Voters' League is to give at Ford Hall on eight consecutive Saturdays beginning October 25. Last year's course was universally pronounced the best of the kind ever offered in Boston and the League feels itself to be meeting a real need in arranging a similar set of lectures for this season. Nearly every phase of woman's activity and of modern thought concerning it will be discussed in these conferences, the speaker in every instance being an expert of national—and often international—reputation.

LODGES

A dancing party was given Monday evening in Odd Fellows Hall, Newtonville, under the auspices of Mr. Ida Conwell, H. A. The hall was very prettily decorated with American flags and Japanese lanterns. The committee in charge of the affair was comprised of the following members of the Order: Messrs. Charles H. Milliken, George W. Mills, S. K. Billings, Charles E. Ryall, A. A. Wilson and Walter F. Sisson.

N. H. S.
Miss Bessie Talbot Salmon sang several songs most acceptably Wednesday morning at the usual assembly of the High School pupils.

CORRESPONDENCE

D. A. R.

Editor Newton Graphic.
Dear Sir:—It seems as if there might be an understanding between the parents of grammar school children and the Superintendent of Schools as regards rainy day sessions in Newton. In about 6 years the no school signal has been given less than half a dozen times. While all surrounding cities are giving their signals our small children have to start out and get their feet and ankles wet if they stay at home. No pupil should be marked down in recitations because the weather is so bad as to force them to be "stay at home."
The health of the children is more important than a few hours of recitations, especially in the higher grades, where so many home studies could keep the pupil busy at home.
Yours respectfully,
PARENT.

FULLER-CHANDLER

The wedding of Miss Gladys Chandler, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Chandler of Winthrop street, West Newton, and Mr. George S. Fuller of Shaw street, West Newton, took place at the Unitarian Church in that village on Wednesday evening, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Julian C. Jaynes.
The bride's attendants were Miss Harriet Burbank of West Newton as maid of honor and Mrs. Louis Harding of Brooklyn, N. Y., Miss Therese Rasmussen of West Newton, Miss Mildred Wyman of Geneva, N. Y., Miss Adeline Koehler of St. Paul and Miss Florence West of West Roxbury as bridesmaids. The best man was the groom's brother, Mr. Joseph C. Fuller of Perth Amboy, N. J.

A reception followed at Brae-Burn Country Club, where the ushers were Messrs. John C. Jones, Jr. of Brookline, Alfred E. Fuller, Philip W. Davis, Alfred W. Davis, Dr. Harold B. Chandler and Charles H. Chandler of West Newton, brothers of the bride.
Mr. and Mrs. Fuller, upon returning from a wedding journey, will make their home at Forest Hills.

RECEPTION

The Newton Channing Branch of the Woman's Alliance gave a reception Tuesday evening to Rev. Harry Lutz and his wife in the parlors of the Unitarian Church.

In spite of the showery weather it was a marked success in both numbers and hospitality. The parlors were richly decorated with palms and salvia, which called forth the admiration of all present.

At intervals during the evening the male quartet of the church sang and male quartet women's mandolin and banjo club of Newton furnished music that was greatly enjoyed.
In the receiving line with Rev. and Mrs. Lutz were Mr. George M. Nash, chairman of the standing committee, and Mrs. Nash, and Mrs. Isabelle W. Hardon, president of the Alliance.
The committee included Mrs. Oliver Fisher, Mrs. A. W. B. Huff and Mrs. W. D. Tripp, under the chairmanship of Miss Maude B. Henry.

50TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Theo. L. Mason, formerly of Newton, who for the past nine years have made their home in Falmouth, celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage on October 15. They were well remembered with golden gifts and congratulations by many relatives and friends.
A reception was held in the evening, at which were present members of their family, relative and friends to wish them well.

PAPER WEDDING

A large company of relatives and friends assembled Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Sweet, on Washington street, West Newton, the occasion being an informal celebration of the first anniversary of their wedding.
The parlors were very attractively decorated with autumn flowers and foliage, and the evening was passed most pleasantly.

A fine program, consisting of vocal and instrumental music, selections, readings and recitations was arranged for the entertainment, and refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Sweet were showered with congratulations, and received many pretty and unique gifts.
Guests were present from Boston, Milton, Dorchester, Natick and the Newtons.

The Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R., held its opening meeting of the season on Tuesday the 14th of October. The members were entertained at the Nye Park Inn, Auburndale, by Mrs. E. Arthur Robinson, Mrs. John N. Rice, Mrs. Edward D. Reed and Mrs. Henry A. Robbins.

The meeting was not a large one, but those members who did attend despite the very severe storm that afternoon, enjoyed thoroughly the address given by Dr. Arthur W. Pelrice, Principal of Dean Academy, Franklin. Dr. Pelrice told many interesting and amusing experiences connected with his recent visit to the Philippines and graphically contrasted the condition of the native under Spanish rule—and the conditions under which he lives today.

Mrs. Morton of West Newton sang two songs, accompanied by Miss Alice Morton.

The Chapter sent two delegates to the State Conference of Mothers' and Parents' Teachers' Associations at Gloucester, Mrs. Francis Newhall and Mrs. F. B. Hill, and Mrs. Newhall gave a very interesting report of those meetings.

The following delegates will represent the Lucy Jackson Chapter at the State Meeting in King's Chapel, October 1st, besides the Regent, Mrs. Charles D. Meserve, Mrs. Friend, Mrs. Pulsifer, Mrs. Lowe, and Miss Eager. Alternates elected were Miss Van Wagenen, Mrs. Robbins, Mrs. F. Newhall, and Mrs. G. I. Jones.

DANCE AT NEWTON CENTRE

The dance given for the Endowment Fund of the Boston University School of Medicine, at Bray Hall, Saturday, gives great promise of being a most delightful affair.

With Urquid's Orchestra to furnish the music and Newton, Brookline and Boston eager to dance, the affair assures a most enjoyable time to the younger as well as the older people who will attend.

LODGES

Several Newton residents have recently united with the Charles River Lodge of Good Templars of Waltham, of which Wm. H. Rand of West Newton is Chief Templar. The lodge will celebrate its 50th anniversary Nov. 3, at 8 o'clock in Kingsbury Hall. All past members of the order and any others interested in the work of this noble order are invited to attend. The International Order of Good Templars is the largest temperance order in the world. Newton has no Good Templar lodge, for the simple reason that there are no available halls in which to hold meetings, which can be procured at a rental within the means of Good Templar lodges, as their dues are necessarily very low. In Waltham it is made possible through the kindness of a philanthropic lady who owns the hall in which temperance organizations meet, the only expense being lighting and heating. Is it possible that in our wealthy city there is no one who will emulate the example of our Waltham friend and make it possible for temperance organizations to exist? We are willing to do the work, why shouldn't those who haven't the time, but the means, do their part in reclaiming the fallen and save the young pure and virtuous from falling into the snares of the tempter.

AUBURNDALE REAL ESTATE

The following sales are reported by E. Burnard Squire. The Emery estate, 21 Central street, valued by the assessors at $5000, has been conveyed to Lina G. Anderson who has bought for a home. Charles H. Johnson has sold his estate, 15 Orris street, to Hattie A. Burgess who has already taken possession; the property is assessed on $4000; the same buyer has also purchased of Lillian J. Watson 15,000 feet of land adjoining the above. The same broker has leased to Mr. Johnson for Elizabeth R. McMahon, her new cottage, No. 33 Orris street.

Mr. J. W. Messenger has taken title from the estate of Edwin B. Haskell to a lot of land on Aspen avenue adjoining the new dwelling of Mr. Frank. Mr. Messenger expects to build in the spring; the lot contains 20,000 feet and is valued at $1500.

Another transfer gone to record is from Wm. N. Swain, trustee, to Mrs. Annie H. Plummer, who buys the lot on Woodland road and Hawthorne avenue containing 16,000 square feet and valued at $2000.

SKINNER-NOYES

Miss Margaret Elizabeth Noyes, the daughter of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Edward M. Noyes of Newton Centre and Mr. Ross Hunt Skinner of Pittsburgh, Pa., was married Monday evening at the First Church, Newton Centre, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. An unusual feature of the ceremony was the fact that three clergymen took part. Rev. Edward M. Noyes, D.D., pastor of the First Church, father of the bride, Rev. C. W. Skinner of Washington, D. C., father of the groom, and Rev. William T. Thompson of Drew Theological Seminary, Prof. H. C. McDougall of Wellesley College played the organ at the church.

The matron of honor was Mrs. E. C. Noyes of Madison, N. J., and the bridesmaids, who were in pink crepe de chine, carrying a single American Beauty rose, were Miss Louise Allen of Jamaica Plain, and Miss Frances Skinner of Washington, D. C., a sister of the groom. Elizabeth Noyes and MacArthur Noyes, sister and brother of the bride, were also in the bridal party as the flower girl and ring bearer.

Mr. F. B. Stewart of Pittsburgh was the best man and the ushers were Messrs. Edward S. Noyes, a brother of the bride, and Richard C. Leland of Newton Centre. Howard A. Brewer of Worcester and Dr. Charles K. Morgan of Boston.

A wedding reception followed the ceremony at the new home of Rev. and Mrs. Noyes on Laurel street, Newton Centre. Mr. and Mrs. Skinner being assisted in receiving their friends by Rev. and Mrs. Noyes and Rev. and Mrs. Skinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Skinner will make their home in Pittsburgh, where they will be at home after January first.

POTTER-AIRTH

The wedding of Miss Elfreda May Airth, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Airth and Mr. Earl Howard Potter of Ludlow, Mass., took place Wednesday evening at the home of the bride on Barnes road, Newton, which was adorned with pink roses and hemlock for the occasion. The ceremony was performed at eight o'clock by Rev. Harrie R. Chamberlin, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Church.

The bride was gown in white embroidered oriental net over white mesh, en traine, with tulle veil and lily of the valley shower bouquet. She was unattended, except by the flower girl, Dolly Rose Swift of Newton, dressed in white with green maiden hair fern with a crown of lilies of the valley and a basket of the same flower. The bride's brother, Russell Robbins Airth, acted as page. Mr. George Raymond, of the ushers, were Messrs. James K. Laughlin, Lowell Textile School, '09, and Walker K. Prescott of Hyde Park.

A reception followed until ten o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Potter being assisted in receiving their friends by Mr. and Mrs. Airth and Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Potter. Music was furnished by Miss Margaret Barnes, piano and Miss Evelyn Barnes, violin, of the New England Conservatory of Music. Mr. and Mrs. Potter will reside in Manchester, Mass., where they will be at home after December first.

POLITICAL NOTES

At the meeting of the Newton Democratic Club and the Democratic City Committee last Monday evening, a committee was appointed to recommend a candidate for mayor at the coming city election. The Democratic Club will hold a whist and dancing party on Wednesday, Oct. 29th.

A sample ballot used last November in the state of Oregon can be seen in the Graphic office. It is 3 1/2 feet long, about 16 inches wide and besides the names of numerous candidates, contains a referendum on 38 matters, including woman suffrage, local prohibition, tax questions, establishment of various state commissions and other matters of apparent minor interest. This ballot is interesting as showing what can actually happen where the initiative and referendum are adopted.

Nomination papers for the city primaries are now ready and can be obtained from City Clerk Grant. By a change in the law, the city committees are relieved of the burden of issuing these papers. City nomination papers must be filed with the City Clerk for certification by November 1st.

vention of damage by floods be over-estimated. To be effective any system of control must treat the Ohio and its tributaries as a unit, with due regard to the effect of such control of the Ohio on the Mississippi below Cairo. To make such a comprehensive system of control practicable, efficient, and successful, a central organization for the control of rivers is needed. Such a central organization would necessarily have to be Federal, but it could not be successful without broadminded, hearty, and unselfish cooperation on the part of the States, counties, municipalities, and private interests throughout the Ohio Valley.

The report is published as Water-Supply Paper 334 and was prepared by A. H. Horton and H. J. Jackson. It includes a large number of records of stream flow and former floods, as well as illustrations of the flood of 1913. Copies may be had on application to the Director, United States Geological Survey, Washington, D. C.

DEATH OF MRS. NATHANIEL ADAMS

Mrs. Maude Lane Adams, wife of Nathaniel Adams, passed away Sunday at Newtonville, after an illness of about six months.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning at her residence on Brooke avenue. The service was conducted at 10.30 by Rev. Julian C. Jaynes, pastor of the First Unitarian Church, West Newton.

Mr. Derby Brown sang Mendelssohn's "Rest in the Lord." There was a large attendance of friends and relatives, and an abundance of beautiful floral offerings, among which was a design from the Newtonville Woman's Guild, of which Mrs. Adams was assistant secretary.

The remains were taken to her old home in Saco, Maine, for burial in the family lot in Laurel Hill Cemetery. The survivors are a husband, and one son, Mr. Eustace Lane Adams, of Newtonville.

PALESTINE LECTURE

The third lecture of the Hugh O'Donnell Lecture Course will be given in Tremont Temple, Friday evening, Oct. 24, and Saturday matinee, Oct. 25. The subject will be Palestine.

Palestine is the land of inspiration, of sublimity, of holiness, sacred above any other earthly place. The pictures which illustrate this word journey through the Holy Land show such wonderfully intimate and inspirational views as the well where Jesus and his mother daily went for water, the archway where Pilate washed his hands of the blood of this just man, Golgotha and Gethsemane. Mr. O'Donnell was accompanied in the Palestine tour by a University President, who is also a D. D., and therefore intimately acquainted with the details of the great Biblical story. The companionship proved broadening to both in double inspiration.

DEATH OF GEORGE W. SHEPARD

George W. Shepard, a member of the firm of Shepard, Norwell Company, passed away Friday at Auburn, after an illness of about six months.

The deceased had retired from active business several years ago and enjoyed good health up to last April, when he gradually began to fail. Mr. Shepard was quite prominent in musical circles and possessed a tenor voice of fine quality; he organized "The Black Warblers," a minstrel show company, and gave entertainments every winter in Boston, until a year ago, and he also assisted in local entertainments.

The funeral was held Sunday afternoon at his late residence on Central street. Rev. William C. Gordon, D.D., pastor of the Congregational Church, conducted an impressive service, using the Episcopal form, and the selections, "Gathering Home," and "God Be With You," were rendered by the Temple Quartet.

There was a very large attendance of friends and relatives including nearly all the executive staff and department heads of the store and many other Boston merchants.

Among the department heads present were Frank T. Atkins, sales manager; Miss Lillian Langshaw, and Mrs. W. T. Reel.

The pall bearers, all associates in the firm, included Franklin A. Webster, treasurer; Edward E. Cole, vice-president; George Wright, Daniel B. Strickland, Lyman Taylor and John Kelley.

The floral tributes were magnificent, the room where the casket was placed being literally banked with flowers. The burial was in the family lot at Edgehill Grove Cemetery, Framingham.

Mr. Shepard is survived by a widow.

Executer and Trustee Declining Years

You appoint as your Executor and Trustee a man in whose honesty and integrity you repose the greatest confidence and for whose sound business sense you have great respect.

But have you disposed of this matter satisfactorily? One usually selects those as old as one's self or older. The years go by rapidly and while at your decease the man you selected might possess those same qualities of honesty and integrity yet at the same time entirely lack that same quality of sound business judgment.

By appointing this Company your Executor and Trustee you will guard against the possibility of having your estate administered by an individual whose powers of business insight have been robbed of their effectiveness by declining years.

ANOTHER COAL FIRE

The fumes of gas arising from 150 tons of soft coal, which had become heated, was so strong and disagreeable yesterday in the Mason School, Newton Centre, that school was dismissed for the day.

—Samuel H. Paul, principal of the school, detected the odor of gas several days ago, growing stronger every day. On Wednesday Mr. Paul sought several men to find out the cause, and it was found that the soft coal had become heated underneath, the same as it did a few weeks ago at the Stearns School, Norantum, causing the gas to circulate throughout the school.

When the pupils assembled for the daily session yesterday, Mr. Paul found conditions such that he dismissed the school for the day, and a gang of men started immediately in shoveling the coal out in the yard to cool off.

When the brakes were all of the "Arm-strong" pattern?

The jerks of the link and pin coupling?

How you could tell as the train started the number of cars by counting the jolts?

Remember those good old days?

"NIGHTS OF GLADNESS"

Every now and then a popular song or instrumental piece rushes over the country like an inundation, sweeping all before it. It is not always easy to determine just what it is that strikes the popular fancy, but in "Nights of Gladness," recently issued by Jos. W. Stern & Co., New York, which has set two countries singing and dancing, there can be no doubt that its success is due to the real merit of the composition.

There is an irresistible swing to this new Boston Waltz. From the first bar to the last there is a dash and go and bang that compels attention; eyes sparkle and bodies sway to the tune of its lively melodies.

Throughout the country, at the cabarets and restaurants, at the vaudeville and in fact wherever music is heard this piece will be found on the program.

Its engaging dancing qualities have commanded immediate recognition and it has been selected as the standard Valse Boston at all the fashionable dances of Newport, Narragansett Pier, Deal Beach and other famous resorts.

 In the new American comedy THE STRANGE WOMAN

THE MONTESSORI METHOD OF CHILD-TEACHING

Through the efforts of Dr. Maria Montessori, of Rome, Italy, there has sprung into being a new method for the better education of young children, and a method which, I believe, will come to be recognized as the best means for the promotion of the welfare of the little ones.

Dr. Montessori's method is based on liberty for the child and we, who have watched the development of the method, know that great results have been obtained through freedom.

It is plain to be seen that a child who is sent to school, compelled to sit at an immovable desk for three or four hours at a time, and forced to listen to a teacher whether he will or no, will not become the strong man with a well-developed intellect, as will a child who is allowed to move his chair where he wishes and helps himself to the work he prefers and which, therefore, best suits him, for the Montessori child is never forced to use any part of the apparatus. No two children are alike. What appeals to one may not appeal to another, and a child cannot be persuaded or forced to feel an interest which he is incapable of feeling. The problem involved is explained and, if he shows an inclination to solve it, no effort is made to induce him.

Let me set forth, briefly, the difference between the old method and the Montessori method:

The teacher, by the old method, presumed to instruct the child and, therefore, forced his attention. In the new method the personality of the teacher disappears entirely. She must be simply an observer, ready to lend a helping hand at any moment when she may be needed, and must be endowed with keen insight in order to know when the time is ripe for her to interfere and so lead the child along the right road. Not only is this true in the case of young children, but also in the case of older children.

For instance, let us say that the child studies his geometry lesson and goes to class to recite. Perhaps the next class called will be geography and he would much rather study longer or his geometry lesson, since he has become interested, than go to class and recite on another subject. But he is not allowed to stay in his place. He must go to the class-room and get a smattering of still another subject—history. He may gain something from this frequent change of studies, but is it best to fill his mind with one thing, then another?

In the Casa Dei Bambini or Children's House, a child is allowed to work with the didactic material until he tires of it and his mind is not a confusion of facts, but he has, at the end, a well-ordered mind, and has learned to do the practical things of life at an early age and without realizing that he is working; for the Montessori school-room is filled with little workers, all busily engaged in tying bows, matching colors, or, perhaps, sweeping the floor and dusting the furniture. Here we find a child as young as two and one-half years working away at his task of buttoning a dressing-frame or placing geometrical insets.

While in Rome I had the opportunity of visiting a school shortly after it was opened and could, therefore, watch the development of the children from the first entry into the Montessori school. I remember one little fellow, possibly three years of age, who, apparently, came from a poor, unkempt home. He sat with his head on the floor most of the morning and guarded very closely a large ball which he carried wound up in his handkerchief. The little fellow was finally persuaded to sit up when he saw that the others did not sit in this manner and later taught to express as he had, I believe, struck another child. He did not care to work that day, however, and still sat hugging his ball. The next day he did nothing; and yet, I will not say he did nothing, for he may have been taking in more from his surroundings than he could have gained in any other way, for who knows the inner workings of a child's mind? The next time I visited the school, which was two days later, I saw a marked improvement in the child. He was seated at a table, deeply absorbed in placing and re-placing solid insets. I watched him with keen interest and found that, at the end of an hour, he had placed the insets correctly twelve times. This plainly shows that discipline comes through liberty and liberty is discipline.

Some ask, "Are the children allowed to do just as they please? Why? This would lead to lawlessness and anarchy." Of course not! The children are not allowed to do things which offend others, as in the case of the child striking another. In the Montessori schools all bad actions are suppressed. But there is seldom need for reproof, for each one goes cheerfully about his or her work.

These children are subject to no restraint and learn at an early age, the joy of self-dependence and the joy of serving others, for the Montessori principle is this: "That human beings reach their highest development only when, for the growth of their individuality, they have the utmost liberty that can be granted them without interfering with the rights of others. Differing individualities must not be forced into a common mould, but only guided into the highest forms of their own natural activities."

REAL ESTATE

One of the largest real estate sales in Newton for some time has just been closed through the office of Edmunds and Byfield, John Hancock Building. A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated in that part of Newton in the County of Middlesex and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, called Newtonville, being Lot Three on a plan by E. S. Smille, Surveyor, recorded Middlesex Plan Book 76, Plan 32, bounded as follows:—

Southerly by Highland Avenue Seventy and 85-100 (70.85) feet; Easterly by a private way twelve feet wide shown on said plan, one hundred and twenty (120) feet; Northerly by Lot Six on said plan, Sixty-four and 89-100 (64.89) feet; and Westerly by land now or late of Jones, One hundred twenty and 13-100 (120.13) feet.

Containing 8129 square feet of land. Together with the fee in that half of said passageway that adjoins said premises, and together with and subject to a general right of way over the whole passageway in common with other abutters.

Said premises will be sold subject to a first mortgage on which $2000, of principal is now due, from James J. Tancore to Elizabeth R. Richardson, dated May 25, 1917, recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 1894, Page 42, and a second of $2000, given by Bert E. Kemp to Charles H. Holland, dated November 20, 1905, recorded with Middlesex So. Dist. Deeds, Book 3199, page 347; subject also to any unpaid taxes, taxes, betterments and assessments if any there are.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE—Olga Netherole, the celebrated English actress, who won world wide fame through her wonderful emotional acting in Alphonse Daudet's powerful French drama, "Sapho," will make her first American appearance in years at B. F. Keith's Theatre next week. For this tour of the Keith Circuit, Miss Netherole has elected to appear in a gripping one-act play entitled "The Last Act of the Play," dramatized from the world famous story of the same name. Her Boston engagement is positively limited to one week only. Miss Netherole will be surrounded by a great all-star bill of Keith vaudeville of the very highest class. Sophie Tucker, "The Mary Garden of Rag Time," will sing her latest popular hits; and other strong features will be Howard's Musical Ponies; Harry Breen; "Just Half Way," one of the prettiest and daintiest love stories ever told, presented by the Heritage and Denhart Company; The Three Keatons, with the inimitable "Buster;" Morrissey & Hackett, two boys and a piano; Natalie and Aurie Dagwell, in songs of to-day and yesterday; Emilie Sisters, sensational aerialists; and the Pathe Weekly with the world's news in motion pictures.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE—With the opening of the engagement of the Henry Jewett Players, at the Plymouth Theatre, Boston, on Monday, October 27, will mark the first step in an effort to establish permanently, in Boston, a high class repertory company. The company is in no sense a "stock" organization. On the contrary, it is a high-class producing company, composed of competent players, and may be classed on a similar plan as the famous Irish Players and Miss Horiman's company. For the opening attraction Mr. Jewett has selected a brand new play, written by Florence J. Lewis, a Radcliffe graduate, entitled "Let's Go Gardening." Miss Lewis has taken the "Forward to the Land Movement" as the theme, and has succeeded in writing an interestingly novel play, abundant with bright and clever dialogue, with a delightful love story as an undercurrent.

PARK THEATRE—A new American comedy having as its theme the placing in juxtaposition of opposing and widely divergent temperaments and the amazement and misunderstandings arising from the coming to a small city in the middle west of a travelled, cultured woman of the world will be the next attraction at the Park Theatre, opening Monday night, October 27. The comedy is a new one, the work of William Hurlbut. It is called "The Strange Woman" and serves to exploit that delightful actress, Elsie Ferguson, pleasantly remembered to Boston playgoers through many different engagements. The comedy abounds in types, mostly humorous ones.

Miss Ferguson's managers, Klaw & Erlanger, have provided an adequate production and surrounded their star with a carefully chosen company.

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate.

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Bert E. Kemp to Martha M. Atkins, dated November 21, 1905, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 3199, Page 349, and duly assigned by mesne assignment to Rosamond H. Levy, in breach of the condition therein contained and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction upon the premises, on Saturday, the eighth day of November, A. D. 1913, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, namely:—

THAYER-PUSHEE

A notable event of the past week was the wedding on Saturday evening of Miss Jeanne Pushee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Pushee of West Newton, to Mr. Philip H. Thayer of Philadelphia, Pa.

Guests numbering about 400 assembled at the First Unitarian Church, which was artistically decorated for the occasion with a profusion of white chrysanthemums, ferns and southern amilax.

The ceremony was performed at 7.30 by the pastor, Rev. Julian C. Jaynes, the double ring form being used. As the bridal party approached the chancel, the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin was rendered on the organ by Mr. Wilder.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a beautiful wedding gown of white satin, with tulle veil and wreath of orange blossoms, and carried a full shower bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Her attendant was Miss Lucy K. Robbins of West Newton, as maid of honor, who was becomingly gowned in blue, carrying pink roses and forget-me-nots.

The bridesmaids, Miss Helen B. Ailey and Miss Deborah N. Baldwin of West Newton, Miss Frances Krause of Northampton and Miss Agnes McNiver of Buffalo, were attractively attired in pink and carried pink roses.

The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Joseph L. Gooch of Philadelphia as best man and the ushers included Mr. Roy E. Pushee, brother of the bride, Mr. Henry W. Robbins and Mr. F. Rogers Thomas of West Newton, and Mr. George H. Pushee of Weston, a cousin of the bride.

After the ceremony a large and brilliant reception was held at the bride's residence on Prince street. The reception rooms were elaborately decorated with pink roses and southern amilax, a pink and green color scheme being carried out to perfection in the decorations.

Refreshments were served in a tent on the lawn, and selections were rendered by an orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. Harrison.

Mr. and Mrs. Thayer were assisted in receiving their guests by the parents of the bride.

As the bride was a graduate of Smith College, 1912, an interesting feature was that her wedding was the first among the 17 college girls who had lived in the Invitation House, No. 30 Green street, Northampton, during the college course, and 15 of the young ladies, four of whom were from West Newton, were among the guests at the wedding.

On their return from a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Thayer will reside in West Philadelphia.

Guests were present from New York, Philadelphia, Buffalo, Northampton, Boston, Brookline, Washington and the Newtons.

ALLIANCE MEETING

The meeting on Tuesday afternoon of the Channing Branch of the Woman's Alliance was of exceptional interest and there was a very large attendance.

The regular business meeting was held, after which reports of the various summer meetings were read.

A 3 part report on the trip to Europe was especially interesting; Miss Helen Wells gave an entertaining account of the 10,000 mile journey; Mrs. Caroline W. Helzer gave a report on the Congress in Paris, and Mrs. Webster, who came up from North Scituate to attend the meeting, read some interesting letters written by Mrs. William F. Hammett, in which he described the visit to Theodore Parker's grave in the cemetery at Florence, Italy, where Rev. Mr. Sullivan made some reminiscence and touching remarks.

Mrs. Hammett gave a report of the N. E. Associate Alliance meeting held at Springfield in May, and Mrs. Alvin R. Bailey, a report of the Conference at Fall River.

A report on the Conference at Buffalo, was given by Mrs. Kate Hobart. A pleasing musical program was furnished by the "Alliance Choir" which included the vocal selection, "A Fleur-de-Lis," and the "Dutch Lullaby," in which the singers were attired in Dutch costume.

The music was under the direction of Mrs. Fred A. Wetherbee.

The meeting closed with a social hour, and refreshments were served by a committee of ladies, under the chairmanship of Mrs. G. R. Griffin.

WHIST PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Wing entertained a company of friends at a delightful whist party on Monday evening at their residence on Chestnut street, Waban.

Ten tables were arranged in the living room, which was attractively decorated with white and yellow chrysanthemums.

There were four prizes, the first ladies' prize being awarded to Mrs. J. M. McNamara of Dorchester, and the second to Mrs. John Warren of Wellesley. Mr. Schroeder carried off the first prize, and Mr. Warren the second prize, for gentlemen.

After the game a program of music was presented which included some beautifully rendered vocal selections by Mrs. Frank Stuart of Newton.

Refreshments were served in the dining room, where the white and yellow color scheme was carried out with chrysanthemums in pleasing arrangement on the table.

JOSEF HOFMANN

Josef Hofmann, the most admired of the younger pianists, will give his only recital in Boston in Symphony Hall next Sunday afternoon, October 26th. Mr. Hofmann is in America for a comparatively brief stay; that is to say, while he will be here until the late winter he expects to spend most of his time on his estate in North Carolina and is not going to give very many concerts. His last recital here was one of the most successful of the season and it was sufficient to establish him firmly in the favor of the public.

He has arranged a program of very great interest the last group of which will be devoted to Russian composers.

SAVING STEPS MEANS MUCH

Big Thing to Minimize Amount of Work That is Necessary to Be Done.

We might say that motion study is a developed analysis of our old foe, "steptaking." Wasted steps are the chief cause of the fatigue of the housewife. Besides the chief remedy of better arrangement we have step-savers like the kitchen cabinet, the dish cart, revolving "Lazy Susan" trays for the dining-room table, and other devices.

Chief among our list of labor-savers is a washing machine, which, after an extensive national investigation, was classed 80 per cent, high as a labor-saver. The vacuum, or suction sweeper, mangles, meat choppers, bread-mixers, silver cleaning pan and many others have done much to abolish the drudgery of housework.

Fuel seems to be the largest item of expense in running the kitchen. Any device, then, which will save fuel should be considered seriously by the economical housewife. The fireless cooker, the three-decked steamer, or cooker, tea-kettles with "insets" so that food may be cooked while the tea kettle is used to heat water, lead our list of fuel savers. Others are the covered ads or ovens for one hole of a gas or gasoline stove and the small portable oven, which saves using a larger oven.

GOOD METHOD OF STARCHING

Most Housewives Have Their Own Way of Doing This Important Part of Their Work.

When boiled starch is used, it should always be first mixed with a little cold water until it is smooth, and then gradually mixed with boiling water and cooked. Some housewives add kerosene, some a little sugar, and some butter, to insure brilliancy and smoothness of finish. Whatever is added should be thoroughly added with the starch.

Many persons find it easier to use always the kind of starch which does not require cooking. This starch is mixed with a little cold water, then with boiling water until it becomes clear. It is then ready for use. The articles for starching are immersed in the starch and wrung as dry as possible, then thoroughly dried, sprinkled and ironed.

The finer the articles to be starched, the more care should be taken in getting the starch of just the right thickness and texture and in drying the articles thoroughly before they are sprinkled for ironing.

Chiffonade Salad.

Any of the vegetables in season, such as lettuce, romaine, tomato, beets, celery, etc., may be used as the basis of this salad. The name comes from the dressing, which is made as follows: Take one hard boiled egg and mash it as finely as possible with a fork, add two pinches of paprika, a pinch of salt, half a teaspoonful of French mustard, a teaspoonful of hashed chives, two tablespoonfuls of oil, and three tablespoonfuls of vinegar. Add this to the salad, mix in well, and serve.

Maple Ice Cream.

This is not an inexpensive cream because there will be needed the yolks of five eggs, two cups each of cream and maple sirup. Heat the sirup and pour over the yolks of the eggs that have been beaten until light colored. Stir constantly while mixing the sirup and eggs, then cook until thick like a custard. Cool in a bowl, stirring now and then. Add a teaspoon of vanilla flavoring and two cups of cream. Freeze, using three parts ice to one of salt.

Rhubarb Conserve.

One pint rhubarb, cut into inch lengths, one-half pint red raspberries, one-half pint of red currants, one-half pint of raisins (seeded), one-half pound English walnut meats chopped medium fine, juice of two lemons, rind of one or two oranges. Use peel also. Cook the orange peel first and cut into strips. Weigh and use equal amount of sugar. Ball three hours or less, not hard. Every one try this, for it is the best ever.

To Remove Mildew Stains.

Mildew stains on linen can often be removed quite successfully in the following way: Mix a small quantity of soft soap with the same proportion of powdered starch and salt and the Juice of a lemon. Apply this mixture to both sides of the stain with a small brush, and, if possible, let the article lie on the grass all day and night until the stains have quite disappeared. Then wash in the usual manner.

Spider Corncake.

One and one-quarter cups cornmeal, two cups sour milk, one teaspoon soda, one teaspoon salt, two eggs, two table-spoons butter, mix soda, salt and cornmeal, gradually add eggs well beaten and milk. Heat frying pan, grease sides and bottom of pan with butter, turn in the mixture, place in middle grate in hot oven and cook twenty minutes. You can halve this.

Ginger Candy.

Dissolve one pound white sugar in half pint water and boil until a thick sirup, then add one teaspoon ground ginger to a little of the sirup and when smooth stir it into the whole. Roll until it threads, add the grated rind of a lemon and roll again, stirring all the time until the hard ball stage is reached. Drop with a spoon in small cakes on a buttered tin.

EDITORIAL

In a last strenuous effort to defeat their time-honored antagonists, the Democratic city committee has persuaded Mr. Edwin C. Childs, Jr., one of the most popular young Republicans in the city, to run as an independent candidate for mayor, with the Democratic endorsement. Let no one be deceived by this subterfuge. Mr.
Childs is virtually the Democratic nominee for the office, and it is fair to assume, would not allow his name to be used without the assurance of the support of that party.

Mr. Childs will be a formidable candidate for mayor of Newton, under these conditions. He has made many friends during his lifetime in this city
by his thoroughness, helpfulness, and good nature. He has been a power in philanthropic and religious circles and has a host of friends
among the young men who will be enthusiastic in his support. On the other hand, Mr. Childs has never had either the experience in business affairs in general, nor the experience in municipal affairs in particular, which would qualify him to become the executive head of a business aggregating over a million and a half dollars. Newton needs the best business talent it can secure for the post of chief executive and being a good fellow is the least desirable qualification for that office. Mr. Burr, who will probably secure the Republican nomination, has both a large business experience and five years' service as an alderman as his qualification for the office. He is modest and retiring and has reluctantly consented to stand for several months of pressure from his friends who realize his fitness for the office.
There would be no question as to his election, unless it is the popularity of Mr. Childs, and the voters of Newton will soon have the opportunity of making a choice between experience and modesty on one side and inexperience
and popularity on the other.

My attention has been called to the fact that some of our good temperance friends are opposing the re-election of Senator Frederic H. Hilton of this district on account of his record last winter at the State House. The sole reason for this attitude is that Senator Hilton, whose committee on Legal Affairs, took charge of liquor legislation after the dissatisfaction with the Liquor Law committee had come to a head, did not oppose the report leave to withdraw of his committee on the so called eight o'clock
bill. This matter was more or less connected with the attempt to repeal the Bar and Bottle bill and Senator Hilton agreed with the majority of the committee, that the passage of the eight o'clock bill might also mean the repeal of the Bar and Bottle act. Senator Hilton has a good record on liquor legislation, having never voted during his three years of service in the legislature for a bill desired by the liquor interests. He is a member of the Framingham Anti-Saloon League and has always spoken and voted for No license. Senator Hilton should be returned to the State House at the coming election, and should have the support of all the friends of temperance
in this city.

The referendum at the state election of the application of the Workmen's Compensation act to public employees is deemed necessary on account of a doubt that the provisions of the

BAD MAN SHOT

After Exciting Chase In Waltham, Watertown and Newton

Newton was the scene of a typical Wild West episode yesterday afternoon when William Dubois, aged 17,
of Lawrence, was captured after a flurry of revolver shots, and after he had been ridden with bird shot. Dubois with a companion was found attempting to break into the cash drawer at the Bleachery railroad station
at Waltham and was driven towards Watertown when the Waltham police were called. The two young men separated and Dubois was next seen at Bemis where he secured a flat bottomed boat and rowed down the river towards Watertown. In the meantime the Watertown police had been notified and Officer Clifford caught sight of Dubois in the boat and called to him. Dubois answered with an oath and after passing the Watertown dam,
went under the Galen street bridge,
shooting his revolver in the air and warning the persons on the bridge to leave him alone. Officer Clifford, in the meantime had secured a revolver, and taking an auto chased the boat down stream by using the parkway. During this chase Dubois fired at the men in the motor several times. The officers, who had been joined by the Metropolitan police officer Cahalane, then took a boat on the Watertown side,
and Dubois immediately landed on the Newton side near Charlesbank road
and passing thru Remick terrace,
climbed into the railroad reservation and disappeared. By this time quite a number of persons were assisting the officers and Dubois was finally found hiding under a piece of old carpet in the bushes on the railroad embankment, near Oakleigh road. He frightened the young men who discovered him by pointing his revolver at them, and when the officers attempted to take him opened fire at them. A shot or more was exchanged, but without any effect, when Mr. Hall, who had operated the machine in which Officer Clifford had chased Dubois on the Watertown side, arrived with a shot gun which had been loaned him
by one of the neighbors, and his shot took effect so that Dubois was captured. He was taken to the police station at Newton, a large crowd gathering when the news became known,

Littlefield, soprano. Mrs. Henry Coolidge Mulligan, General Federation Secretary for Massachusetts, will be the special guest of the afternoon. A reception will follow the program.

Local Happenings

The Pierian Club has held two meetings in October. South America is the topic, which is being considered. The physical geography, discovery and conquest, and the colonial period and war for independence have been presented. Mrs. Mills is to have charge of current events during the winter, at the recent meetings she has spoken of some Women of Today and of One Phase of the High Cost of Living.

At the meeting of the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club held at the home of Mrs. J. B. Studley on Oct. 18, Mrs. W. E. Moore was in charge of the work. Act III of Pericles. Mrs. Moore brought out that scene is unmistakably the work of Shakespeare, being characterized by his unrestrained force, which distinguishes his finest description, by his dignity of expression, and the most simple and natural pathos of his passages of deepest expression. This scene was compared with similar passages from Percy Bysshe Shelley and from Lord Byron's "Apollonius and the Ocean" and the members instinctively felt that the scene from Pericles excelled them.

Newton Federation

Notwithstanding the severe storm about thirty members of the executive board of the Newton Federation were present on Monday morning for the quarterly meeting. The chairman of standing committee for the coming year are as follows: Social, Mrs. B. E. Anderson; Social Service, Mrs. B. E. Taylor; Education, Mrs. L. H. Marshall; Nominating, Mrs. E. C. Hinkley. The Social Service committee was the only one to report and only a small amount of work has been done as yet, owing to the fact that activities of necessity cease during the long winter vacation. The dental clinic has already opened, seven children being treated on the first day. The outfit is nearly complete and many dentists have promised to give of their time regularly. The committee members are to make an effort to secure still others who will assist from time to time.

The autumn meeting of the Federation will be held in Newton Centre at the Congregational Church on Nov. 12 at 2.30 P. M. Mr. George S. Purlington will discuss "The High Cost of Living." There will be attractive music and a social hour at the close. Further details will be given next week. Members of the Federation will be pleased to know that a generous friend of the Federation has contributed $100 to the General Federation Endowment Fund in the name of the Newton Federation, so that the organization will be credited with having given its whole quota.

Miss Margaret Hatfield gave a most interesting account of the work being done by the West Newton Music School for Public School Pupils and Wage Earners of the City of Newton. She dwelt particularly upon the value of music to the poorer children, how it gives occupation for the leisure minutes, how it provides a wholesome recreation, develops character, and gives the children a mode of self-expression and teaches them to think. She cited the instance of one boy who has taught his father to play the violin, so that now they play together in the evening. She told of another boy who, when asked what he had formerly done with the time he now used for practicing, replied that he had just hung around the streets with the boys. The school has met with a ready response from the children and a hearty co-operation on the part with the school officials. At the present time the lessons are given at the Peirce School. The children pay 25 cents a week for one or two lessons, and as a result nearly all take two lessons. Seventy pupils were taught during last year. Evening work is being carried on at the Technical High where there are 20 in the choral class and 22 in the orchestra. It is hoped to form a Wage Earners Orchestra. Plans are being made whereby the children who may do extra music work and have it counted toward their school diploma. In closing Miss Hatfield urged the friendly sympathy and interest of the club women in this work and asked that knowledge of this work might be spread among the clubs in order that substantial assistance may be forthcoming.

Miss Anna Thompson was in charge of the work at the meeting of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. on Monday afternoon, when the groups of islands known as the Cyclades and the Sporades were considered. The former group is so called because they circle around Delos, the most important one. Delos is known as the birthplace of Apollo and Artemis and was very important in ancient times, having more history connected with it than any other one. Today it is but a quarantine station. Hermapolis, the modern capital, has a university second only to that of Athens. To the Sporades belong a number of islands scattered along the coast of Greece, the particular ones being given differently by ancient writers. They are all rich for something, agriculture being highly developed. Considerable time was given to the consideration of Patmos the latter home of St. John. The former group belongs to Greece and the latter to Turkey.

The Monday Club is studying Our Country this season and at its meeting on Oct. 20, Mrs. W. E. Godsoe presented a paper on "The Settlements and Social Life of the early Colonial Period" and Mrs. F. W. Jones treated "Governor Bradford and John Eliot." Patriotic songs were sung by Mrs. F. S. Fairchild and a pleasant social hour with light refreshments closed the afternoon.

The second meeting of the Auburn-dale Review Club was held with Miss Lucy Burr, Hancock street, on Tuesday, Oct. 21, at 10 A. M. Mrs. Knowlton presiding. After the business meeting Mrs. True Worthy White, chairman of the Literature department of the State Federation, was introduced as the speaker of the morning. Mrs. White's subject was "John Galsworthy." She gave an account of his life, showing that he had known the upper-middle class and the aristocracy intimately, and also had made a study of the very poor, and the working classes. Outlines of "The Country House" and the "Gentleman of Property" were given as typical of his best books, and the play of "Strife" interpreted, and others mentioned, all with the bearing his works have as faithful and discerning studies of the problems of our times. As a student of such he is a most valuable writer.

ALDERMEN MEET
On the order for additional money for Sewer Maintenance, Alderman Bemis stated that the original appropriation was small and more money was needed to complete the work of the year.
On the matter of transfers in the Street department, Alderman Bemis said that the Finance committee would make a partial report, stating that the trouble appeared to be that the Street Maintenance account was not being credited with sufficient amount for crushed stone, and that the street appropriations received a proportional benefit. The price of crushed stone had been established 16 years ago and never changed. It was also true that a larger amount of work had been charged to the Street Maintenance than had been customary in the past. In making this statement, Alderman Bemis said that every member of the board had been notified of the hearing given by his committee on this matter, but only members of another committee which met the same time, had been present. Alderman Cox resented the reflection cast against him in Alderman Bemis' preamble and asked if the committee had secured from the city solicitor an opinion as to the powers of the board in this matter. He declared that the report was an injustice to the mayor and street commissioner as they had been accused in the Boston papers of misappropriating city moneys. Alderman Richardson smoothed matters over somewhat by saying that the committee would make these matters in its final report and recommend a course for future procedure in similar cases.
On the orders affecting the city primary, Alderman Bemis explained that the committee had favored voting rather than the usual custom of ward voting at city primaries. He believed that it saved confusion if all the election process was uniform. Alderman Jamieson called attention to the appropriation for resurfacing Tremont street. He understood that the Elevated Railway, which had just been given permission to spread its tracks on that street, six inches, intended to do the work in a temporary manner, with the expectation of doing more permanent work two or three years later. The Street Dept., therefore, deemed it wise to spend only $1000 of the appropriation at present. Mr. Jamieson said the work should be done now, the roadbed is in very bad condition and people are complaining. Alderman Jarvis said that the Elevated representatives had assured the committee that conditions would be greatly improved after the work of spreading tracks had been done. The track is in bad condition, but the company says there is two years more life in the rails and they do not wish to throw that value away. The street is the worst in that section but it would not be economy to spend only $1000 there now. Alderman Bartlett and Rice spoke in similar vein. Alderman Cox said that he understood that the Company proposed to take out all the bad places while doing the work and weld the rails. Alderman Pratt said that if this was the case, he believed the condition would be entirely satisfactory. He did not believe the Company would do such an absurd thing as make improvements to last but two years. Alderman Richardson did not see how any portion of the Tremont street appropriation could be expended except for resurfacing work. A committee was then appointed consisting of Aldermen Jamieson, Jarvis and Barker to confer with the Elevated Company in regard to the matter.
A resolution presented by Alderman Pratt calling upon the three important committees to file annual reports of work accomplished during the year and the policy which had actuated the committee in its work, was adopted after Alderman Cox had suggested that possibly this ought to be done by the Clerk of committees.
The board adjourned at 9.30.

MR. RICE IN CHARGE
With the change in management in Butler's department store, formerly known as Everybody's Store, at 90 Tremont street, the concern, greatly under the supervision of Mr. Abbott B. Rice of Newton Centre, as one of the heads of the company, promises to become one of the busiest and most progressive of Boston's dry goods stores. Mr. Rice has been engaged in business in Boston twenty-five years, and where others have failed he has been successful.
"The policy of the new management," said Mr. Rice, "will be the continuation of the old Butler store and not that of Everybody's. We propose to make the new concern one of the liveliest and most up-to-date in New England."

MR. ABBOTT B. RICE
Courtesy of Boston Journal

Mr. Rice was born in Hopkinton, Mass., and after a preparatory course entered Brown University. Following his graduation he entered business. He came to Boston in 1888 and became a partner in the Glen Shirt Company, and has been the active head of that concern ever since. Practically every other firm of a similar nature that started with Mr. Rice twenty-five years ago has failed or gone out of business, but his excellent foresight and ability has kept his company afloat under the most adverse conditions.
In addition to his connection with the Glen Shirt Company, Mr. Rice is treasurer of one of the largest shirt-making factories in New York State.
Mr. Rice is a member of the Newton board of aldermen, the Metropolitan Club, the Middlesex Club, the Boston City Club and the Chamber of Commerce.

A MEAN TRICK

The police are searching for an unknown autoist, who struck Joseph McCarthy, aged 8, Sunday morning in Xanthum square, Newton, and after carrying him a distance of about a mile laid him on a grass plot on Jackson road, with a badly wrenched leg. Before leaving the boy the autoist stuffed a dollar bill into his outside coat pocket, and drove off in the direction of Waverton.
There were several people in the square when the accident happened and it was the general opinion that the autoist was taking the little chap to the hospital for treatment. He drove down Washington street and then along Jackson road, and there being no houses near the Washington street side, took the young boy out and placed him at full length on the ground.
A passing auto saw the boy in pain and took him to his home, 1 Gardner street, Newton, where Dr. Eugene McCarthy treated him. The police endeavored to locate somebody who noticed the number of the machine during the afternoon and are now following up several clues.

Executors and Trustees Declining Years
You appoint as your Executor and Trustee a man in whose honesty and integrity you repose the greatest confidence and for whose sound business sense you have great respect.
But have you disposed of this matter satisfactorily? One usually selects those as old as one's self or older. The years go by rapidly and while at your decease the man you selected might possess those same qualities of honesty and integrity yet at the same time entirely lack that same quality of sound business judgment.
By appointing this Company your Executor and Trustee you will guard against the possibility of having your estate administered by an individual whose powers of business insight have been robbed of their effectiveness by declining years.

Will Progressives Support a County Ring man for County Commissioner?

READ THIS

In the republican state primaries a candidate of the Middlesex county ring for commissioner lost the nomination to an anti-ring candidate, (Erson B. Barlow.) The ring, it should be known, is a stickler for party regularity, when regularity suits ring purposes.

This year the ring candidate having been defeated, the ring is openly backing for election a progressive nominee, (Charles McIntire.) That is suspicious on the face of it. The Middlesex county ring has never been accused of progressiveness, and in some matters, like embezzlement, it is corruptly and disgracefully reactionary. The mere fact that the ring and its tools are backing a progressive against a republican should create suspicion, and there is no place where that suspicion should be stronger than in the headquarters of the progressive party.

There is a certain kind of support that no self-respecting political organization can afford to have. (Boston Herald, Oct. 22.)

A vote for Barlow is a vote against the County Ring. Keep that important fact in mind next Tuesday. Barlow believes in making all subordinate County Offices Civil Service.

A SUITABLE REPLY

Representative Ellis Ready To Open Books
To Committee of Newton Citizens

The following correspondence speaks for itself. No one who knows Representative Ellis believes for one moment that his course in the Legislature has been affected in the slightest degree by the business which has been done by his firm.

Mr. George H. Ellis,
House Chairman, Committee on Railroad, Massachusetts Legislature, 1913. Member of Street Railroad Commission, 1910-11-12, 1245 Commonwealth Avenue, West Newton, Mass.

Dear Sir:—In view of your desire, published in the Boston Globe, Sept. 28th, for full publicity of all suspicious payments of the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R. during the last session of the Legislature, and your assertion "That the public have a right to know before they vote for or against any of us, who voted for these (N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R.) measures" will you please send me as soon as possible a complete and detailed list of all money received by you or your firm from the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R. B. & M. R. R. and all other public service corporations from the beginning of your service in the legislature until the present time, together with the date, title, and quantity of each book, pamphlet or paper, printed by the Geo. H. Ellis Co. for public service corporations, set against the amount received therefor?

Very truly yours,
ROBT. H. EVANS,
168 Mt. Vernon St.,
Newtonville, Mass.

October 29th, 1913.

Mr. Robt. H. Evans,
168 Mt. Vernon Street,
Newtonville, Mass.

My dear Sir:—As I was out of town yesterday it was impossible for me to reply to your undated letter received at my house Monday night, postmarked and registered October 27, until this morning.

I have no desire to furnish the details asked for merely to satisfy idle curiosity, but I will gladly open the books of the Geo. H. Ellis Co. to three reputable citizens of Newton, preferably representing the three political parties, not only for the four years during which I have been in the Legislature, but for as many years previous as they may wish with permission to publish in as full detail as they please every transaction of ours with all public service corporations. Our books are so kept that this inspection can be readily made in a few hours and I will agree to print their findings and mail at my own expense to every voter in Newton within twenty-four hours of receipt of copy.

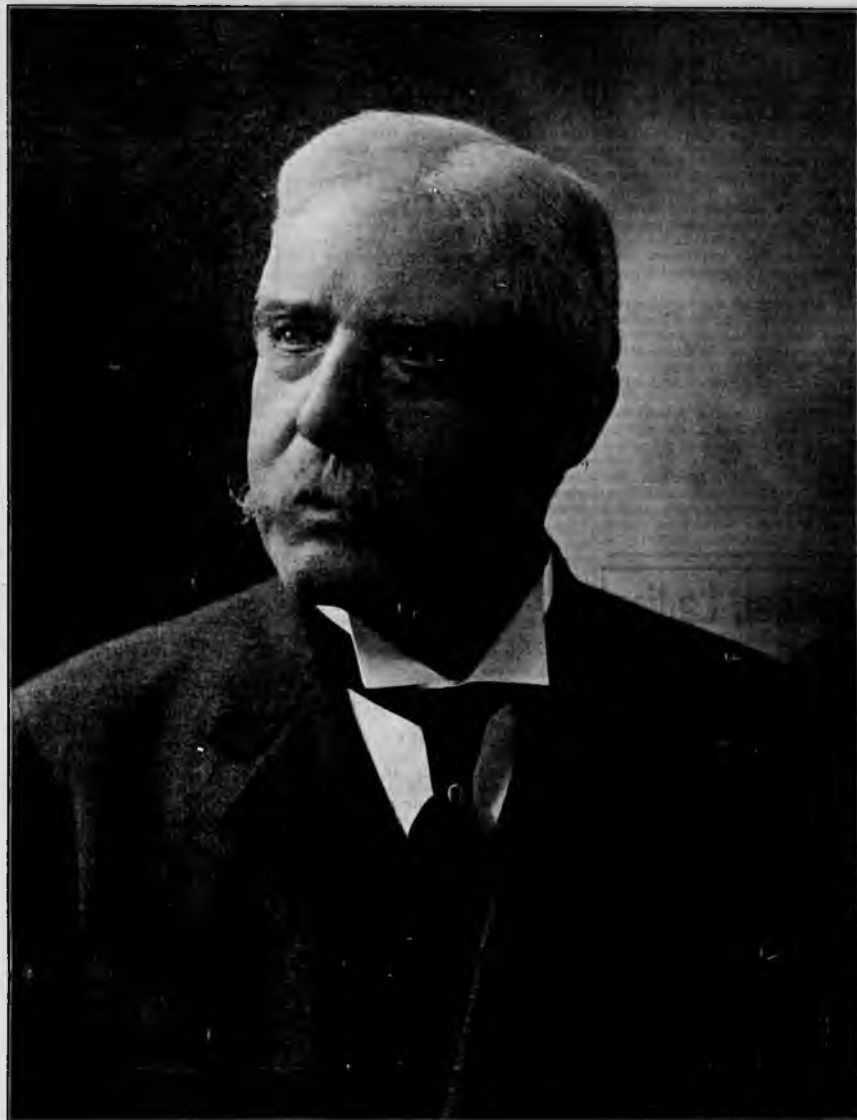

If the time seems short I call your attention to the fact that your letter was mailed one month, lacking a day, after the publication of my letter referred to.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) GEO. H. ELLIS.

CARING FOR FERNS

"Change of air is important with all ferns, and should be effected as often as convenient unless the home is equipped with apparatus to secure this end. Airing out the home before retiring at night is one of the best ways of changing the air. The odor from the lights, if there be any, is in this way done away with. Take care to have the plants out of all cold draughts in frosty weather. By all means stand the ferns in a light place, preferably in a window, but not close to the glass if there is danger of frost."—Suburban Life—The Country-side Magazine for November.

RE-ELECT Councillor G. FREDERICK SIMPSON

Mr. Simpson is rendering valuable service NOW in the Governor's Council. His business experience is of great value in such matters as the development of the Port of Boston and in supervising the state institutions. His sound judgment makes him a safe councillor on matters of pardons. Mr. Simpson has lived in Newton for forty years, and Newton voters should give him their hearty endorsement.

SILVER WEDDING

A company of friends and relatives numbering 150, assembled Thursday evening at the residence of Captain and Mrs. Edwin J. Giles in Auburndale, the occasion being a celebration of the 25th anniversary of their wedding.

Captain and Mrs. Giles were married by Rev. Mr. Hitchcock in 1888 in the Day Street Congregational Church, West Somerville and removed later to New York, where they resided for several years. They came to Auburndale in August, when they purchased their present home on Commonwealth avenue.

The reception rooms were attractively decorated with chrysanthemums, palms, and autumn foliage, and in the dining room, where an elaborate menu was served by Caterer Lewis, the table decorations were yellow and white chrysanthemums.

An excellent program of music was furnished by an orchestra during the evening, including violin and piano solos.

Many beautiful gifts attested the high esteem in which Captain and Mrs. Giles are held, among which was a loving cup from the officers of the S. S. Everett, of which Captain Giles is a member.

HOME CIRCLE

On October 16th a most important landmark was passed. A silver anniversary to celebrate the years so full of pleasant work and profitable service of real charity work.

Despite clouds and rain a large number of members and Past Presidents hid to an anniversary luncheon, responded, and faithfully discussed a most elaborate and dainty menu. The presiding genius of this luncheon was Mrs. W. H. Brown who, with her able committee, always insures to the Circle the best of everything. Beautiful roses graced the tables, dainty viands tempted the guests. The luncheon was held at Temple Hall, Newtonville, at 1 P. M. Later a most interesting line of thought was followed. Mrs. F. C. Hills, a charter member and the first secretary, in a most happy manner, recalled the formation of the Circle and many of its earlier days and doings. Mrs. W. F. Hadlock, secretary for a later year, gave many recollections of good work and pleasant play in her usual graceful way.

Mrs. William Lodge spoke for the Past Presidents. Mrs. Burrison gave a fine original poem and Mrs. Mason followed with well-chosen words. All felt strengthened and inspired with new courage when, with a rising vote of thanks to the Hospitality Committee, the members adjourned to G. A. R. Hall, where a long and animated business meeting was held, and plans matured for the coming "Department Store," to be held Nov. 14 and 15, of which you will hear later.

The next Home Circle meeting will be held in G. A. R. Hall Thursday, November 6, at 2 P. M.

Cherry Hill Farm Milk

THE Cherry Hill Farm herd consists of Jersey and Guernsey cows with a few grade cows of other kinds. It is the consensus of opinion among physicians that the best milk is that from a mixed herd of healthy cows. The cows are subjected to the tuberculin test twice every year, no animal being admitted to the herd until it has received this test.

That there may be no dust during milking, the floors and cows are sprayed and no feed is given until milking is over. The cows are thoroughly groomed, washed with water and soap, and dried with towels, to be sure that they are clean and that there is no opportunity for dirt to get into the milk.

WELLESLEY BEATEN

Newton Wins a Rainy Day Game On Penalties

Newton's hardest game of the season played last Saturday afternoon in the pouring rain on the field in Newtonville, against the well developed Wellesley High eleven ended in a victory for the Newton boys by the score of 7 to 0. Although Newton emerged a winner, it was through several penalties for holding and off side on the part of the opposing line, that advanced the ball within scoring distance.

Newton made its score in the second period. After an exchange of punts, Newton took the ball on Wellesley's 31 yd. line, and penalties netted the Newton team 25 yards, with no foot-ball tactics being displayed at all. With the ball on the 6 yd. line, the light Wellesley line stiffened and held Newton for three downs, before Ralph Hyatt smashed his way across the line, after which he kicked the goal.

At the start of the game Wellesley gave Newton a scare and nearly scored. Hyatt kicked off for Newton and after an exchange of punts, Hatch made 30 yards around left end, while Stover smashed through tackle for 10 more. Then Hatch pulled off another run, which left the ball on Newton's six-yard line. After three assaults on the Newton line Stover fumbled, and Newton, recovering the ball, punted out of danger. In the fourth period a Wellesley fumble gave Newton the ball on its opponents' 10-yard line, but the visitors held for downs.

The field was inches deep in mud and a steady downpour of rain made the ball soggy and hard to handle. Fumbles were many, with both teams offending, though Newton recovered two to Wellesley's one. The footing made it next to impossible for the players to keep their feet.

Wellesley's line, though lighter, outplayed that of Newton for three of the four periods. On the other hand the Newton backfield showed a little better than their opponents. Tilton, for Wellesley, shot the ball to his backs when a punt was signaled for with deadly accuracy, while the majority of Dorney's passes rolled along the mud. Each team tried many forward passes, but no one was successful. The Wellesley players had evidently been coached to stop Brady, the fast Newton tackle, and not once during the game did he get a chance with his tackle-around plays.

Several times during the forenoon Newton tried to postpone the game, but Wellesley insisted on playing. Although a good-sized crowd was on hand, including several coaches of teams that are to meet both evenings later in the season, a fair day would have smashed the record attendance of the field.

Harris, Capt. Brady and Ralph Hyatt played a hard game for the victorious eleven, while the work of Hatch, Coolidge, Putnam and Finnerty was the feature of the visiting eleven.

At Trinity Church the Rector's Bible Class will meet in the church immediately after the morning service. The subject of the Virgin Birth and the Miracles of the Gospels have been under consideration. The question now is what bearing has that discussion upon the saying of Creed? That subject will be taken up next Sunday—the Apostles' Creed and some troublesome clauses in it. All are invited. Questions, by mail or otherwise will be welcome.

The First Baptist Church will observe next Sunday the twenty-fifth anniversary of the dedication of its Meeting House. The sermon at the morning service will be preached by Rev. Lemuel Call Barnes, D.D., Field Secretary of the American Baptist Home Mission Society. Pastor of this church from 1887 until 1893. The responsive selections and hymns at this service will be those used at the service of dedication, Nov. 1, 1888. The evening service will be held as usual at 7.30, preceded by organ selections at 7.15. Rev. M. A. Levy will speak on "1888-1913: A Remarkable Quarter Century."

At the meeting of the Northern Baptist Educational Society held Wednesday at Brockton, Rev. Frederick L. Anderson was chosen president, and Rev. M. A. Levy, a director. Mr. Levy was also elected a trustee of the Newton Theological Seminary. Rev. Mr. Anderson was also chosen a director of the general convention of Mass. Baptist Societies.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE—An extraordinary array of new and novel features is promised for B. F. Keith's Theatre next week, headed by Jesse L. Lasky's "The Water Cure"; Robert L. Dailey & Co. in "Our Bob"; Labelle and her Sylvan Ballet; Bernard Granville, the Boy From Eton; and Prince Emil, the simian wonder. In "The Water Cure," Jesse L. Lasky has outdone all his previous efforts as a producer, and particularly in the array of pretty girls and gorgeous costumes included in the big musical spectacle. Robert L. Dailey, well known as a legitimate comedian, will make his debut in the two-day in a merry farce with music written especially for him and entitled "Our Bob." Labelle and her dainty Sylvan Ballet of eight pretty girls will offer a cycle of sensational terpsichorean creations. Labelle is unquestionably the greatest classic danseuse that England ever produced. She and her corps de ballet will present ten widely different dances of the classic type. Bernard Granville, "That Boy From Eton," a remarkably clever English comedian, will make his first Boston appearance, and other strong features will be Elida Morris, singing comedienne; Prince Emil, the trained simian marvel; Pathe Weekly, and many other excellent attractions as yet unannounced.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE—"The People" will receive its first production on any stage at the Castle Square next week. It is the work of John Frederick Ballard, who wrote "Believe Me, Xantippe," in collaboration with Edwin Carty Raneck, and it gives a dramatic series of incidents in the life of a courageous young man who is able to live down an unfortunate error of his youth. The cast will be headed by John Craig in the role of Philip Durgan, the hero, and Miss Doris Olsson will appear as the heroine, Jean Townley. Mr. Carleton will act the role of Durgan's friend, Dr. Richards, and other leading roles will be played by Mr. Meek, Mr. Ormonde and Miss Colcord.

MR. MARSHALL DEAD

Mr. Henry N. F. Marshall, who died Monday night in Newton at the age of seventy-four years, was one of the early incorporators of the late Dwight L. Moody's schools at Northfield, and was deeply interested in the New England Conservatory of Music in the days when it opened its quarters in the building which earlier had been the St. James' Hotel in Franklin square, and which subsequently became the Franklin Square House.

Mr. Marshall was born in Clinton, Ind., July 10, 1839, and was left an orphan at five years of age. A part of his boyhood life was spent with an uncle in Montreal. At the age of fourteen he came to Boston and learned the business of glass cutter and at twenty-one he was head of the paint and oil firm of H. N. F. Marshall & Co. in Broad street. In 1878 his attention was directed to the efforts of the New England Conservatory of Music to purchase the St. James Hotel property, and he gave the greater part of the money for that purpose, becoming its first President. About the same time the work of Dwight L. Moody, the evangelist, was brought to his attention and from that time until Mr. Moody's death there was a close friendship between them, and wherever Mr. Moody was he seldom failed to write to his old friend. Mr. Marshall helped to incorporate both Northfield Seminary and Mount Hermon School for Boys, and he was treasurer and business manager of both institutions for ten years.

Becoming interested in architecture he began to design buildings and the structures at Northfield and Mount Hermon stand as a monument to him. He also designed and built the Brooklyn, N. Y., Y. M. C. A. In 1889 he went to Denver, Col., and was engaged in architecture there for two years. He then returned East and had since made his home in Newton. He had always maintained a deep interest in the cause of missions, was a member of Eliot Church, Newton, and formerly had been associated with the Masonic fraternity.

Mr. Marshall's first wife was Miss Alice Whitteley of Rochester, N. Y. She died at Santa Cruz, Cal., in 1890. For his second wife he married Miss Minerva M. Whitney of Franklin. She survives him as do these children: Henry Foster Marshall of San Francisco, Cal.; Franklin Pitts Marshall of Suncook, N. H.; Charles Burr Marshall of Revere, Mrs. Edmund I. Leeds of Newton, Paul Moody Marshall of Lynn, Samuel S. Marshall of Lewiston, Me., and Ruth B. Marshall, who resides at home.

The funeral was held yesterday afternoon from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Edmund I. Leeds, 247 Park street, Newton. Rev. Walcott Perkins, D. D. (retired), a former pastor of the Eliot Congregational Church, and for many years an intimate friend of the deceased, officiated. J. Garfield Stone, tenor soloist at the Eliot Church, rendered "Abide With Me," "Rock of Ages" and "In Heavenly Love Abiding."

The bearers were the four sons of Mr. Marshall, Franklin P., Charles B., Samuel S., and Paul M. Marshall. Interment followed in Forest Hills Cemetery.

REFORMING OF TAMMAS

By ALBERT LOUIS WOOD.

Among the fourscore and odd men who worked under me when I was pit boss in the Black Diamond mine, as far as I can remember, Tammias Sargent was the only total abstainer.

One afternoon a prematurely fired shot projected a ton of coal, more or less, in Tammias' direction, distributing it somewhat impartially over various portions of his anatomy. As was my custom when any of the men was hurt, I made it a point to drop in on him for a few minutes every day.

"The doctor says," he volunteered to me on one such occasion, "that my pure blood an' guld habits be better than his physic. That's win' o' the dummy."

"The 'dummy,' Tammias, and what may that be?" I queried.

"I've never told a soul. But I'll gie it to you in confidence. It's the story of my reformation. Time was when I drank with the best or, mayhap, the worst o' them."

"Them days David Stephens and me was fast cronies. One night I had na been feelin' well the day, David comes to me, as usual, to go to the tavern for a few drinks. 'Come to the tavern, David says. 'Perhaps, as you're not feelin' over well, a bit o' brandy would be better than ordinair' speerit, Tammias.' So I ca'd for the brandy an' feelin' some better after the first one, I kept a callin'. Now, bein' sick like at the start, and the brandy bein' strong and unqualifed, it soon went to my head. By an' by David said summat not to my likin', an' I took exceptions to it. To mak' a long story short, we soon parted in anger."

"I declare I never felt so strange afore nor since as I did when I got the air that night. The sense of direction left me an' I lost my way in a place I could ha' mapped out in my sleep. I walked and walked till I was fair knocked up. O, it was a peeful condition!"

At last my pins gied out beneath me. I sunk down in a stupor. It must 'a' been two o'clock when I awoke, awake, doused w' dew, stiff an' cauld. My senses were still befuddled, but not so bad as before. I was lyin' in a ravine near where Hallen's street sewer empties into Williams' creek.

"My first feelin' was of anger with myself and David. With myself for bein' such a beast, an' with David for over persuadin' me to drink with 'im. 'As I rubbed ma eyes, tryin' to get the cobwebs out o' them, I caught sight o' some one lyin' on the ground near by. Lookin' close, I saw 'twas David. 'Here,' says I, 'be you followin' me, mon?' There was no answer. 'Haud up yer head an' be cevely, else I'll baate the smoot, mon,' I said. Still no answer. 'I'll mak' the talk,' I yelled, an' just then ma han' touched a bit stone. In my anger I heaved it at 'im and it struck full on his head. 'There was still no soun' from David. I rose up and staggered over to 'im. I put my 'and on 'im. David was cold as death."

"That seemed to sober me. Ma head cleared up. The 'orrible truth came to me. I 'ad murdered ma best friend in cold blood. I could na bide the place, but turned an' ran as fast as I could toward whoam. Once there, I went to ma room and fell on the bed. "When daylight come, I thought every footstep was the constable comin' to 'ale to jail. On a sudden there was a knock on the door an' David entered."

"I was never a believer in ghosts, but at that moment my views changed. All the buried superstitions o' my ancestors was resurrected. 'David,' I gasped, 'ow came you 'ere?'

"David took ma 'and, I shuddered. But 'twas with relief to find it warm an' 'uman, instead o' clammy an' ghostlike. 'Forgie me, an' mon,' he said, 'I was in the wrong last night. "Thank God, you're alive, David,' says I, 'I might 'a' killed you in the drink."

"No fear you'd hurt a friend, drunk or sober," he says. "But did na the stone hurt you, David?" I spluttered.

"He looked at me dumfounded an' edged away. 'Tammias, you're sick an' out o' your head. I'll get a doctor,' he says."

"Na, na, none o' that," says I. "Tammias," he says again, "'twas an ill trick I had played on me last night. You'll min' I was 'Allow E'en. I left ma door unlocked an' the boys got into my room, took ma best rig, hat, shoon an' all, then got a dummy from Myers' store an' rigged it out in all ma finery. Then they paraded through town w' Meester Stephens, as they ca'd it. They left a note sayin' I would get ma duds by callin' at the back door o' the Hallen street sewer. Come, Tammias, an' ha' a drink or so."

"Na, na, David," says I, 'I'm through drinkin'.' An' I was."

Simple Rules for Long Life.
When a man of ninety-seven talks on health, we listen, and especially if his name is Smith. The oldest living graduate of Yale, August Smith, says: "Get to bed early every night. Take your meals regularly. Eat only plain and well-cooked foods. Don't gad around all over creation attending balls and parties and things."

Add to this the advice of a noted neurologist who says: "Don't harbor a grrouch. Don't live in the past. Don't play the martyr, but instead, play ball, get busy and saw wood."

Before the average man reaches the age of twenty-five he has either made a fool of himself or has employed some woman to do it for him.

—Mr. Charles N. Sladen entertained a company of pupils and friends on Monday evening at his residence on Lowell avenue. Among the selections were seven numbers from the opera "Two Bites of a Cherry," lyrics by Mr. Owen Clark, and music by Mr. Samuel L. Studley, late director of the Boston Ideals and the Bostonians. ### GOOD TO REMEMBER

HOUSEHOLD HINTS THAT WILL BE FOUND OF VALUE.

Easy and Effective Method of Polishing Floors—Removing Smoke Marks From Ceilings—To Marble Freshness.

When Polishing Floors.—Make a thick pad of felt or velvet and fasten it over an old worn-out and hairless broom. This makes an excellent polisher and saves the trouble of kneeling on the floor.

To Remove Smoke Marks From Ceilings.—Mix a thick paste of starch and water, and with a clean flannel spread it over the mark. Allow to get thoroughly dry, then brush off with a soft brush and the marks will have disappeared.

When Cleaning Mirrors and Windows.—Sprinkle a few drops of metal polish upon a cloth and rub over the glass. Leave to dry, then polish with a clean cloth. This is the quickest and easiest way to clean them.

Before Sweeping the Carpets.—Take an old round tin, pierce holes in the bottom, and fill with common salt. Sprinkle this over the carpet. It prevents the dust from rising, brightens the colors, and prevents moths.

To Clean Marble.—Rub with a slice of lemon dipped in salt. Leave for an hour, then wash off. All stains will be removed and a nice gloss secured.

To Clean Varnish and Paint.—Rub with a cloth dipped in a weak solution of vinegar and warm water. Polish with a wash leather.

To Clean Gilt Picture Frames.—Put a gill of vinegar into a pint of soft cold water. Remove all dust from the frames, dip a large camel's hair brush in the mixture, squeeze it partly dry, then brush the gilt, doing a small portion at a time.

IMPORTANT PART OF LUNCH

Sandwiches, Properly Protected, May Be Kept Appetizing for Almost Indefinite Period.

If sandwiches are not to be used for some time after they are made they can be wrapped in waxed paper and put in a tin bread or cake box. Some persons wrap them in a slightly damp cloth and keep them in the ice box. When sandwiches are carried for a picnic lunch they sometimes taste of the box they are carried in, and if they are wrapped in waxed paper they carry better in a wicker basket through which the air circulates.

Fruit sandwiches are more generally used than they used to be, and are so delicious that they ought to form a part of every sandwich repast. They satisfy a natural craving for sweets, and are more wholesome and more easily made than cakes or candies.

English Biscuits.

Sift together one and one-half pints of flour, one cupful of cornstarch, three tablespoonfuls of sugar, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and one-half teaspoonful of salt. Rub in three tablespoonfuls of butter, add one well-beaten egg, one cupful of milk, one-half cupful of currants and one tablespoonful of coriander seed. Mix into a smooth, soft dough, roll one-half inch thick, cut in rounds, and bake on buttered tins in a hot oven for twenty minutes. When done, rub over a little butter on a clean bit of cloth.

To Make Handkerchiefs.

Elaborate as well as simple handkerchiefs may be made from scraps of lawn, lace and beading. Roll the edges instead of hemming, which is done by slightly moistening the thumb and finger and rolling as tight as possible. Be careful not to stretch the goods. The more sheer the material the easier it is to do this roll. It is not necessary to have each row of insertion or lace of the same kind. The effect is prettier where different kinds are used.

Celery Croquettes.

One cup mashed potato, three-fourths cup finely sliced celery, one to one and a half teaspoonfuls butter, two tablespoonfuls chopped nuts, not too fine, a little salt. Do not cook celery, mix all ingredients while potato is hot, cool, shape, egg and crumb, stand in a cold place until ready to bake. Bake in a quick oven 10 minutes or until croquettes begin to crack and are a delicate brown.

Boiled Rice.

After washing the rice put it over the fire in plenty of actually boiling salted water and let it boil fast for 12 minutes; then drain off all the water, place the saucepan containing the rice in the oven with the door open and let it steam for 10 minutes, or until it is as tender as desired. Every grain will be distinct and the rice free from moisture.

Only a Feather.

Paris is wearing both the curled and uncurled ostrich feathers, says the New York Press. An ostrich feather is often a sole trimming of a hat, and frequently a cluster of small flowers is sewed at the base of the feather.

Paper Pillow.

Any inkless soft paper cut or torn in pieces about one inch square and put in unbleached muslin sack eighteen by twenty-seven makes a good pillow.

EDITORIAL

I intend to vote for Hon. A. P. Garner for governor because I believe he is a man of ability, courage and independence, who will knuckle to no man or group of men, and who will be a real governor of this Commonwealth.
I am sure that the fight on Tuesday is between Gardner and Walsh, and I fear that if the latter is elected, this state will be controlled by a group of men
like Lomasney, Fitzgerald and Riley.
A vote for either Bird or Foss is, in effect, a vote for Walsh, for as neither of these men can possibly win, any division of the anti-Walsh vote, will aid him.

I shall vote for Col. Goetting for lieutenant governor, for his long experience in state affairs qualifies him
for that office, which in case of anything happening to the governor, will become of considerable importance.
I shall vote for Mr. Burrill as treasurer, for he is the only candidate for that office who has any financial experience.

I shall vote for the re-election of State Auditor White and Attorney General Swift, for they have proved themselves splendid public officials.
I shall vote for Mr. Kinney for secretary, because he is the Republican nominee, and this is the only candidate I shall support for that rather illogical reason.

I shall vote for the re-election of Councillor Simpson, for I know his splendid qualifications for that office
and because he has rendered excellent service during the past year.
I shall vote for the re-election of Senator Hilton, because he has made a good record last year and can give this district far better service next year
than a new man.

I shall certainly vote to re-elect our three excellent representatives, Messrs. Rothfeld, Ellis and White, because they have a standing at the State House which is of inestimable value
to Newton and Newton's interests.
Their record is among the best in the Legislature and Newton residents should be extremely proud of their work. I trust no eleventh hour roor-back will affect any man's vote for these men, because, as Mr. Ellis well says, "he will always explain, but never apologize for any vote he has cast
in the Legislature."

I shall vote for Mr. Clark for district attorney, because I desire that office to be in the hands of a man with high ideals and sincere purposes.
I shall vote for the election of Mr.
Barlow as county commissioner, because he is the best fitted man running for that office.

A brief summary of the questions
which are to be voted upon next Tuesday may be interesting at this time.
I believe the amendment to the constitution to allow women to be appointed notaries public is a business and not a woman's suffrage measure, and it should be favored.
I know that the amendment to the constitution to allow a state wide referendum, by vote of the Legislature is a wise measure, as our constitution
in this and in several other important matters, is decidedly archaic. This amendment has absolutely no relation to the so-called initiative and referendum principles which are the subject of so much debate at the present time.
Vote Yes.

The acceptance of the workmen's compensation act applies solely to the county of Middlesex, as an application to the city of Newton will be decided at the city election in December. While I believe in the principle behind this bill, I do not approve of the methods

A Last Look at the New York

of carrying it out, and I shall vote
personally against its acceptance.
The act to require approval by the aldermen on removals of city officials
by the mayor, is a return to the principles which have been in force in this city for over 25 years, and which were turned over, three years ago, principally as the result of the Tarbox case,
where considerable difficulty was experienced in getting rid of the former chief of police. The arbitrary power of removal now vested in the mayor, is more like Russia than America, for, no matter of long or how faithfully a man may have served the city, he can now be removed instantly by the mayor
without any cause being stated, and without an opportunity to be heard.
While the measure applies to but few city officers, it affects the most important executive departments in the city. The city of Newton is known all over the country for the security of its tenure of office, for its freedom from politics, and for the general excellence of its administration. If the present act is rejected, we may confidently look forward to the time, when our street commissioner, our chief of police and other department heads
must get out and work for the election or defeat of certain candidates for mayor in order to save their own jobs.
I do not believe this situation is desirable in this city which is the community of elites where arbitrary power
of removal is vested in the mayor.
There is no emergency at the present time and if a man like Tarbox could have been removed under former conditions requiring action by the aldermen, there would seem to be no valid reason for opening the doors to politics among our city officials. It is also a significant fact that the Democratic representatives now on the stump, are earnestly advocating the rejection of this amendment, and it is easy to see that if, by any slip that party should elect its candidate for mayor, what would happen to our present competent city officials.

It is understood that the Progressive party in this city expects to nominate Mr. Allison Burr as its candidate for mayor, and that papers will be filed tomorrow in his interests.
This action on the part of the Progressive party deserves the greatest praise, as it proves that the party is not playing politics in this city but is instead loyal to the principles it stands for, namely that only the best qualified men should be elected to public office. This action in addition ensures the election of Mr. Burr as our next mayor, and in that respect again
commands unlimited praise.

I congratulate the Progressive party on its action in this matter, first because I believe that Mr. Burr is the best equipped man in the city at the present time to fill the office of chief executive of this city, and second because, it is in accordance with the Newton policy of selecting our best citizens for our city government regardless of party politics. This action of the Progressive party ensures the continuance of this policy, for the precedent thus established will probably be accepted in the future by all parties.

Among the long list of candidates to be voted for next Tuesday, I earnestly hope every Newton resident will do his utmost to re-elect Hon. G. Fred Simpson of this city as a member of the Governor's council. Mr. Simpson has rendered valuable service this present year, and would be more efficient next year on account of that experience, and the large contracts in regard to the development of the port of Boston, which the governor's council has to approve, a man of business experience like Mr. Simpson is invaluable to the state. Mr. Simpson has a hard fight to obtain this re-election, as his Democratic opponent, defeated last year by the small margin of 331 votes,
is making extraordinary efforts to win.
Mr. Simpson's friends among the Progressive party should realize this situation, and give him their votes, for the Progressive candidate, who cast but 25 per cent of the total vote last year, has absolutely no chance to win, and votes for him may defeat Mr. Simpson.
In addition, Newton should show its approval of Mr. Simpson as a citizen and neighbor.

In one respect the Republican ticket
next Tuesday, in my opinion, does not sustain the general high average of the party nominees. I refer to the candidacy of Mr. John J. Higgins for district attorney. Mr. Higgins has been the district attorney for several years, and does not have the high ideals in the conduct of that important office which I believe he should. I have therefore decided to support Mr.
Philip M. Clark of Cambridge, the Progressive nominee, for that office, believing that his inexperience would be more than offset by his evident sincerity and honesty of purpose. I regret exceedingly that the Republican party has not made some effort to improve the office of district attorney,
and as it has thus failed, it is the duty of self-respecting members of that party to vote against its nominee.

Opponents of the re-election of Senator Frederic H. Hilton have used all sorts of tactics to bring about his defeat. I showed last week that his record at the State House was excellent,
and that he had proved a real friend of temperance measures. The Anti-saloon League has now formally withdrawn its opposition to his re-election
which had been due to a misunderstanding of Mr. Hilton's position. Another ridiculous charge is said to be in circulation to the effect that Senator Hilton has been drunk on several occasions, as Mr. Hilton is strictly temperate. Senator Hilton deserves re-election and the full Republican vote of Newton.

FINED $75
A fine of $75 was imposed upon William Crane of Watertown yesterday by Judge Kennedy, on the charge of operating his automobile at an excessive rate of speed. This fine is one of the largest that has been imposed in the local court on a similar offense for years, which was due to the fact that the autoist struck Joseph McCarthy,
an 8 year old boy of Gardner street,
while passing through Nonantum square on the morning of October 12,

and after driving with the injured boy toward the hospital, put him out of the machine on Jackson road, after giving
him $1.
Young Crane admitted to the court that he struck the boy, but stated that he was bringing the boy to the hospital for treatment, but the youngster's objections caused him to drop him off on Jackson road. Judge Kennedy during the session detailed patrolmen Davis
and Burke to bring the boy into court,
and with the auto patrol the officers started on their errand. At the house they learned that the boy has been unable to leave the house since the accident.

The police had some little trouble in locating the owner of the car, as those that witnessed the accident were of the opinion that the autoist was bringing the boy to the hospital when he placed him in the car. A motor-man, employed by the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway, who was in the square at the time, took the number and later gave it to the police. Young Crane entered an appeal, and was ordered to furnish sureties to the sum of $400.

Last evening two special cars of the Middlesex and Boston Street Rail-injuring many of the passengers. The most serious cases were those of Mr.

John Lane of Winchester street, who was thrown from the car and had his knee badly injured; Mr. Thomas Shu-

NO PUBLIC DANCES
Chief Frederic M. Mitchell of the Police Department issued orders yesterday putting a stop to public dances, which have been conducted in the Highlands, Centre and Newton section
during the past month. These dances which have been conducted weekly,
have been patronized largely by outsiders, and because of their immoral actions, Chief Mitchell decided to put a stop to them.
The dances were conducted as an investment, and drew large numbers
from the surrounding towns and cities.
This new rule will not effect the dances by organizations, clubs and churches, but these will continue to be under the eyes of the police, and unless their agreement is lived up to,
the dances will be stopped.

PALMER-BISSELL WEDDING
A Beautiful Autumn Wedding at Florence, October 18
A beautiful autumn wedding was celebrated at high noon, on Saturday October 18, at "The Knoll," the charming home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S.
Warner in Florence, Mass., when their niece, Miss Helen Warner Palmer, daughter of Dr. Charles Skeele Palmer, formerly of the state university of Colorado, now of Newtonville, was married to John Bennett Bissell of New York.

A chancel had been erected on the broad veranda opening on the living room. Palms, ferns and white chrysanthemums formed an effective background. In the reception room near by, the musicians were stationed.
The wedding march from Lohengrin
was played as the wedding party made its way down the broad stairway and entered the spacious living room. Following the ushers—Wilfred Learned and Hunt Warner, cousins of the bride
—came the ribbon bearers: Miss Leigh
Warner, Palmer of Albany and Miss Winifred Warner Palmer of Newton-ville, sisters of the bride; Miss Grace Bissell of New York, sister of the groom; and Miss Harriet Warner of Minneapolis, cousin of the bride. Then, through the white ribboned aisle came the bride with her father, who gave her in marriage. They were met at the chancel by the groom and best man, Holbrook Bissell of New York,
brother of the groom.

The ceremony was performed by the venerable pastor emeritus of the Congregational church, the Rev. E. G.
Cobb, who married the father and mother of the bride. The double ring service was used, bringing the ceremony, the "Evening Star," from Tannhauser was played.
The bride wore her mother's wedding gown, ivory-white, satin, made with a train and trimmed with duchesse lace. The tulle veil was caught with orange blossoms. The bride carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and orange blossoms.

At the reception following the ceremony, the young couple were assisted in receiving by Dr. and Mrs. Palmer.
Mrs. John F. Warner, grandmother of the bride; Mrs. Bissell, mother of the groom; and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Warner.

The house was beautifully decorated by Field of Newton, and in gay and white, a color scheme that was not forgotten in the choice and elaborate wedding breakfast served by Lange of Springfield. Atkin's Orchestra played for the wedding and reception. The gifts were many and beautiful.

The bride's mother was a member of the first class graduated from Smith College.
The young couple departed in a show of red and white rose petals.
After their wedding journey, Mr. and Mrs. Bissell will make their home in New York City.

WHITE ROCK

The World's Best Table Water

One authority says: "It would be difficult indeed to mention a chronic affection involving the stomach, liver or intestinal tract in which carbonated waters could not be used beneficially."

Therefore White Rock Water, the best of carbonated waters, is a great aid to digestion, overcomes dyspepsia, and assists in rendering the fluids of the body alkaline.

White Rock Water is a purely Mineral Water, and as it contains all the facilities that the human system demands, it is highly recommended by all leading physicians.

The fact that only new bottles are used and that they are sterilized before filling insures to the consumer the inherent purity of White Rock Water as it comes from America's most famous Spring.

Everybody should see the display of Gas and Electric Lamps, and Portable Stoves, including the latest ideas, up-to-date eye saving practical lamps, over four hundred styles, at the Show Rooms of McKenney & Waterbury Co., No. 181 Franklin St., corner Congress.

REAR ADMIRAL MAYNARD DEAD

Rear Admiral Washburn Maynard, U. S. N., retired, who ordered the first gun fired in the Spanish war, died Monday at a private sanitarium at 23 Kenwood avenue, Newton Centre, from Bright's disease. Admiral Maynard was retired, at his own request, Nov. 1, 1902, after he had completed 40 years of service. Since his retirement he has lived at Newport, R. I. He came from that place a few weeks ago to the Newton Centre sanitarium. His condition had been critical for five weeks.

Admiral Maynard came from a family of fighters. He was born in Tennessee. His father, the late Horace Maynard of Knoxville, was one of the loyal southern members of Congress at the outbreak of the civil war and later was postmaster-general. He was a grandson of Ephraim Maynard of Westboro, this state, who commanded the militia in that town and marched with his company to Boston in the war of 1812.

For a time Admiral Maynard lived in Westboro. He was known in Boston through his duty as inspector of the second lighthouse district in 1890. While in that position he made many friends.

In 1897 he was assigned to the command of the gunboat Nashville, and on the breaking out of the Spanish war the Nashville was ordered to join the European squadron, but subsequently went to Key West, where the news of the declaration of war was obtained.

On April 23, 1898, the Nashville fired the first shot of the war. This occurred off Key West. The next day the Nashville was ordered to Cuba, to join the blockade squadron. A day later saw her at Cienfuegos, engaged in cutting cables. At this place Capt. Maynard received a wound in the chest.

After the war Capt. Maynard was director of the eighth lighthouse district, and was later stationed at Boston, being for years at the Charlestown navy yard.

PURDY-THRASHER

The wedding of Miss Sibel Thrasher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Thrasher of Mills, to Mr. Purdy Douglas Purdy of Newtonville, took place Monday evening at the home of the bride on Main street.

The ceremony was performed at 5:30 by Rev. H. M. Smith, pastor of the Unitarian Church at Medford, the double ring form being used. The house was attractively decorated for the occasion with palms and chrysanthemums and during the ceremony the bride and groom stood under a bridal veil of ferns and white carnations.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was gowned in white chrysanthemum, with tulle veil, caught with a spray of lilies of the valley and carried a bouquet of Killarney roses. She also wore a diamond pendant, the gift of the groom.

She was attended by her sister, Miss Laura Thrasher as maid of honor, who wore a gown of yellow chrysanthemum and carried a white carnation.

The groom's attendant was his cousin, Mr. Harold Whiting of Mills, as best man.

After the ceremony a reception was held, Mr. and Mrs. Purdy being assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Thrasher, the parents of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. William H. Purdy of Newtonville.

In the dining room, where refreshments were served, the decorations were white and yellow chrysanthemums. The presents were costly and numerous and included cut glass, silver and money.

Guests numbering 100 were present from New York, Fitchburg, Providence, Boston, Medway, Mills and the Newtons.

Mr. and Mrs. Purdy left on a wedding trip to New York, Niagara Falls and Cleveland, Ohio.

With the near approach of the holiday season and at a time when the announcements of the various publishers are showing a wealth of new books to be issued during the next two months, it is well to bear in mind the fact that at the Lauriat Company's store you can not only always see the best of the new books, but the best selection of the old standards. An open account with them places at your disposal a stock that has not its equal in New England, either in variety or richness. Ordinary business references are all that are necessary to secure the full benefits and conveniences that go with such an account.

The bride was gowned in white crepe meteor and charmingly lace, cut on train, and wore a tulle veil caught with orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of valley lilies in which was concealed a ring, for which the young girls scrambled as the bride threw her flowers from the stairway.

The bride's attendant was Miss Mary H. Lathrop of South Acton as maid of honor, who wore a gown of yellow crepe meteor with gold trimmings and carried red roses.

Executors and Trustees Declining Years

You appoint as your Executor and Trustee a man in whose honesty and integrity you repose the greatest confidence and for whose sound business sense you have great respect.

But have you disposed of this matter satisfactorily? One usually selects those as old as one's self or older. The years go by rapidly and while at your decease the man you selected might possess those same qualities of honesty and integrity yet at the same time entirely lack that same quality of sound business judgment.

By appointing this Company your Executor and Trustee you will guard against the possibility of having your estate administered by an individual whose powers of business insight have been robbed of their effectiveness by declining years.
